FSKNUM29 Use introductory graphical techniques for work

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This streamlined version first released with FSK Foundation Skills Training Package version 1.0 .

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge to use Cartesian coordinates to graph straight lines and to use straight line graphs in practical situations.

This unit applies to individuals who need numeracy skills at Australian Core Skills Framework (ACSF) level 4 to undertake a vocational training pathway or workplace tasks.

This unit is designed for integration and contextualisation with vocational units to support achievement of vocational competency.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Unit Sector

Numeracy

Elements and Performance Criteria

Element	Performance Criteria
Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
1. Use the Cartesian plane to represent linear relationships	1.1 Locate points on the Cartesian plane 1.2 Graph lines described by a linear equation
2. Use linear equations and their graphs	2.1 Identify and model simple situations involving linear relationships by drawing graphs and use to complete tasks 2.2 Solve simple linear equations graphically and interpret the result
3. Apply linear equations to workplace	3.1 Identify and describe linear relationships in workplace situations 3.2 Use mostly formal mathematical language and symbols appropriate to the situation

Foundation Skills

This section describes language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills incorporated in the performance criteria that are required for competent performance.

Skill	Performance Criteria	Description
		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.
