New evidence requirements for assessment, including volume and environment requirements. Pre-requisite unit removed.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role.

There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- responded to loss, grief and trauma for at least three clients by:
 - developing culturally appropriate responses to situations of loss, grief and trauma
 - communicating effectively with clients. This includes:
 - building rapport
 - clarifying impact of loss
 - explaining support options
 - referring clients to specialist services
 - dealing with cross-cultural issues
 - recognising effects of stress on individuals and communities and implementing culturally appropriate strategies to manage stress

- monitoring own stress and using appropriate stress-management strategies, including consulting team members and professionals for own social and emotional support.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the identified work role.

This includes knowledge of:

- concepts of loss and grief
- nature and effects of psychological and spiritual trauma
- effects of trans-generational trauma and grief, colonisation and institutional racism on Aboriginal people
- cultural protocols and taboos
- specialist services for loss, grief and trauma
- statutory responsibilities including duty of care requirements
- narrative therapy approaches
- indicators of stress
- awareness of own values and attitudes around loss, grief and trauma
- organisational standards, policies and practices.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated working:

- in a health service or centre
- individually or as a member of a multidisciplinary primary health care team
- with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander clients and communities.

In addition, simulations and scenarios must be used where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely. These are situations relating to emergency or unplanned procedures where assessment in these circumstances would be unsafe or is impractical.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate the real-life working environment where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that working environment.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Assessment must be undertaken by a workplace assessor who has expertise in this unit of competency and who is:

an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander Health Worker

or:

accompanied by an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander person who is a recognised member of the community with experience in primary health care.
