Performance Evidence

The candidate must be assessed on their ability to integrate and apply the performance requirements of this unit in a workplace setting. Performance must be demonstrated consistently over time and in a suitable range of contexts.

The candidate must provide evidence that they can:

- identify hazards and follow safety directions
- identify a range of feed types and qualities
- identify feed contaminants
- prepare and distribute feed
- check watering systems
- recognise and rectify minor operational faults
- interpret and apply task instructions, communicate with work team and supervisor and record and report faults, workplace hazards and accidents
- complete records and documentation of feed use and volumes for the enterprise section
- use machinery and equipment associated with providing feed
- report on feeding to supervisors
- follow enterprise work health and safety policies
- follow enterprise biosecurity and environmental policies

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must demonstrate knowledge of:

- silo operations, tractors and associated feeding machinery and equipment
- cleaning and storage of machinery, equipment and materials
- enterprise recording and reporting procedures
- common grains, meals, pelleted and liquid feeds
- evidence of spoilage and handling of spoilt feeds
- enterprise work health and safety, biosecurity and environmental policies

Assessment Conditions

Competency is to be assessed in the workplace or simulated environment that accurately reflects performance in a real workplace setting.

Assessors must satisfy current standards for RTOs.
