New evidence requirements for assessment, including volume and frequency.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- responded to the needs of at least 3 different people with LLN needs

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- indicators of LLN needs, and methods for clarifying them with the client
- methods for identifying the impact of other service-related issues on the client's LLN needs
- LLN information and referral or support services for a range of LLN needs and clients
- recording and reporting requirements

Assessment Conditions

Skills must have been demonstrated in the workplace or in a simulated environment that reflects workplace conditions. Where simulation is used, it must reflect real working conditions by modelling industry operating conditions and contingencies, as well as, using suitable facilities, equipment and resources.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

language and literacy skills in consultation with the learner and supervisor according to need

1.4 Negotiate learning needs with learner and establish achievable learning outcomes, in consultation with supervisor

2. Plan strategies and resources

2.1 Plan learning environment, activities and teaching strategies in advance, seeking advice from supervisor or other specialists as required

2.2 Monitor learner understanding and use of language, and gather information to inform own planning

2.3 Adapt or develop resources appropriate to learner needs and context according to program requirements

3. Encourage and model spoken language

3.1 Demonstrate different styles, ranges and contexts of oral communication across appropriate aspects of communication

3.2 Use spoken language to effectively interact with learner

3.3 Scaffold learning by talking about language

4. Support learners to read and interpret texts

4.1 Determine strategies for supporting learner in interpreting texts, with supervisor where appropriate

4.2 Implement planned strategies to enhance learner abilities and address individual needs

4.3 Encourage learner to problem solve to make meaning from texts

4.4 Use a range of planned strategies to focus learner on specific literacy skills

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- supported the development of reading, writing and oral communication skills for at least 3 different adult learners
- used the following communication and learning strategies:
 - active listening and questioning
 - modelling oral communication
 - scaffolded learning
 - assisting learners to problem solve

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- roles and responsibilities of those providing language and literacy support and of their supervisors
- requirements of the support program, including administrative and confidentiality requirements
- definition of texts and range of texts that learners need to interpret
- key concepts of the Australian Core Skills Framework (ACSF), including:

- the five core skills
- spiky profiles: varying levels of performance in each core skill
- factors that may influence performance
- language and literacy concepts and terminology relevant to learner needs and context
- relationships between spoken language and literacy
- factors that inhibit literacy skills development
- basic communication and learning strategies, including techniques that:
 - model talk to support learner comprehension
 - scaffold learning and assist learners to problem solve
- tools to evaluate learning outcomes, including the ACSF

Assessment Conditions

Skills must have been demonstrated in the workplace or in a simulated environment that reflects workplace conditions. The following conditions must be met for this unit:

- use of suitable facilities, equipment and resources, including:
 - established literacy support programs and resources
 - texts for reading
- modelling of industry operating conditions, including:
 - provision of services to adults needing language and literacy support
 - interaction with supervisor

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be demonstrated evidence that the candidate has:

- developed at least 1 plan for a team or group of individuals, including:
 - effective procedures to maximise staff work performance
 - strategies for collaboration and cooperative work practices
 - strategies for work performance and outcomes
 - identification of barriers and constraints and development of strategies to address them
- facilitated at least 2 group meetings or discussions to:
 - delegate work team activities
 - develop and evaluate work goals
- identified at least 1 issue causing disruption to work team activities and:
 - facilitated at least 1 meeting or discussion with those involved
 - developed and implemented strategies to resolve issue
- reviewed the performance of and coached at least 1 individual

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- organisation mission, philosophy
- organisation structure and communication protocols
- group facilitation processes, including technique for facilitating group discussions and meetings

- leadership styles and their application in supporting the organisation's mission, objectives and values
- coaching principles and techniques
- difference between coaching and mentoring
- performance management sources of information on best practice work techniques relevant to the industry sector
- rostering and timetabling
- sources of conflict and stress and techniques to address and manage them
- referral networks

Assessment Conditions

Skills must have been demonstrated in the workplace or in a simulated environment that reflects workplace conditions. Where simulation is used, it must reflect real working conditions by modelling industry operating conditions and contingencies, as well as, using suitable facilities, equipment and resources.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Performance Evidence

- supported and promoted positive and cooperative behaviour for at least one child/young person, including:
 - communicating clearly and positively to the child/young person
 - identifying clients' needs, matching them to, and organising, appropriate services and programs
 - liaising with client service providers and providing all information required
 - undertaking any reporting requirements and record-keeping including the preparation of any court-ordered reports
 - monitoring service delivery and client requirements and making changes if required
 - providing appropriate supervision of child/young person
 - communicating all relevant information regarding services and programs to client as required.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. These include knowledge of:

- understanding adolescent clients and their special needs as individuals and as part of a group
- behaviour-management models, theories and techniques
- services and programs available and associated referral processes
- communication techniques to engage and interact with young clients
- organisational record-keeping protocols
- writing skills required to complete records accurately
- relevant legislation and responsibilities
- organisation standards, policies and procedures.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in the workplace.

In addition, simulations and scenarios must be used where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely. These are situations relating to emergency or unplanned procedures where assessment in these circumstances would be unsafe or is impractical.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate the real-life working environment where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that working environment.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to plan responses to reports of risk, gather and analyse information to inform the determination of risk, and then monitor the actions resulting from the assessment.

This unit applies to child protection workers who use advanced critical analysis, communication and evaluation skills to make professional judgements about risks and resulting strategies in child protection work.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand Standards and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements define the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Plan response

1.1 Access and critically analyse existing reports and other information to inform planning

1.2 Determine and respond to required legal frameworks and processes

ELEMENT

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

- 1.3 Establish timeframes for response, make assessment of immediate risk to any and all parties and implement actions accordingly
 - 1.4 Determine and establish internal and external collaborative arrangements within established protocols and guidelines
 - 1.5 Anticipate and negotiate resources required
 - 1.6 Develop and document plan for assessment/investigation in the context of organisation requirements
 - 1.7 Advise other workers about their role using established procedures and protocols
2. Gather information about the risk or actual harm
 - 2.1 Make an informed judgement, based on review of initial information, about the scope, depth and sources of information required to inform determination
 - 2.2 Source and gather information holistically based on an endorsed model of risk assessment
 - 2.3 Consult with internal and external colleagues and source information about previous history, supports or interventions provided
 - 2.4 Seek information from parents/caregivers regarding the alleged concerns and incorporate into the assessment of risk
 - 2.5 Observe and review the child's development and behaviour
 - 2.6 Identify and document information about the broader cultural, economic and social context that contribute to risk or protection
 - 2.7 Organise and oversee specialist assessments according to individual case requirements
3. Analyse information
 - 3.1 Critically analyse information in the context of the organisation's assessment model and the tools used
 - 3.2 Confer and collaborate with colleagues about determinations of immediate and long term risks to the child
 - 3.3 Recognise and respond to situations requiring

ELEMENT

specialised expertise and make referrals to other organisations following established procedures

3.4 Make a professional judgement about the assessed levels of risk, harm and wellbeing according to the model being used, organisation and legal requirements

3.5 Document the outcome of the assessment and decisions made, including substantiated rationale

4. Develop case strategies

4.1 Prepare recommendations for action consistent with the assessed risk/need and available resources

4.2 Confer and collaborate with colleagues to develop actions that best meet the needs of the individual child

4.3 Involve the child/young person and family in the decision-making processes according to case requirements, and provide information through the process

4.4 Develop case documentation according to organisation procedures, legal requirements and scope of own authority

4.5 Incorporate regular review mechanisms according to legislative and organisation requirements

5. Monitor and evaluate case strategies

5.1 Monitor actions taken according to agreed case requirements

5.2 Regularly assess and review developmental needs of child or young person, including health, education, social and emotional needs

5.3 Facilitate processes for engaging children/young people and families in problem solving

5.4 Provide opportunities, both formal and informal, for child/young person, to meet in private with case worker and talk about their situation

5.5 Provide information to parents/family or significant others about progress of child or young person

5.6 Use evaluation of individual cases to inform learning and future work planning

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to develop, implement, monitor and evaluate placement plans for out of home care. It includes the ability to contribute to broader strategic evaluations of out of home care services.

This unit applies to workers who use advanced critical analysis, communication and evaluation skills as part of their responsibility in the case management of children and young people living in out of home care. Plans may be referred to as placement, care or case plans.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand Standards and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes

1. Develop plans

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1 Base planning on a critical analysis of the documented outcomes of assessment

1.2 Integrate current best practice principles and evidence based research about out of home care into planning

ELEMENTPERFORMANCE CRITERIA

processes

1.3 Take into account the immediate, medium and long term needs of the child or young person and their family and carer in planning and selecting placement

1.4 Include requirements of court orders in plans

1.5 Clearly communicate plan to child or young person, carers, family members, and relevant bodies

1.6 Document plans and store in accordance with legislative and organisation standards and procedures

1.7 Incorporate regular review mechanisms according to legislative and organisation requirements

Release 1	This version was released in CHC Community Services Training Package release 1.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. New unit developed to address child development requirements of educators working with school age children.

Performance Evidence

- supported the development of children in at least three different situations/activities (including different age groups and abilities), including:
 - interacting with children to holistically support development and learning appropriate to the individual child's abilities and ages
 - providing a variety of experiences and environments to support the different areas of children's development (physical, creative, social, emotional, language and cognitive)
- performed the activities outlined in the performance criteria of this unit during a period of at least 120 hours of work in at least one regulated education and care service.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. These include knowledge of:

- code of ethics
- United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child
- how to access:
 - the National Quality Framework
 - the National Quality Standards
 - the relevant approved learning framework
- how to navigate through framework and standards documents to find areas relevant to this unit of competency
- introductory level child development for children, including:
 - early brain development
 - importance of the early years for subsequent educational success
 - foundational knowledge of developmental theory
- aspects of poor early childhood development, such as:
 - poor diet
 - lack of play
 - limited stimulation of brain development
 - lack of materials and resources
 - inconsistent or non-existent emotional support or comfort
 - trauma
 - other life experiences, which interrupt appropriate childhood activities, and their potential long-term harmful impacts
- biological and environmental influences on development
- symbol systems including letters, numbers, time, money and musical notation.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in a regulated education and care service.

In addition, simulations and scenarios must be used where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely. These are situations relating to emergency or unplanned procedures where assessment in these circumstances would be unsafe or is impractical.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate the real-life working environment where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that working environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- National Quality Framework for Early Childhood Education and Care
- the relevant approved learning framework under the National Quality Framework for Early Childhood Education and Care.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Release 1	This version was released in CHC Community Services Training Package release 1.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Changes to elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be demonstrated evidence that the candidate has completed the following tasks:

- assessed specific needs of at least one young person and identified existing programs/services that addressed these needs, as well as consulted relevant personnel and organisations to identify further or alternative support programs that could assist
- developed and implemented procedures to keep young people safe, including:
 - addressing any signs of abuse
 - establishing protocols of behaviours
 - monitoring at-risk behaviour patterns
 - establishing quick response actions to counter aggressive behaviour
- developed and implemented procedures relating to services offered by the organisation, including:
 - support facilities
 - particular types of support and information

- referral advice
- reviewed the relevance and effectiveness of information and service provision to clients, and assessment, support and referral systems, including:
 - holding regular debriefings with associated organisations and service providers
 - debriefing and supporting other youth workers, including identifying training needs
 - producing reports and recording relevant information about clients and programs according to organisation procedures and policies, ensuring accurate and complete information is included.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the identified work role.

These include knowledge of:

- legal and organisational policies relating to advocacy, monitoring and dealing with abuse
- principles of empowerment and enabling processes in advocacy

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
1. Identify financial scope of and potential funding sources for project	1.1 Identify and determine the scope and funding needs of project 1.2 Identify optimum funding arrangements and possible funding sources for project 1.3 Gather information on funding sources, including organisational vision, prior funding initiatives and expected benefits from participation
2. Develop a project proposal	2.1 Plan and critique a project proposal that will attract funding from identified funding sources 2.2 Determine optimum method of presenting project proposal to identified funding sources 2.3 Clearly define structure of funding plan and interest of various parties and ensure proposal is supported by research from appropriate sources 2.4 Seek legal, taxation and regulatory advice where necessary and ensure proposal is checked by appropriate persons to ensure it meets compliance requirements
3. Present proposal and negotiate with funding sources	3.1 Present project proposal to funding sources using appropriate presentation techniques 3.2 Evaluate presentation to identify strengths and weaknesses to inform subsequent presentations 3.3 Negotiate with funding source representatives to clarify terms and conditions of funding agreement 3.4 Discuss funding agreement with all parties in a professional manner
4. Finalise funding agreement	4.1 Document funding agreement and circulate to all parties in a timely and effective manner 4.2 Establish processes to monitor compliance and report progress against funding agreement

	4.3 Ensure funding agreement is checked and confirmed by appropriate persons 4.4 Identify opportunities for ongoing funding arrangements with funding sources

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- research techniques sufficient to access information from reliable sources to support project proposals
- literacy skills sufficient to prepare project proposals and funding agreements
- numeracy skills sufficient to:
 - analyse funding incentives and tax concession schemes
 - develop structured funding plans
 - estimate and calculate the resource requirements of a project proposal
- communication skills sufficient to:
 - conduct negotiations to clarify terms and conditions of funding agreements
 - establish and maintain relationships with prospective investors
 - present funding proposals to prospective investors
- learning skills sufficient to evaluate and improve own presentation techniques
- planning and organisational skills sufficient to envisage project milestones and monitor project compliance
- problem-solving skills sufficient to identify and plan for factors affecting completion of project tasks within deadlines
- self-management skills sufficient to work within specified timelines
- technology skills sufficient to use industry-current financial and spreadsheet software

Required knowledge

- approaches used to successfully identify and attract funding opportunities in the creative arts industry
- broad knowledge of key creative arts industry terminology
- compliance requirements of funding agreements in the creative arts industry
- copyright, moral rights, intellectual property and legislation, and their impact on the creative arts industry
- professional behaviour and ethics as they apply to the creative arts industry
- OHS requirements relevant to project work in the creative arts industry

- range of potential funding sources and channels through which funding opportunities are publicised in the creative arts industry
- sources of information on the creative arts industry and ways of maintaining current industry knowledge
- issues and challenges that typically arise in the context of securing funding for projects

Evidence Guide

The Evidence Guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
1. Clarify performance requirements	1.1 Discuss performance requirements with appropriate personnel 1.2 Confirm own role and level of responsibility in relation to performances 1.3 Obtain required resources in a timely fashion and in line with level of responsibility
2. Practise instrument and/or act	2.1 Maintain personal practice to achieve the required standard for rehearsals and performance 2.2 Develop technical facility and address performance issues and weaknesses during private practice sessions 2.3 In consultation with appropriate personnel, develop interpretation of music to be performed 2.4 Participate in rehearsals as required and adjust performance techniques in response to feedback from others 2.5 Listen critically to own performance and the performance of others to inform own work 2.6 Respond to other players and adjust own performance in ensemble as required
3. Observe OHS principles in private practice	3.1 Establish practice routines to ensure correct posture and movement to minimise strain on the body 3.2 Ensure that practice sessions are of a suitable length to avoid fatigue and mental or physical stress 3.3 Perform warm-up exercises as part of practice routines 3.4 Apply principles of OHS in physical stance and posture during practice sessions and performance 3.5 Plan and take reasonable breaks for refreshment and relaxation

4. Use body effectively and safely	4.1 Assess and monitor body to realise its own potential and limitations and to maximise performance 4.2 Avoid danger of injury both to self and others through controlled use of body to maximise performance 4.3 Note possible stresses and strains of activity on specific parts of the body and take suitable preventative measures to minimise them 4.4 Where damage is done or suspected, seek advice promptly from appropriate sources and take recommended remedial action
5. Implement strategies to overcome the effects of performance anxiety	5.1 In consultation with appropriate personnel, identify the symptoms and likely causes of performance anxiety 5.2 Identify and implement a range of strategies to overcome performance anxiety to suit own needs and circumstances 5.3 Evaluate the effectiveness of strategies used to overcome performance anxiety and modify those strategies as required

- broad understanding of:
 - repertoire relevant to the selected instrument
 - musical terminology
 - acoustic principles relevant to selected instrument or voice
 - instrument parts, applications, range, capabilities, care and maintenance
 - performance and instrumental protocol and customs in selected musical style and repertoire
 - impact of different performance environments on musical outcomes
 - chosen genres and their musical forms and conventions in performance
 - chord and melodic formulae in area of specialisation
- issues and challenges that arise in the context of preparing for performances
- OHS practices, procedures and standards as they apply to using musical instruments and performing in a range of environments

CUSMPF402A Develop and maintain stagecraft skills

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 2	Created to fix formatting errors only. Released with CUS09 Music Training Package version 1.2

Unit Descriptor

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to apply a well-developed range of stagecraft skills during performances.

Application of the Unit

Musicians and performers in all genres apply the skills and knowledge described in this unit. Applying an appropriate range of stagecraft skills can lead to audiences having a more enjoyable and entertaining experience. An essential feature of stagecraft skills is the ability to engage with audiences - whether through dialogue, movement or gestures. A performer's image and reputation are often linked to the way they approach performances, not just with their ability to play an instrument or sing. More complex skills associated with leading a group in the area of stagecraft are covered in:

- CUSMPF602A Manage stagecraft aspects of performances.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- communication and teamwork skills sufficient to:
 - seek and use feedback from peers and leaders to improve stagecraft skills and performance
 - appropriately recognise and support the contribution of other artists
 - working creatively with individual differences
 - interact and collaborate with other artists to achieve required performance outcomes
- listening skills sufficient to:
 - listen critically to the performance of others and respond appropriately
 - listen critically to and adjust own performance to achieve required outcomes
- initiative and enterprise skills in the context of:
 - using original and innovative approaches in stage performances
 - understanding and expressing appropriate dramatic nuance
 - taking venue and style of show into account when performing
 - engaging with audiences in ways that entertain and enhance people's overall experience
- learning skills in the context of accessing opportunities to improve stagecraft skills
- self-management skills sufficient to:
 - observe protocols appropriate to the genre, style and context of performance
 - maintain an appropriate standard of stage presentation relevant to the area of specialisation
- technical and problem-solving skills sufficient to use:
 - body appropriately in movement and breathing to enhance stage performance
 - instrument and performing spaces, dress, make-up and props in ways that enhance the overall performance
 - stage equipment and technology to enhance stage performance
 - techniques to control and enhance stage movement

Required knowledge

- sound knowledge of:
 - range of genres and their musical forms and conventions in performance in selected area of specialisation
 - solo or group performance protocols and customs in selected area of specialisation
 - technical requirements of relevant instruments for accurate and appropriate performance in selected area of specialisation
- issues and challenges that arise in the context of applying stagecraft skills to performances
- OHS practices, procedures and standards as they apply to using musical instruments and performing in a range of environments

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
1. Obtain data and resources for financial calculations	1.1 Obtain input data and verify as required for workplace calculations 1.2 Determine required outcomes of calculations from task specifications 1.3 Identify and acquire resources and equipment needed to perform calculations 1.4 Use simple spreadsheets where necessary to perform repeated

	calculations
2. Select suitable calculation methods and carry out financial calculations	2.1 Select method and equipment suitable for required calculations 2.2 Perform financial calculations and complete work requirements using techniques suited to selected method
3. Check calculations and record outcomes	3.1 Check results and confirm that calculations are accurate and meet required outcomes, and identify and correct computational errors 3.2 Record calculation results according to organisational requirements 3.3 Store calculation worksheets for future use according to organisational policies and procedures

Foundation Skills

This section describes those language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills that are essential to performance but not explicit in the performance criteria.

SKILL	DESCRIPTION
Numeracy	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Performs mathematical calculations to check accuracy to undertake financial computations
Reading	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Interprets instructions and carefully analyses information for errors and discrepancies

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with the FNS Financial Services Training Package Version 8.0. Supersedes and is equivalent to FNSACC313 Perform financial calculations.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must demonstrate the ability to complete the tasks outlined in the elements, performance criteria and foundation skills of this unit, including evidence of the ability to:

- apply mathematical techniques and methods to correctly calculate each of the following:
 - break even
 - depreciation (straight line method)
 - goods and services tax
 - percentages relevant to income tax mark-up and margin
 - simple and compound interest.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate knowledge to complete the tasks outlined in the elements, performance criteria and foundation skills of this unit, including knowledge of:

- mathematical formulas and terms, including addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, currency, decimal, fraction, percentage, rate and ratio
- typical computational errors and procedures to identify and rectify them
- key features of equipment and software required to perform routine financial calculations, including spreadsheets.

Assessment Conditions

Skills in this unit must be demonstrated in a workplace or simulated environment where the conditions are typical of those in a working environment in this industry.

This includes access to:

- office equipment, technology, software and consumables required to perform financial calculations, including:
 - financial services industry documentation and specialist software
 - information technology systems.

Assessors of this unit must satisfy the requirements for assessors in applicable vocational education and training legislation, frameworks and/or standards.

Note: Where a specific volume and/or frequency is not specified, evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence of the following knowledge must be demonstrated:

- features of simple workplace texts
- writing strategies – planning, drafting, reviewing – for simple workplace texts
- grammar and vocabulary for simple workplace texts
- writing conventions for simple workplace texts.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment texts and tasks reflect those typically found in the workplace.

Advice and support is available if requested.

Culturally appropriate processes and techniques suited to the language, literacy and numeracy capacity of individuals and the work being performed must be used.

Reasonable adjustment can be made to ensure equity in assessment for people with disabilities.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements, have sound knowledge of the ACSF and have demonstrable expertise in the vocational contextualisation and assessment of the core skill - writing.

FSKWTG09 Write routine workplace texts

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This streamlined version first released with FSK Foundation Skills Training Package version 1.0 .

Application

This unit is broad in focus. It describes the skills and knowledge required to write routine workplace texts and could be used for a variety of writing types and purposes, including letters and emails, instructions, incident or accident reports, online forms, formatted job reports - in printed or digital form.

The unit applies to individuals who need writing skills at Australian Core Skills Framework (ACSF) level 3 to undertake a vocational training pathway or workplace tasks.

This unit is designed for integration and contextualisation with vocational units to support achievement of vocational competency.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

HLTAAP001 Recognise healthy body systems

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 2.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Significant changes to the elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment, including volume and frequency.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to work with basic information about the human body and to recognise and promote ways to maintain healthy functioning of the body.

This unit applies to any worker who needs to use and interpret information that includes references to client anatomy and physiology.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand standards and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

1. Work with information about the human body

1.1 Correctly use and interpret health terminology that describes the normal structure, function and location of the major body systems

1.2 Correctly use and interpret information that relates to the interrelationships between major components of each body system and other structures

ELEMENTPERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements define the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

2. Recognise and promote ways to support healthy functioning of the body

2.1 Review factors that contribute to maintenance of a healthy body

2.2 Evaluate how the relationships between different body systems affect and support healthy functioning

2.3 Enhance quality of work activities by using and sharing information about healthy functioning of the body

Foundation Skills

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Unit Mapping Information

New evidence requirements for assessment, including volume and frequency.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- worked effectively with information about the human body and its healthy functioning in at least 3 different situations

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- basic structure and functions of the body systems and associated components, including:
 - cells, tissues and organs
 - cardiovascular system
 - respiratory system
 - musculo-skeletal system
 - endocrine system
 - digestive system
 - urinary system
 - reproductive system
 - integumentary system
 - lymphatic system
 - nervous system, including sensory systems – eye and ear
 - the special senses – smell, taste, vision, equilibrium and hearing

- immune system
- processes, conditions and resources required by the body to support healthy functioning
 - body regulation including:
 - maintenance of body temperature
 - fluid and electrolyte (including PH) balance
 - elimination of wastes from the body
 - maintenance of blood pressure
 - protection from infection
 - physical activity – active and passive

Assessment Conditions

Skills must have been demonstrated in the workplace or in a simulated environment that reflects workplace conditions. The following conditions must be met for this unit:

- use of suitable facilities, equipment and resources, including client health information
- modelling of industry operating conditions, including integration of problem solving activities

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors

HLTAAP002 Confirm physical health status

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 2.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Minimal changes to the elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment, including volume and frequency.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to obtain and interpret information about client health status and to check a client's physical health. It requires a detailed knowledge of anatomy and physiology.

This unit applies to individuals working directly with clients and who assist in the provision of health care services. Some disciplines may be subject to state/territory regulatory determination regarding delegation and supervision.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand standards and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes

1. Obtain information about physical health status

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

1.1 Obtain accurate information about physical health status through observation, questioning or review of documentation

1.2 Interpret information based on understanding of the structure and functioning of body systems

1.3 Use information to identify any actual or potential problems regarding health status

	1.4 Take into account factors that may have impacted on an identified physical condition
2. Check physical health status	2.1 Make checks of client health status prior to delivery of health intervention using knowledge of body systems
	2.2 Clarify significance of physical health status in relation to a particular intervention in line with job role and organisation requirements
	2.3 Clarify implications and significance of physical health status with appropriate people in the case of uncertainty or limits on own capability or authority
3. Identify variations from normal physical health status	3.1 Identify variations from normal health status using standard methods and protocols
	3.2 Identify potential factors responsible for significant variations from normal health status
	3.3 Identify potential risk factors associated with variations from normal health status
	3.4 Recognise and refer potentially serious issues in line with organisation requirements

Foundation Skills

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- obtained, correctly interpreted and used anatomical and physiological client information to check the physical health status of at least 3 different people presenting with different conditions

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- role responsibilities and limitations for different members of the care team in relation to checking client health status
- concepts underpinning human anatomy and physiology, including:
 - levels of structural organisation of body systems
 - human life processes
 - homeostasis and the relationship between homeostatic imbalance and disease

 - when taking measurements in different body systems
- common disorders, problems and complaints and their signs and symptoms, associated with each body system and its components relevant to the area of work
- basic pharmacology in relation to cautions and contraindications for relevant health procedures
- causes of disease – physical, mental and emotional, and key features of each cause:
 - pathogens
 - inherited genetic conditions
 - trauma, toxins and other environmental hazards
 - nutritional factors
 - impacts caused by health interventions (iatrogenic)
 - degenerative changes in vital organ systems
 - the loss of normal control mechanisms such as the uncontrolled growth of cancer cells
- major types of cellular adaptation
- processes of metabolism, nutrition, body temperature regulation, biological maturation, inheritance and ageing
- Oral health disease of the mouth and teeth including edentulous (no-natural teeth) and dentate (having natural teeth)
- variations from normal functioning and appropriate responses in terms of:
 - referral to an appropriate medical, dental, nursing or allied health professional
 - provision of appropriate health/dental care services

Assessment Conditions

Skills must have been demonstrated in the workplace or in a simulated environment that reflects workplace conditions. The following conditions must be met for this unit:

- use of suitable facilities, equipment and resources, including client health information
- modelling of industry operating conditions, including:
 - analysis of health information of real people
 - integration of problem solving activities

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

HLTAHA013 Provide support in dysphagia management

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 2.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Significant changes to the elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment including volume and frequency requirements. Minimum work hours added. Removal of pre-requisite. Significant change to knowledge evidence.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to assist a speech pathologist to support clients participating in therapy programs to improve swallowing and/or to maintain independence in the management of dysphagia.

This unit applies to allied health assistants and should be performed under the direction and supervision (direct, indirect or remote) of an allied health professional.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian / New Zealand standards and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes

1. Prepare for support of treatment and monitoring programs to promote safe swallowing and eating

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1 Obtain information about requirements from the speech pathologist
 1.2 Determine need for interpreter where required
 1.3 Confer with speech pathologist about any ambiguities or requirements outside scope of role and responsibilities as defined by the organisation

ELEMENTPERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements define the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

2. Deliver therapeutic program under supervision of speech pathologist

2.1 Obtain consent from the individual client, or a third party where the individual is not in a position to provide this consent independently, before commencing the program

2.2 Confirm client/carer's understanding of requirements of the therapeutic program

2.3 Provide mealtime assistance to client, under instruction of speech pathologist, including the reinforcement of positioning and strategies to support safe swallowing and maximum level of independence of eating and drinking

2.4 Prepare texture modified foods and fluids as determined by the speech pathologist and in accordance with the food safety program of the organisation

2.5 Provide the client with relevant information and advice, as instructed by the speech pathologist, at a level and pace appropriate to the client's level of understanding, culture and background, preferred way of communication and need

2.6 Refer questions outside scope of role and responsibilities as defined by the organisation to speech pathologist and/or relevant member of health care team

2.7 Provide client with sufficient time, opportunity and encouragement to practise existing and newly developed skills

2.8 Provide set up and support of the client during assessment of swallowing, performed by speech pathologist

2.9 Carry out supplementary treatment programs as instructed by the speech pathologist

2.10 Identify adverse reactions/events associated with dysphagia and respond according to the detailed risk management framework

3. Monitor client's management

3.1 Work with the speech pathologist, care team and the individual to identify and record areas of positive progress and success and specific difficulties arising

3.2 Reinforce constructive feedback and advice provided by the care team about the client's approach and ability to manage their dysphagia

3.3 Support and encourage client to maintain and enhance their efforts to manage dysphagia

3.4 Reinforce the benefits of continuing to practice and develop skills and knowledge for dysphagia management

3.5 Identify adverse reactions and/or events associated with dysphagia and respond according to the detailed risk management framework

4. Comply with supervisory requirements

4.1 Refer to speech pathologist when additional input from health professional is required

4.2 Seek assistance when client presents with needs or signs outside limits of own authority, skills and/or knowledge

4.3 Report client difficulties to the supervising allied health professional for advice before continuing the program

4.4 Participate in supervision processes with the treating allied health professional in accordance with organisational protocol

5. Document client information

5.1 Use accepted protocols to document information relating to the treatment program in line with organisation requirements

5.2 Provide accurate and prompt feedback to the speech pathologist and client's care team to support future planning

5.3 Use appropriate terminology to document symptomatic expression of identified problems related to the therapeutic exercise program

Foundation Skills

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (such as language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- delivered therapeutic support and skill development for 3 clients with dysphagia, 1 in a simulated environment and 2 in the workplace
- performed the activities outlined in the performance criteria of this unit during a period of at least 120 hours of work

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manages tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- secondary complications of dysphagia and an awareness of risk management protocols in response to adverse reactions/events
- basic anatomy and physiology of body systems pertaining to structures affecting eating and swallowing
- normal processes of eating and swallowing and changes to swallowing that occur over the lifespan
- organisation food safety program and procedures
- postures and positioning for safe swallowing
- techniques used in assessment of eating and swallowing, including:
 - bedside assessment

- video fluoroscopy
- disorders of eating and swallowing that may arise from:
 - acquired injury and disease
 - congenital abnormalities
 - degenerative disease
 - developmental delay
- legal and ethical considerations relevant to allied health:
 - duty of care
 - informed consent
 - work health and safety (WHS):
 - manual handling including identification and control of manual task risk factors

Assessment Conditions

All aspects of the performance evidence must have been demonstrated using simulation prior to being demonstrated in a therapeutic workplace under the direction and supervision (direct, indirect, remote) as determined by the speech pathologist.

The following conditions must be met for this unit:

- use of suitable facilities, equipment and resources, including individualised plans and any relevant equipment outlined in the plan
- modelling of industry operating conditions and contingencies, including provision of services to real people

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has (under the direction of a dietitian):

- planned, developed and evaluated menus for 3 client groups, 1 in a simulated environment and 2 in the workplace, based on organisational food, nutrition and special diet guidelines or the Australian dietary guidelines for provision of appropriate food for client groups(s)
- planned and modified meals and menus for at least 2 clients with specific cultural and/or religious food-related requirements in a simulated environment
- performed the activities outlined in the performance criteria of this unit during a period of at least 120 hours of work

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. this include knowledge of:

- relevant organisational food, nutrition and special diet guidelines
- Australian dietary guidelines
- cooking methods and equipment
- food preparation and food service systems
- principles of nutrition, diet therapy, nutrition supplements and factors that place clients at risk of malnutrition and inadequate hydration

- common fluid and food restrictions
- costing procedures
- how to recognise malnutrition
- policy and procedures in relation to:
 - infection control and food safety program as they relate to assisting with meals, menus and dietary guidelines
 - other specific organisation policies or procedures, including supervisory and reporting protocols
- range of menus and menu items
- standardised recipes
- various cultural and religious requirements in relation to food, relevant to the profile of the community served by the organisation including:
 - halal
 - types of vegetarianism (ovo-lacto, lacto or vegan)
 - kosher
- legal and ethical considerations relevant to allied health:
 - privacy, confidentiality and disclosure
 - work health and safety (WHS)

Assessment Conditions

The following aspects of the performance evidence must have been demonstrated using simulation prior to being demonstrated in a therapeutic workplace under direction and supervision (direct, indirect, remote) as determined by the dietitian:

- plan, develop and evaluate one menu based on organisation food, nutrition and special diet guidelines or the Australian dietary guidelines for provision of appropriate food for client

The following conditions must be met for this unit:

- use of suitable facilities, equipment and resources, including:
 - food safety standards and procedures
 - manufacturers' manuals and recommendations for equipment
 - food packaging and storage requirements
 - work plan
 - menu planning tools
 - individualised plans and any relevant equipment in the plan

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated working:

- in a health service or centre
- as part of a multidisciplinary primary health care team
- with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander clients and communities.

In addition, simulations and scenarios must be used where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely. These are situations relating to emergency or unplanned procedures where assessment in these circumstances would be unsafe or is impractical.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate the real-life working environment where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that working environment.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Assessment must be undertaken by a workplace assessor who has expertise in this unit of competency and who is:

- an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander Health Worker
- or:
- accompanied by an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander person who is a recognised member of the community with experience in primary health care.

Application

This unit describes the required skills and knowledge to provide a healing response to expressions of grief, loss and trauma.

This unit applies to those Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander Health Workers working independently and as part of a multidisciplinary team to deliver primary health care services to Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander clients and communities.

This unit equips Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander Health Workers to provide support related to social and emotional wellbeing and does not infer that they are qualified counsellors.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand standards and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements define the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the Element.

1. Identify effects of loss, grief and trauma

- 1.1 Clarify impact of specific loss, grief and/or trauma at the individual, family and community level
- 1.2 Take into account historical impact of loss, grief and trauma on Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people
- 1.3 Recognise culturally appropriate expressions of loss and grief
- 1.4 Identify and respect specific approaches and responses of individuals, families and communities to loss, grief and/or trauma
- 1.5 Recognise effects of stress on individuals and communities in relation to experiences of loss, grief and trauma, including trans-generational trauma and grief
- 1.6 Identify culturally appropriate strategies for responding to stress at the community, family and individual levels
- 1.7 Communicate strategies and options to individual clients and refer, where relevant and appropriate

2. Provide a healing response to loss, grief and trauma

- 2.1 Determine healing response to loss, grief and/or trauma appropriate to the needs of each situation and the individuals involved
- 2.2 Provide appropriate support and available resources to assist individuals and families to deal with their loss, grief and/or trauma
- 2.3 Provide timely referral as appropriate to support ongoing healing in line with the needs of the situation and individuals involved
- 2.4 Maintain duty of care, confidentiality and cultural protocols

3. Manage own stress in work role

- 3.4 Monitor own stress level in relation to working in the area of loss, grief and trauma, including trans-generational trauma and grief

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the Element.

3.5 Use appropriate stress management strategies to manage own stress

3.6 Consult relevant team members or other professionals for own social and emotional support

Foundation Skills

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Unit Mapping Information

No equivalent unit.

New evidence requirements for assessment, including volume and environment requirements. Pre-requisite unit removed.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role.

There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- responded to loss, grief and trauma for at least three clients by:
 - developing culturally appropriate responses to situations of loss, grief and trauma
 - communicating effectively with clients. This includes:
 - building rapport
 - clarifying impact of loss
 - explaining support options
 - referring clients to specialist services
 - dealing with cross-cultural issues
 - recognising effects of stress on individuals and communities and implementing culturally appropriate strategies to manage stress

- monitoring own stress and using appropriate stress-management strategies, including consulting team members and professionals for own social and emotional support.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the identified work role.

This includes knowledge of:

- concepts of loss and grief
- nature and effects of psychological and spiritual trauma
- effects of trans-generational trauma and grief, colonisation and institutional racism on Aboriginal people
- cultural protocols and taboos
- specialist services for loss, grief and trauma
- statutory responsibilities including duty of care requirements
- narrative therapy approaches
- indicators of stress
- awareness of own values and attitudes around loss, grief and trauma
- organisational standards, policies and practices.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated working:

- in a health service or centre
- individually or as a member of a multidisciplinary primary health care team
- with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander clients and communities.

In addition, simulations and scenarios must be used where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely. These are situations relating to emergency or unplanned procedures where assessment in these circumstances would be unsafe or is impractical.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate the real-life working environment where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that working environment.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Assessment must be undertaken by a workplace assessor who has expertise in this unit of competency and who is:

an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander Health Worker

or:

accompanied by an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander person who is a recognised member of the community with experience in primary health care.

HLTAID009 Provide cardiopulmonary resuscitation

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to perform cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) in line with the Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) guidelines.

This unit applies to all persons who may be required to provide CPR, in a range of situations, including community and workplace settings.

Specific licensing/regulatory requirements relating to this competency, including requirements for refresher training should be obtained from the relevant national/state/territory Work Health and Safety Regulatory Authorities.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Respond to an emergency situation.

- 1.1. Recognise and assess an emergency situation.
- 1.2. Ensure safety for self, bystanders and casualty.
- 1.3. Assess the casualty and recognise the need for cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR).
- 1.4. Seek assistance from emergency services.

2. Perform CPR procedures.

- 2.1. Perform CPR in accordance with the ARC guidelines.
- 2.2. Display respectful behaviour towards casualty.
- 2.3. Operate an automated external defibrillator (AED) according to manufacturers' instructions.

3. Communicate details of the incident.

- 3.1. Accurately convey incident details to emergency services.
- 3.2. Report details of incident in line with appropriate workplace or site procedures.
- 3.3. Maintain privacy and confidentiality of information in line with statutory or organisational policies.

4. Review the incident.
- 4.1. Recognise the possible psychological impacts on self and other rescuers and seek help when required.
 - 4.2. Contribute to a review of the first aid response as required.

Foundation Skills

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Assessment Requirements for HLTAID009 Provide cardiopulmonary resuscitation

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the workplace or community setting.

There must be evidence that the candidate has completed the following tasks in line with State/Territory regulations, first aid codes of practice, first aid guidelines determined by the Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) and other Australian national peak clinical bodies and workplace or site procedures:

- managed, in line with ARC guidelines, the unconscious, breathing casualty including appropriate positioning to reduce the risk of airway compromise
- managed, in line with ARC guidelines, the unconscious, non-breathing adult, including:
 - performing at least 2 minutes of uninterrupted single rescuer cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) (5 cycles of both compressions and ventilations) on an adult resuscitation manikin placed on the floor
 - following the prompts of an automated external defibrillator (AED) to deliver at least one shock
 - demonstrating a rotation of single rescuer operators with minimal interruptions to compressions
 - responding appropriately in the event of regurgitation or vomiting
 - handing over to emergency services
 - providing an accurate verbal report of the incident
 - reviewing the incident
- managed, in line with ARC guidelines, the unconscious, non-breathing infant, including:
 - performing at least 2 minutes of uninterrupted single rescuer CPR (5 cycles both compressions and ventilations) on an infant resuscitation manikin placed on a firm surface.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- guidelines and procedures including:
 - relevant ARC guidelines to managing the unconscious breathing and non-breathing casualty and provision of CPR
 - potential incident hazards and risk minimisation processes when providing first aid

- infection control procedures, including use of standard precautions and resuscitation barrier devices
- requirements for currency of skill and knowledge
- first aid codes of practice
- appropriate workplace or site procedures relevant to the provision of first aid
- legal, workplace and community considerations, including:
 - duty of care requirements
 - own skills and limitations
 - consent and how it relates to the conscious and unconscious casualty
 - privacy and confidentiality requirements
 - awareness of potential need for stress management techniques and available support for rescuers
- considerations when providing CPR, including:
 - upper airway and effect of positional change
 - appropriate duration and cessation of CPR
 - appropriate use of an AED
 - safety and maintenance procedures for an AED
 - chain of survival
 - how to access emergency services
- techniques for providing CPR to adults, children and infants including:
 - how to recognise that a casualty is unconscious and not breathing normally
 - rate, ratio and depth of compressions and ventilations
 - correct hand positioning for compressions
 - basic anatomy, physiology and the differences between adults, children and infants relating to CPR.

Assessment Conditions

Each candidate to demonstrate skills in an environment that provides realistic in-depth, scenarios and simulations to assess candidates' skills and knowledge.

Due to the nature of this type of training, it is acceptable for the performance evidence to be collected in a simulated environment.

Compression and ventilation skills must be demonstrated on resuscitation manikins following ARC guidelines for the purpose of assessment of CPR procedures.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- adult and infant resuscitation manikins following ARC guidelines for the purpose of assessment of CPR procedures
- AED training devices
- personal protective equipment (PPE).

Simulated assessment environments must simulate real-life situations where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that workplace or community environment.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors and must hold this unit or demonstrate equivalent skills and knowledge to that contained within this unit.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to provide a first aid response to infants and children in line with first aid guidelines determined by the Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) and other Australian national peak clinical bodies.

This unit applies to a range of workers within an education and care setting who are required to respond to a first aid emergency, including asthma and anaphylactic emergencies. This includes early childhood workers and educators who work with school age children in outside school hours care and vacation programs.

This unit of competency may contribute towards approved first aid, asthma and anaphylaxis training under the Education and Care Services National Law, and the Education and Care Services National Regulations (2011).

Specific licensing/regulatory requirements relating to this competency, including requirements for refresher training should be obtained from the relevant national/state/territory Work Health and Safety Regulatory Authorities

 - following the prompts of an automated external defibrillator (AED) to deliver at least one shock
 - demonstrating a rotation of single rescuer operators with minimal interruptions to compressions
 - responding appropriately in the event of regurgitation or vomiting
- managed, in line with ARC guidelines, the unconscious, non-breathing child, including:
 - performing at least 2 minutes of uninterrupted single rescuer cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) (5 cycles of both compressions and ventilations) on a child resuscitation manikin placed on the floor
- managed, in line with ARC guidelines, the unconscious, non-breathing infant, including:

- performing at least 2 minutes of uninterrupted single rescuer CPR (5 cycles both compressions and ventilations) on an infant resuscitation manikin placed on a firm surface
- managed child casualties, with the following:
 - anaphylaxis
 - asthma
 - non-life-threatening bleeding
 - choking - child and infant
 - envenomation, using pressure immobilisation
 - fractures, dislocations, sprains and strains, using appropriate immobilisation techniques
 - minor wound cleaning and dressing
 - nosebleed
 - shock
- responded to at least one simulated first aid incident that involves providing treatment for a child or infant contextualised to the candidate's workplace or site, where the candidate has no knowledge of the casualty's condition prior to starting treatment, including:
 - identifying the casualty's illness or injury through history, signs and symptoms
 - using Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) as required
 - providing appropriate first aid treatment
 - conveying incident details to emergency services or advising casualty on any required post incident action
 - providing an accurate verbal and written report of the incident
 - reviewing the incident.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- guidelines and procedures including:
 - ARC guidelines relevant to the provision of first aid to infants, children and adults
 - first aid guidelines from Australian national peak clinical bodies
 - potential incident hazards and risk minimisation processes when providing first aid
 - infection control procedures, including use of standard precautions and resuscitation barrier devices
 - requirements for currency of skill and knowledge
 - first aid codes of practice
 - appropriate workplace or site procedures relevant to the provision of first aid
 - contents of first aid kits
- legal, workplace and community considerations, including:

- first aid requirements for services under the Education and Care Services National Law
- State or Territory regulations covering first aid in an Education and Care setting
- duty of care requirements
- own skills and limitations
- consent, including situations in which parental or caregiver consent is required
- privacy and confidentiality requirements
- awareness of potential need for stress management techniques and available support for rescuers and children
- considerations when providing CPR, including:
 - upper airway and effect of positional change
 - appropriate duration and cessation of CPR
 - appropriate use of an AED, including specific considerations when using an AED on children
 - safety and maintenance procedures for an AED
 - chain of survival
 - how to access emergency services
- techniques for providing CPR to adults, children and infants including:
 - how to recognise that a casualty is unconscious and not breathing normally
 - rate, ratio and depth of compressions and ventilations
 - correct hand positioning for compressions
 - basic anatomy, physiology and the differences between adults, children and infants relating to CPR
- signs, symptoms and management of the following in children and infants:
 - allergic reaction
 - anaphylaxis
 - asthma
 - non-life-threatening and life-threatening bleeding
 - breathing difficulties
 - burns
 - choking
 - diabetes
 - dehydration
 - drowning
 - envenomation - all current treatments
 - eye injuries
 - febrile convulsions
 - fever
 - fractures, dislocations, sprains and strains
 - head, neck and spinal injuries

- hypothermia
- hyperthermia
- minor wounds
- pain
- shock
- nose-bleed
- poisoning
- seizures
- vomiting and diarrhoea
- identification and management of a sick infant or child including:
 - general signs and symptoms of acute illness in children and infants
 - referral and advice services including recognition of signs or symptoms requiring immediate ambulance response
 - emergency action plans for known medical conditions including Asthma and Anaphylaxis
 - age appropriate communication and distraction techniques
 - first aider response to basic physiological differences in children.

Assessment Conditions

Each candidate to demonstrate skills in an environment that provides realistic in-depth, scenarios and simulations based on child and infant casualties to assess candidates' skills and knowledge.

Due to the nature of this type of training, it is acceptable for the performance evidence to be collected in a simulated environment.

Compression and ventilation skills must be demonstrated on resuscitation manikins, following ARC guidelines for the purpose of assessment of CPR procedures.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- emergency action plans
- adult, child and infant resuscitation manikins following ARC guidelines for the purpose of assessment of CPR procedures
- adrenaline auto-injector training device
- AED training devices
- workplace first aid kit
- placebo bronchodilator and a spacer device
- different types of wound dressings and bandages
- blankets and items to treat for shock
- personal protective equipment (PPE)
- workplace injury, trauma and/or illness record, or other applicable workplace or site incident report form.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate real-life situations where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that workplace/community environment.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors and must hold this unit or demonstrate equivalent skills and knowledge to that contained within this unit.

HLTAID013 Provide First Aid in remote or isolated site

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to provide a first aid response to a casualty in a remote or isolated site over an extended period of time until medical assistance is provided, or evacuation occurs.

This unit applies to any site where medical assistance is likely to be delayed.

First aid is to be provided in line with guidelines determined by the Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) and other Australian national peak clinical bodies.

Specific licensing/regulatory requirements relating to this competency, including requirements for refresher training should be obtained from the relevant national/state/territory Work Health and Safety Regulatory Authorities.

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

|---|--|
| 1. Prepare equipment for first aid response in remote or isolated site. | 1.1. Evaluate information about remote or isolated site and identify potential injuries and illnesses requiring extended management.
1.2. Select first aid equipment and resources to manage a range of potential incidents, according to organisational emergency response and first aid procedures.
1.3. Select communication equipment to facilitate emergency response in remote or isolated site.
1.4. Complete pre-departure safety and serviceability checks on equipment. |
| 2. Assess the situation. | 2.1. Recognise and assess an emergency situation.
2.2. Ensure safety for self, bystanders and casualty.
2.3. Assess casualty to determine extent of first aid response.
2.4. Identify need for medical assistance and relay initial and |

- concise information.
- 2.5. Triage when multiple casualties are involved.
3. Apply appropriate first aid procedures.
- 3.1. Perform single-rescuer or two-rescuer cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) in accordance with the ARC guidelines and availability of rescuers.
- 3.2. Provide first aid in accordance with established first aid principles.
- 3.3. Display respectful behaviour towards casualty.
- 3.4. Obtain consent from casualty where possible.
- 3.5. Use available resources and equipment to make the casualty as comfortable as possible.
- 3.6. Operate first aid equipment according to manufacturers' instructions.
- 3.7. Monitor the casualty's condition and respond in accordance with first aid principles.
- 3.8. Assess need to evacuate casualty, ability to transport to medical assistance or need for external assistance.
- 3.9. Administer medication as required according to medical instructions.
4. Communicate details of the incident.
- 4.1. Accurately convey incident details to emergency services.
- 4.2. Report details of incident in line with appropriate workplace or site procedures.
- 4.3. Complete applicable workplace or site documentation, including incident report form.
- 4.4. Maintain privacy and confidentiality of records and information in line with applicable statutory or organisational policies.
5. Coordinate evacuation and first aid activities until assistance arrives.
- 5.1. Determine need, in consultation with external services, to evacuate casualty.
- 5.2. Provide accurate information about location of incident, number of casualties, their condition and their position to enable deployment of appropriate resources.
- 5.3. Continue to provide treatment using available resources until help arrives.
- 5.4. Prepare site for evacuation of patient.
- 5.5. On approach, assist emergency services to locate the site of the incident.
- 5.6. Follow instructions and provide assistance to emergency services personnel during evacuation.
6. Review the incident.
- 6.1. Recognise the possible psychological impacts on self and other rescuers and seek help when required.
- 6.2. Contribute to a review of the first aid response as required.

Foundation Skills

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Assessment Requirements for HLTAID013 Provide First Aid in remote or isolated site

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the workplace or community setting.

There must be evidence that the candidate has completed the following tasks in line with State/Territory regulations, first aid codes of practice, first aid guidelines determined by the Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) guidelines and workplace or site procedures:

- managed, in line with ARC guidelines, the unconscious, breathing casualty including appropriate positioning to reduce the risk of airway compromise
- managed, in line with ARC guidelines, the unconscious, non-breathing adult including:
 - performing at least 2 minutes of uninterrupted single rescuer cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) (5 cycles of both compressions and ventilations) on an adult resuscitation manikin placed on the floor
 - performing at least 2 minutes of ventilation and at least 2 minutes of compressions during a two-rescuer procedure on an adult resuscitation manikin placed on the floor
 - following the prompts of an automated external defibrillator (AED) to deliver at least one shock
 - responding appropriately in the event of regurgitation or vomiting
 - demonstrating a rotation of operators with minimal interruptions to compressions
- managed, in line with ARC guidelines, the unconscious, non-breathing infant, including:

- managed casualties, with the following:
 - anaphylaxis
 - asthma
 - non-life-threatening bleeding
 - choking
 - minor wound cleaning and dressing
 - nosebleed
 - shock
 - envenomation, using pressure immobilisation
 - fractures, dislocations, sprains and strains, using appropriate immobilisation techniques for remote situations and appropriate equipment improvisations

- head, neck and spinal injuries
- hypothermia and hyperthermia
- life threatening bleeding requiring use of tourniquets and haemostatic dressings
- responded to at least one simulated first aid incident contextualised to the candidate's workplace or community setting, where the candidate has no knowledge of the casualty's condition prior to starting treatment, including:
 - identifying the casualty's illness or injury through history, signs and symptoms
 - using personal protective equipment (PPE) as required
 - conducting a secondary survey assessment
 - assessing vital signs respirations, pulse, temperature
 - level of consciousness
 - providing appropriate first aid treatment
 - conveying incident details to emergency services or advising casualty on any required post incident action
 - providing an accurate verbal and written report of the incident
 - reviewing the incident
- conducted a basic triage for a multiple casualty incident.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- guidelines and procedures including:
 - ARC guidelines relevant to the provision of first aid
 - first aid guidelines from Australian national peak clinical bodies including those relevant to remote or isolated sites
 - potential incident hazards and risk minimisation processes when providing first aid
 - infection control procedures, including use of standard precautions and resuscitation barrier devices
 - requirements for currency of skill and knowledge
 - first aid codes of practice
 - appropriate workplace or site procedures relevant to the provision of first aid
 - contents of first aid kits
- legal, workplace and community considerations including:
 - duty of care requirements
 - own skills and limitations
 - consent and how it relates to the conscious and unconscious casualty
 - privacy and confidentiality requirements
 - awareness of potential need for stress management techniques and available support for rescuers
- in relation to the administration of medication

- legal requirements
- the five rights
- the responsibilities of the first aider
- considerations when providing CPR, including:
 - upper airway and effect of positional change
 - appropriate duration and cessation of CPR
 - appropriate use of an AED
 - safety and maintenance procedures for an AED
 - chain of survival
 - how to access emergency services
- techniques for providing CPR to adults, children and infants including:

 - minor wounds
 - nose-bleed
 - poisoning
 - seizures
 - shock
 - sharps injuries
 - stroke
 - life threatening bleeding including use of tourniquets and haemostatic dressings

- considerations when providing first aid including:
 - assessment, interpretation and documentation of vital signs, including normal clinical values for respirations, temperature, pulse and level of consciousness
 - how to conduct a secondary assessment of a casualty
 - basic triage processes
 - ongoing care requirements of casualty beyond initial treatment
- remote considerations in the provision of first aid, including:
 - the nature of remote or isolated sites and how this may impact on first aid management
 - key features, functions and limitations of different types of emergency communication equipment used in remote or isolated sites, and factors that affect choice:
 - radio equipment
 - mobile phones
 - satellite phones
 - alerting and tracking devices including personal locator beacons (PLBs)
 - management options relating to transporting casualty, including aero-medical evacuation
 - specific considerations contextualised to alpine, desert, marine, rural or remote settings and tropical environments
 - methods used to assist emergency services to locate incident sites and the key features, functions and limitations of resources used to assist:
 - verbal directions
 - flags
 - flares or smoke
 - fires
 - use of man-made and natural resources to supplement first aid equipment
 - content of remote area first aid kits
 - content of remote area medication boxes
- psychological impacts of first aid incidents on rescuers and how to seek help.

Assessment Conditions

Each candidate to demonstrate skills in an environment that provides realistic in-depth, scenarios and simulations to assess candidates' skills and knowledge.

Scenarios must concentrate on the significance of remote or isolated site circumstances.

Due to the nature of this type of training, it is acceptable for the performance evidence to be collected in a simulated environment.

Compression and ventilation skills must be demonstrated on resuscitation manikins following ARC guidelines for the purpose of assessment of CPR procedures.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- adult and infant resuscitation manikin following ARC guidelines for the purpose of assessment of CPR procedures
- adrenaline auto-injector training device
- AED training devices
- placebo bronchodilator and spacer device
- haemostatic dressings
- haemostatic wound packing trainer
- thermometers

- tourniquet trainer
- different types of wound dressings and bandages
- blankets and items to manage a casualty for shock
- personal protective equipment (PPE)
- workplace injury, trauma or illness record, or other appropriate workplace or site incident report form, which includes space for recording vital signs of casualties
- remote first aid kits
- immobilisation devices.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate real-life situations where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that workplace or community environment.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors and must hold this unit or demonstrate equivalent skills and knowledge to that contained within this unit.

HLTAID014 Provide Advanced First Aid

Modification History

Not applicable.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to provide an advanced first aid response to a casualty in line with first aid guidelines determined by the Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) and other Australian national peak clinical bodies.

The unit applies to all persons who may be required to provide an advanced first aid response in a range of situations, including community and workplace settings.

Specific licensing/regulatory requirements relating to this competency, including requirements for refresher training should be obtained from the relevant national/state/territory Work Health and Safety Regulatory Authorities.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Respond to an emergency situation.

- 1.1. Recognise and assess an emergency situation.
- 1.2. Ensure safety for self, bystanders and casualty.
- 1.3. Assess the casualty and recognise the need for first aid response.
- 1.4. Deploy resources to appropriate locations as required in line with appropriate workplace or site procedures.
- 1.5. Seek assistance from emergency services.

2. Apply appropriate first aid procedures.

- 2.1. Perform single-rescuer or two-rescuer cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) in accordance with the ARC guidelines and availability of rescuers.
- 2.2. Provide first aid in accordance with established first aid principles.
- 2.3. Display respectful behaviour towards casualty.
- 2.4. Obtain consent from casualty where possible.
- 2.5. Use available resources and equipment to make the casualty as comfortable as possible.
- 2.6. Operate first aid and ancillary equipment according to manufacturers' instructions.

- 2.7. Monitor the casualty's condition and respond in accordance with first aid principles.
3. Coordinate first aid activities until arrival of medical assistance.
 - 3.1. Identify available resources required and establish communication links with appropriate personnel, emergency services or medical assistance as appropriate.
 - 3.2. Deploy required resources to appropriate locations in an efficient and effective manner to ensure timely treatment of casualties.
 - 3.3. Monitor the condition of casualties in accordance with first aid principles and workplace or site procedures.
 - 3.4. Coordinate evacuation of casualties according to relevant evacuation procedures.
4. Communicate details of the incident.
 - 4.1. Accurately convey incident details to emergency services.
 - 4.2. Report details of incident in line with appropriate workplace or site procedures.
 - 4.3. Complete applicable workplace or site documentation, including incident report form.
 - 4.4. Maintain privacy and confidentiality of information in line with statutory or organisational policies.
5. Review the incident.
 - 5.1. Recognise the possible psychological impacts on self and other rescuers and seek help when required.
 - 5.2. Arrange support services for personnel involved in the incident in accordance with relevant procedures.
 - 5.3. Contribute to a review of the first aid response as required.

- responded to at least two simulated first aid incidents, one medical and one trauma contextualised to the candidate's workplace or community setting, where the candidate has no knowledge of the casualty's condition prior to starting treatment, including:
 - identifying the casualty's illness or injury through history, signs and symptoms
 - using personal protective equipment (PPE) as required
 - conducting a secondary survey assessment
 - assessing vital signs respirations, pulse, temperature
 - level of consciousness
 - providing appropriate first aid treatment
 - conveying incident details to emergency services or advising casualty on any required post-incident action
 - providing an accurate verbal and written report of the incident
 - reviewing the incident
- coordinated a team of people to respond to a multiple casualty incident, including:
 - conducting a basic triage
 - demonstrating effective use of resources
 - demonstrating effective planning techniques
 - moving casualties using suitable extraction method and device and safe manual handling techniques.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to comply with personal hygiene, maintain food safety, contribute to cleanliness of food handling areas and dispose of food.

This unit applies to food services workers who work under supervision and within defined guidelines.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand standards and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes.

1. Comply with personal hygiene standards as required by the food safety program

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1 Follow personal hygiene procedures
1.2 Report health conditions and/or illness and follow organisation procedures for continuing participation in food services

ELEMENTPERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements define the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

2. Assessment Requirements for HLTFS001 Follow basic food safety practices

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 3.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Significant changes to the elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment, including volume and frequency requirements. Significant change to knowledge evidence. Supersedes HLTFS207C

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in the elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- identified at least 4 appropriate times for hand washing and followed correct hand washing procedures
- cleaned and tidied work areas at least 2 times to avoid contamination and pests
- identified at least 2 food items for disposal and followed food disposal procedures
- identified, corrected and reported at least 2 processes or practices that were not consistent with food safety program.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in the elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- food safety program and procedures and consequences of not following these procedures
- current national, state or territory food safety laws, standards and codes, including:
 - meaning of contaminant, contamination and potentially hazardous foods as defined by the current code
 - hygiene actions that must be adhered to by businesses to avoid food-borne illnesses

- employee responsibility to participate in hygienic practices
- reasons for food safety programs and what they must contain
- role of local government regulators
- basic aspects of hazard analysis and critical control points (HACCP) method of controlling food safety
- food hazards and major causes of food contamination and food-borne illnesses, including:
 - airborne dust
 - colleagues without appropriate training or understanding of good hygiene practices, policies and procedures
 - contaminated food
 - contaminated garbage
 - dirty equipment and utensils
 - equipment not working correctly, including fridge and temperature probes
 - items, including linen, tea towels and towels that may be contaminated with human waste, including blood and body secretions
 - not following organisation procedures
 - vermin
- sources and effects of microbiological contamination of food
- personal hygiene requirements, including:
 - appropriate bandages and dressings to be used when undertaking food handling
 - clothing and footwear requirements for working in and/or moving between food handling areas
 - reporting of illness
 - restrictions on wearing of jewellery and other adornments, such as nail polish

4.4 Oversee and observe the client when taking medication and confirm ingestion or completion of administration

4.5 Dispose of all used and unused medication, containers, according to organisation procedures

4.6 Identify signs from client "when necessary" medications might be required, then inform delegating health practitioner and act in accordance with organisation's policies, procedures, delegation and role responsibility

4.7 Record administration of medications according to organisation policy

4.8 Provide accurate information to clients and carers on medication administration, including possible side effects

ELEMENTPERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements define the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

as per instructions of the delegating health professional

5. Monitor client response to administered medication

5.1 Identify possible acute and delayed adverse reactions to medications, respond within role responsibility and report to supervisor or health professional

5.2 Implement emergency response for identified acute and delayed adverse reactions within role responsibility

5.3 Record and report response to emergency strategies

5.4 Identify signs of a client experiencing pain and report to health professional

5.5 Observe and record client response to pain relieving medication and report to health professional

6. Handle medication contingencies

6.1 Report medication refusal or incomplete ingestion to supervising health professional according to organisation's procedures and protocols

6.2 Clearly identify contaminated or out of date medication and implement organisation's procedures for safe and appropriate disposal

6.3 Observe and record changes in the client's condition according to the organisation's guidelines and report to supervisor and health professional

6.4 Record and report any inconsistencies according to delegation and organisation guidelines and procedures

7. Complete medication distribution and administration

7.1 Manage medication equipment and used containers according to infection control guidelines

7.2 Complete arrangements and procedures to replenish dose administration aids and supplies

7.3 Store medication charts, care plans and treatment sheets according to the organisation's procedures

7.4 Complete medication storage procedures in compliance with legislation and own role responsibility

Assessment Requirements for HLTHPS007 Administer and monitor medications

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 2.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Significant changes to the elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment, including volume and frequency requirements. Significant change to knowledge evidence.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- safely administered medication to at least 10 different people, including:
 - applied the rights of medication
 - consulted and confirmed actions with an authorised practitioner at all relevant times
 - determined medication requirements
 - understood and responded appropriately to orders and instructions for medication
- calculated medications with 100% accuracy and used the rights of medication and standard precautions to administer medication, using each of the following routes or methods:
 - oral
 - sublingual/buccal
 - dry powder inhalers
 - metered dose/spacer inhalers
 - nebulisers
 - topical medications
 - suppositories
 - sub-cutaneous injection using pre-loaded syringes or pens

- documented the administration of medication according to legislative requirements and organisation procedures and policies

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- legislation, regulations, codes of practice, professional standards and workplace policies, including:
 - commonwealth and state/territory legislation concerning administration of medication, including the Drugs and Poisons Act
 - Disability Services Acts (commonwealth and state/territory)
 - Aged Care Act
 - duty of care
 - work health and safety
 - standard and additional precautions
- principles, practices and regulatory framework underpinning delegation and supervision, accountability and responsibility
- roles and responsibilities of those involved in assisting with medications and limitations of own role
- scheduled medications and interpretation of scheduling:
 - schedule 2
 - schedule 3
 - schedule 4
 - schedule 8
- forms of medication, and how they are handled, administered and stored, including:
 - capsules
 - drops
 - inhalants
 - liquid
 - lotion and cream
 - ointments
 - patches
 - powder
 - tablets
 - wafers
 - pessary
 - suppository
- basic pharmacology of medications, including:

- pharmacodynamics (biochemical and physiological effects of commonly used pharmacology on the body)
- pharmacokinetics (the action of commonly used pharmacology in the body over a period of time, including the processes of absorption) pharmacotherapeutics (therapeutic uses and effects of pharmacology used for common medical conditions)
- toxicology (adverse effects of chemicals on the organs of the body)
- key aspects of medication groups and categories and their general effect on body systems and major disorders, including:
 - central nervous system
 - musculo-skeletal system
 - peripheral nervous system
 - endocrine system
 - cardiovascular system
 - respiratory system
 - gastrointestinal system
 - renal/urinary system
 - reproductive systems
 - immune system
 - integumentary system
 - eye, ear and special senses
 - micro-organisms
 - neoplastic disease
- major factors that affect the action of drugs, including:
 - age
 - disease
 - processes
 - nutrition
 - hydration
- cross infection and prevention strategies including:
 - correct hand washing techniques
 - glove usage
 - awareness of how infection is spread
- procedures and legal requirements for different medication administration routes and consequences of incorrect use:
 - aural
 - insulin by sub-cutaneous injection using pre-loaded syringes or pens
 - intranasal
 - ocular
 - oral
 - rectal
 - topical (including transdermal)

- vaginal
- substance incompatibilities and contra-indications, including those related to:
 - warfarin and aspirin
 - medication and diet
 - medication and sunlight
 - infection
 - alcohol
- basic understanding of:
 - anaphylactic reactions
 - side effects
 - precautions
- characteristics of at least twenty commonly used medications in the area of work, including prescribed and over the counter medications:
 - purpose
 - expected effects and potential reactions, including anaphylactic reactions
 - contraindications for use
 - consequences of incorrect use
 - storage requirements
 - disposal requirements
- documentation requirements for medication administration:
 - purpose
 - potential impacts of errors and reasons for error
 - medication charts, their role and procedures for use

Assessment Conditions

Skills must have been demonstrated in the workplace with the addition of simulations and scenarios where the full range of contexts and situations has not been provided in the workplace. The following aspects of the performance evidence must have been demonstrated using simulation prior to demonstration in the workplace or with members of the general public and where state/territory legislation prevents this practice in the workplace:

- calculated medications with 100% accuracy and used the rights of medication and standard precautions to administer medication

The following conditions must be met for this unit:

- use of suitable facilities, equipment and resources, including:
 - placebo medication, administration equipment, charts and documentation
 - individualised plans
 - workplace policies and procedures

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

In addition, assessors must be a registered nurse or registered enrolled nurse or registered Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health practitioner.

HLTHPS010 Interpret and use information about nutrition and diet

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 2.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. New unit.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to interpret and use basic information about nutritional principles and healthy diet. It does not include the provision of therapeutic nutritional or dietary advice to individual clients or the recommendation of ‘practitioner only’ nutritional products.

This unit applies to individuals working with clients within the limits of the Australian dietary guidelines. They make referrals to other health professionals or accredited practising dietitians when those limits are exceeded.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australia/New Zealand standards and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

1. Access nutritional and dietary information

1.1 Establish credible sources of information about nutrition and diet

1.2 Access and interpret current dietary guidelines for healthy Australians and nutritional information that support self-care

ELEMENTPERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements define the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

2. Use information about diet and nutrition	1.3 Extract and distil information relevant to own practice 2.1 Determine situations where nutrition and diet may play a role for individual clients 2.2 Integrate knowledge of basic nutrition and diet into service provision 2.3 Promote healthy diet and nutrition to others based on the Australian dietary guidelines 2.4 Provide information on lifestyle, self-care practices and specialist services related to diet and nutrition 2.5 Identify situations where referral to a health care professional is required and take action accordingly
3. Maintain own knowledge of nutrition	3.1 Identify and use opportunities to update nutritional knowledge 3.2 Monitor current issues and trends in nutrition and diet 3.3 Evaluate potential changes in own work based on updated knowledge

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Assessment Requirements for HLTHPS010 Interpret and use information about nutrition and diet

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 2.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. New unit.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- used critical thinking skills to review and distil information about nutrition and diet
- used information about nutrition and diet within the scope of own job role in the provision of services to at least 3 different people

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- legal and ethical requirements in relation to the provision of nutritional and diet information to clients:
 - roles, responsibilities and limitations of different people
 - conflicts of interest and ethical considerations
- source of information about nutrition and diet and ways to assess their credibility
- established evidence-based sources of information about nutrition and diet
- anatomy and physiology relating to diet, including:
 - structure of the digestive system
 - role of metabolism
 - digestive processes and activities, including:
 - ingestion
 - mechanical digestion

- propulsion
- chemical digestion
- absorption
- defecation
- primary components of Australian dietary guidelines, including those for older Australians, children and adolescents.
- foods and their key features as described in the Australian dietary guidelines, including diet related aspects of chronic disease:
 - diabetes
 - cardiovascular
 - obesity/eating disorders
- basic principles and practices of nutrition and healthy diet, including nutrients, their function, recommended dietary intake (RDI), toxicity and their food sources
- benefits of antioxidants, and food groups that provide good sources
- influences on food choices for individuals
- food labelling and interpretation
- role and implications of using food additives and preservatives
- health implications of food choices
- role of good nutrition in avoiding dietary diseases
- effects of various processing and cooking methods and food storage on nutrients
- commonly encountered food intolerances
- main types and characteristics of special diets that are part of contemporary Australian society:
 - diabetic
 - coeliac/gluten free/low gluten
 - low cholesterol
 - low fat
 - sugar free
 - vegetarian
 - vegan
 - diets specific to different cultures and religions
- the meaning of:
 - drug–food interactions
 - food allergy
 - food intolerance
 - alkaline and acidity charts
- indicators of need for referral to specialist advice

Assessment Conditions

Skills must have been demonstrated in the workplace or in a simulated environment that reflects workplace conditions. Where simulation is used, it must reflect real working conditions by modelling industry operating conditions and contingencies, as well as using suitable facilities, equipment and resources.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to follow organisational infection prevention and control procedures, including implementing standard and transmission-based precautions and responding to infection risks.

This unit applies to individuals working in health and direct client care contexts.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand standards and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes

1. Follow standard and additional precautions for infection prevention and control

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

1.1 Follow hand hygiene practices in accordance with organisations policies and procedures

1.2 Implement hand care procedures and cover cuts and abrasions

1.3 Follow organisation procedures for choice and use of personal protection equipment

ELEMENTPERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements define the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

- 1.4 Follow procedures for respiratory hygiene and cough etiquette
 - 1.5 Follow procedures for environmental cleaning
 - 1.6 Follow procedures for handling, transporting and processing of linen in a manner that controls the spread of infection
 - 1.7 Follow procedures for disposal of contaminated waste
 - 1.8 Follow procedures for handling and cleaning client equipment that prevents skin and mucous membrane exposures, contamination of clothing, and transfer of pathogens
 - 1.9 Identify and respond to situations where additional precautions may be required to prevent transmission of infection
2. Identify infection hazards and assess risks
 - 2.1 Identify infection hazards associated with own role and work environment
 - 2.2 Identify own areas of responsibility in relation to infection prevention and control
 - 2.3 Assess risk by determining the likelihood and severity of harm from identified hazards.
 - 2.4 Document and report activities and tasks that put self, clients, visitors and/or other workers at risk
 - 2.5 Identify appropriate control measures to minimise risk in accordance with organisations procedures
3. Follow procedures for managing risks associated with specific hazards
 - 3.1 Follow protocols for care after exposure to blood or other body fluids as required
 - 3.2 Place appropriate signs when and where appropriate
 - 3.3 Remove spills in accordance with the policies and procedures of the organisation
 - 3.4 Minimise contamination of materials, equipment and instruments by aerosols and splatter
 - 3.5 Identify, separate and maintain clean and

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- followed established organisation infection prevention and control procedures on at least 3 separate occasions
- followed established organisation infection prevention and control procedures at least once for each of the following:
 - hand hygiene and care of hand
 - use of personal protective equipment
 - handling of waste
 - enforcing clean and contaminated zones
 - limitation of contamination
 - surface cleaning

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- established guidelines for the prevention and control of infection, including those for:
 - personal and hand hygiene:
 - how to hand wash
 - how to hand rub

- pre-surgical hand preparation
- clinical moments when hand hygiene should be performed with soap and water rather than alcohol-based hand rub
- non-clinical moments for hand hygiene hand care, including guidelines on maintaining intact skin, fingernails and jewellery/watches
- use and scope of personal protective equipment guidelines for:
 - glove use
 - wearing gowns and waterproof aprons
 - wearing masks
 - wearing protective glasses
- surface cleaning:
 - cleaning procedures and their specified times
 - routine surface cleaning
- managing a blood or body fluid spill
- sharps handling and disposal techniques
- reprocessing procedures for equipment
- types of additional precautions and their relevance to particular areas of work or client groups
- types of hazards in the work environment and associated risks and control measures
- chain of infection:
 - source of infectious agent
 - mode of transmission
 - susceptible host
- basis of infection, including:
 - bacteria and bacterial spores
 - difference between harmless microorganisms and pathogens
 - difference between colonisation, infection and disease
 - fungi
 - viruses
- key modes of disease transmission – contact, airborne and droplet:
 - paths of transmission including direct contact, aerosols and penetrating injuries
 - risk of acquisition
 - sources of infecting microorganisms including persons who are carriers, in the incubation phase of the disease or those who are acutely ill
- factors that increase the susceptibility to infection:
 - immune status
 - wounds or devices
 - medications and comorbidities
 - age

Assessment Conditions

Skills must have been demonstrated in the workplace with the addition of simulations and scenarios where the full range of contexts and situations have not been provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely.

The following conditions must be met for this unit:

- use of suitable facilities, equipment and resources, including:
 - organisational infection prevention and control guidelines
 - personal protective equipment
 - hand hygiene facilities and equipment
 - medical or client care equipment relevant to the workplace
 - clinical and other waste and waste disposal equipment
 - areas for cleaning
 - equipment for cleaning, including sterilised sharps if relevant to role
- modelling of industry operating conditions, including integration of problem solving activities to which the candidate responds

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Assessment Requirements for HLTINF006 Apply basic principles and practices of infection prevention and control

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- implement precautions for infection prevention and control according to national standards and guidelines on three different occasions, each responding to a different identified infection risk, including:
 - carrying out hand hygiene procedures as relevant to the infection risk
 - selecting and using correct Personal Protective Equipment (PPE)
 - using correct cleaning and waste management procedures
- respond to three instances of exposure to infection risk, including:
 - at least one instance that involves management of exposure to blood or body fluids
 - documenting and reporting the incident and response
 - identifying and managing clean and contaminated zones.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- established national standards and guidelines for the prevention and control of infection
- types of infectious risks in the work environment and associated management to prevent and reduce harm
- causes of infection, including:
 - classifications of microorganisms – bacteria, viruses, fungi, parasites
 - process of colonisation, infection and disease
- transmission of infectious agents as per the chain of infection including:
 - infectious agent:
 - degree of pathogen exposure
 - reservoir:
 - people, animals and birds
 - other vectors
 - blood and body fluids
 - food, water and soil
 - waste

- portal of exit
- transmission:
 - direct contact including contact, droplet and airborne
 - indirect contact including surface or object contamination, penetrating injuries and vectors (animal, insect or parasite)
- portal of entry
- susceptible hosts:
 - factors that increase susceptibility to infection
- personal hygiene practices:
 - personal care and cleanliness
 - use of clean clothing or uniform
 - management and laundering of work clothing
 - not attending work when ill
 - safe respiratory and cough etiquette
- principles of hand hygiene:
 - hand care, including guidelines on maintaining intact skin, fingernails and jewellery or watches
 - hand hygiene procedures:
 - identifying when hand hygiene is required
 - identifying correct hand hygiene product
 - hand hygiene technique
 - procedure for applying alcohol-based hand rub
 - when to perform hand hygiene with soap and water rather than alcohol-based hand rub
 - precautions where there are breaks in the skin or skin conditions
 - 5 moments of hand hygiene
- safe and effective use of different types and grades of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) including:
 - masks
 - gloves
 - protective eyewear and face shields
 - gowns and aprons
 - techniques and sequence for applying, fitting and removing PPE
 - preventing contamination while applying, wearing and removing PPE
 - safe disposal of PPE after use
- cleaning procedures:
 - routine environment and equipment cleaning
 - enhanced cleaning
 - reprocessing of reusable equipment or instruments
 - managing a blood or body fluid spill

- management of linen and clothing
- principles of asepsis relevant to the job role
- waste management procedures:
 - disposal of general waste
 - safe handling and disposal of contaminated waste
 - safe handling and disposal of sharps
- organisational policies and procedures for:
 - managing exposure incidents
 - recording and documenting risks and incidents
 - reporting risks and incidents
 - parties to whom reports may be made:
 - supervisor
 - general practitioner
 - health care professional
 - carer
 - responsible person
 - responsible authority.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in the work setting with the addition of simulations and scenarios where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the work setting or may occur only rarely.

Assessment must ensure use of suitable facilities, equipment and resources, including:

- national standards and guidelines for infection prevention and control and hand hygiene
- relevant Commonwealth state or territory legislation and industry frameworks
- hand hygiene facilities and equipment
- personal protective equipment
- waste and waste disposal equipment
- areas, equipment and supplies for cleaning
- organisational policies and procedures.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

HLTOHC001 Recognise and respond to oral health issues

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 2.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Significant changes to the elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment including volume and frequency requirements.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to identify variations and recognise oral health issues through a visual check, observation of patient behaviour and habits, signs and symptoms and physical condition of patients. This enables the candidate to respond appropriately to the clinical findings to initiate follow up oral health care.

This unit applies to workers in a range of health and community services environments where their work role requires them to recognise and respond to oral health issues.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand standards for maintaining infection control, and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

1. Identify variations in patient behaviour and habits

1.1 Identify opportunities to observe patient behaviour, physical functions, capabilities and habits that may indicate oral health issues or associated pain or discomfort

1.2 Observe, listen for self-reports and question patient

ELEMENTPERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements define the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element and family/or carer to determine whether the patient is experiencing pain or discomfort that may be associated with oral health issues

1.3 Access relevant information on contributing factors that may produce variation from normal behaviour

2. Undertake basic visual oral check and questioning

2.1 Obtain consent from the patient to conduct basic visual oral check and questioning from patient and/or family/carer

2.2 Ensure comfort of patient by developing trust and rapport, adapting environment and optimal time based on patient needs

2.3 Provide support for patient's head or chin if necessary to enhance visual access without creating discomfort for the patient

2.4 Seek assistance from patient to open their own mouth to limit hand contact inside the mouth

2.5 Prepare and perform basic visual oral checks in line with own work role and use of standard precautions

2.6 Identify signs and symptoms of oral health issues that may indicate variation from normal and actively listen to and be aware of self-reports

3. Follow up and promote ongoing oral health care

3.1 Complete documentation and reporting processes, using information from patient, and/or family/carer or other relevant people as well as own observations in relation to oral health issues

3.2 Discuss oral health issues with patient and/or carer in line with organisation policies and procedures and respecting patient priorities and choices

3.3 Take appropriate action within work role, including liaising with supervisor in consultation with patient to ensure appropriate referral occurs

3.4 Use appropriate communication strategies to provide information relevant to promoting and maintaining good oral health

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

3.5 Provide instruction to support patients to take a self-care approach to oral health in line with individual needs where possible

3.6 Identify and address key barriers to management or self-management of oral health

3.7 Review and monitor oral health issues

Foundation Skills

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- performed a visual oral health check on 5 patients, including:
 - identified any signs and symptoms related to oral health care issues
 - gathered relevant information from visual check and questioning to initiate appropriate follow up oral health care
 - used appropriate manual handling techniques when working with patients with special care needs or mental health condition

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- basic anatomy and physiology underpinning oral health, including what is considered healthy and unhealthy
- patient behaviour and habits which contribute to oral health issues
- causes and prevention of tooth decay, gum disease and tooth wear, including erosion, abrasion and attrition.
- effective self-care practices for oral health including cause, control and prevention of dental plaque

- state/territory and national government policy and programs and reporting processes for oral health
- accessibility to services, including availability of private and public oral health services, including eligibility for services
- role of oral health professionals
- factors that impact on oral health, including:
 - abuse (neglect of oral health needs)
 - access to dental and health services
 - alcohol, licit and illicit drugs and substances, over the counter and herbal treatments
 - correct infant feeding practices
 - damage from habitual grinding of teeth
 - diet and nutrition, including fluids and excessive intake of sugar
 - fluoride
 - general health and wellbeing
 - immunosuppressant conditions, HIV, chemotherapy and radiation
 - injury to mouth, such as from a seizure
 - medical history
 - oral piercings
 - patient oral health information
 - presence of plaque and calculus
 - psychological issues, such as fear of being seen without dentures or persisting with ill-fitting dentures for satisfaction of others
 - salivary function
 - smoking
 - social and cultural determinants of health
 - susceptible tooth surfaces
 - transmission of bacteria particularly from family/carer to child
 - teeth misalignment causing trauma to teeth
 - trauma to mouth as a result of an accident
- healthy eating recommendations as identified in the National health and medical research council's (NHMRC) Australian dietary guidelines

Assessment Conditions

Skills and knowledge must be demonstrated in the workplace with the addition of simulations and scenarios where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely.

The following aspect of the performance evidence must have been demonstrated using 10 simulation scenarios prior to demonstration in the workplace or with members of the general public:

- performing a visual oral health check

The following conditions must be met for this unit

- use of suitable equipment and resources, including:
 - appropriate personal protective equipment (PPE)
 - Dental board of Australia – dental guidelines on infection control on which the candidate bases the planning process
- modelling of industry operating conditions, including access to people for the simulated scenarios

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to provide practical information and instruction to patients and groups to promote and support good oral health care practices. The skills and knowledge will enable the candidate to provide health promotion and practical demonstration and instruction of oral hygiene practices and techniques.

This unit applies to workers in a range of health and community services environments whose work roles provide them with an opportunity to promote and support good oral health care.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand standards for maintaining infection control, and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes.

1. Develop and maintain understanding of oral health

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

1.1 Build on understanding of what constitutes good oral health

Elements define the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element information and issues

1.2 Maintain current knowledge on the risk factors and outcomes associated with poor oral health and hygiene practices

1.3 Identify oral health hygiene techniques used to address specific patient needs and preferences

1.4 Demonstrate own commitment to oral health through awareness and application of effective self-care oral health practices

1.5 Recognise social and cultural determinants of health as well as varying individual motivations and capacity to carry out good oral health care practices

2. Provide information related to oral health using a person-centred approach

2.1 Address agreed outcomes in planning for oral health care needs by explaining the link between oral health and general health

2.2 Prepare information so that it is relevant to the target audience and use a person-centred approach to identify and respond effectively to individual needs

2.3 Engage and respond to concerns of patient by providing oral health care information, including issues associated with poor oral health and hygiene

2.4 Negotiate with patient a flexible approach to delivery of oral health information

2.5 Explain relevant information on the importance of regular oral checks with an oral health practitioner

3. Provide specific information and instruction on oral hygiene self-care techniques and appropriate aids

3.1 Collect data specific to patient by questioning, observing and accessing available information from patient and/or carer

3.2 Instruct and explain tooth brushing and soft tissue techniques and use of appropriate aids, explain their advantages in terms of achieving and maintaining effective oral health

3.3 Demonstrate and provide instruction on the care of partial and full dentures

3.4 Identify opportunities for participants to demonstrate

ELEMENTPERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements define the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element learned skills

3.5 Encourage and support patients, including people with special needs to follow effective self-care techniques for oral hygiene practices to make knowledge, attitude and behavioural changes where possible

4. Evaluate effectiveness of oral health information session

4.1 Obtain feedback from the patient and/or group to determine whether the information is correctly received and understood

4.2 Implement changes to information or delivery processes based on feedback

Foundation Skills

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

HLTOHC004 Provide or assist with oral hygiene

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 2.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Minimal changes to the elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment including volume and frequency requirements.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to provide or assist a patient with their oral hygiene where the patient is unable to perform all or part of these tasks by themselves. The oral hygiene tasks for the patient are carried out within the framework of an individualised care support plan and within the workers designated role and responsibilities.

This unit applies to workers who provide direct patient care in a range of health and community services environments.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand standards for maintaining infection control and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

1. Identify patient's oral hygiene requirements to ensure good oral health

1.1 Liaise with supervisor to confirm individualised care plan supports requirements to address patient's oral hygiene needs using a person-centred approach

1.2 Work effectively with patients from a diverse range of backgrounds to meet individual preferences in relation to provision of support or assistance with oral hygiene

1.3 Discuss and confirm the patient's level of participation in meeting their own oral hygiene preferences and provide information to the patient and/or carer as required

1.4 Confirm oral hygiene requirements are within scope of own knowledge, skills and work role and seek appropriate assistance where patient requirements are outside scope

1.5 Take into account and address impacts that provision of oral hygiene may have on the patient and address any situations of risk associated with the provision of support and confirm actions with supervisor

1.6 Update knowledge to identify appropriate oral hygiene products, processes and aids for providing assistance and promoting independence in line with the patient's individualised care support plan

2. Assist and support patients in an appropriate manner

2.1 Provide oral hygiene support or assistance in an appropriate environment

2.2 Use effective communication, appropriate body language and a caring attitude to facilitate patient understanding of, and comfort with, oral hygiene processes taking place

2.3 Clarify and address difficulties in providing support, including patient behavioural responses with patient and supervisor within organisation protocols

2.4 Adapt techniques or arrangements in case of patient refusal or inability to comply as recommended in the individualised care support plan

2.5 Recognise signs that indicate an oral health problem, including distress or behaviours of concern, especially in patients unable to articulate their symptoms or concerns

2.6 Develop trust, rapport and respect with the patient and work in an appropriate environment to maintain dignity at an optimal time.

2.7 Ensure patient is in a position which provides visual access to the mouth seeking their assistance to open their own mouth to minimise contact with the mouth and use appropriate infection control procedures

2.8 Provide support for patient's head or chin to enhance visual access without creating discomfort for the patient

3. Assist and support patients in

3.1 Prepare oral hygiene products and aids for use with their identified oral hygiene needs teeth and soft tissue or dentures in an appropriate, safe and patient preferred manner

3.2 Inform patient and/or carer of oral hygiene processes to take place and incorporate toothbrush care

3.3 Provide and record individualised care support or assistance with oral hygiene tasks with consideration of identified patient preferences or risks

3.4 Where appropriate encourage patient to wear, insert and remove own dentures in line with care plan and support and assist patients with care of dentures

3.5 Update knowledge of techniques to improve oral hygiene practices and modified oral hygiene methods and aids

4. Recognise and report changes in patient oral hygiene requirements

4.1 Regularly review and document oral hygiene techniques being used to ensure oral health is maintained according to the oral health care plan

4.2 Identify variations in oral hygiene support requirements and report to supervisor any concerns to arise during patient contact

4.3 Consult with patient and supervisor to identify required changes to procedures and oral health products and aids

4.4 Maintain and file documentation using relevant technology

 - patient oral health information
 - psychological issues, such as fear of being seen without dentures or persisting with ill-fitting dentures for satisfaction of others
 - salivary function
 - smoking
 - social and cultural determinants of health
 - susceptible tooth surfaces
 - transmission of bacteria particularly from family/carer to child
 - teeth misalignment causing trauma to teeth
 - trauma to the mouth as a result of an accident
- individualised care support plans, including terminology
- mobility and dexterity issues exhibited by patients and the impact this may have on oral hygiene
- oral side effects of medications, such as metallic taste in the mouth and ulcers
- dry mouth syndrome (xerostomia) related to conditions such as diabetes and ageing

- organisation requirements for documentation and report writing
- own work role and responsibilities in provision of oral hygiene
- personal safety and security risks associated with provision of oral hygiene care support and strategies to minimise risks
- principles and practices in undertaking technical skills associated with supporting or assisting people to meet oral hygiene care needs
- principles and practices of confidentiality, privacy, respect and dignity
- processes and strategies to support people with, and provide, oral hygiene care needs
- role of carers and substitute decision makers in relation to oral hygiene decisions and support
- roles of oral health practitioners
- significance of service setting, including specific contexts of supporting oral hygiene care needs in a patient care setting and in a patient's private home
- signs and symptoms of an allergic reaction
- the interaction between oral health and general health
- oral hygiene products and aids for teeth and soft tissue may include:
 - alcohol-free mouthwash directed by an oral health practitioner as part of an oral health care plan
 - fluoride toothpaste
 - interdental brushes
 - manual and electric toothbrushes
 - modified toothbrushes
 - mouth props (if trained in their use)
 - saliva substitutes
 - soft toothbrush suitable for bending
 - specialised aids
 - sprays
 - sugar-free gums
 - tongue scraper
 - tooth remineralising agent
- oral hygiene products and aids for dentures may include:
 - denture adhesive
 - denture brush
 - denture disinfection product
 - denture labelling kit
 - denture soaking products
 - denture-friendly cleaner
 - named denture storage container (disposable or non-disposable)
- techniques to improve oral hygiene practices may include:
 - bridging:

- engages patients senses of sight, sound and touch by mimicking brushing of own teeth to provide physical prompt
- place brightly coloured toothbrush in patient's preferred hand to mirror behaviour
- chaining:
 - bring patients hand and toothbrush to their mouth, describing activity and encouraging the patient to continue unaided
- hand over hand:
 - using a hand over patient's hand to start brushing patient's teeth in unison
- distraction:
 - use of a familiar item, such as towel, cushion or activity board, in patient's hand while brushing their teeth
- rescuing:
 - attempts at oral hygiene are not successful and assistance is required
- modified oral hygiene methods and aids, may include:
 - appropriate alcohol-free mouthwash and gel
 - backward bent toothbrush, or similar implement to retract cheek while brushing with another toothbrush
 - bite block
 - end tufted brush
 - flossers
 - hand grip on toothbrush for patients with reduced grip strength
 - high fluoride toothpaste applied onto teeth instead of brushing as a short term alternative only
 - mouth props for patients who clench or bite or who have difficulty opening mouth (specific training required)
 - mouth spray
 - mouth swabs
 - saliva substitute
 - suction swabs
 - tongue scraper and/or brush

Assessment Conditions

Skills and knowledge must be demonstrated in the workplace with the addition of simulations and scenarios where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely.

The following aspect of the performance evidence for the provision of oral hygiene must have been demonstrated using 10 simulations scenarios covering a range of different people and complexities prior to demonstration in the workplace or with members of the general public:

- performed effective oral hygiene practices

The following conditions must be met for this unit

- use of suitable equipment and resources, including:
 - age related oral health care resources
 - appropriate personal protective equipment (PPE)
 - Dental board of Australia – dental guidelines on infection control, on which the planning process is based
 - oral hygiene placebo products and aids for teeth and soft tissue
 - oral hygiene products and aids for dentures or oral hygiene self-care aids
- modelling of industry operating conditions, including access to people for the simulated scenarios

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

select most suitable tools and approach

1.4 Comply with directions of screening tool instructions, guidelines and/or training approved by the oral health sector

1.5 Use screening tool to question patients about their oral health and take into account specific individual issues

1.6 Demonstrate an understanding of existing health conditions and impacts on oral health

2. Follow screening tool questioning, observation and recording requirements

2.1 Record and document observations about patient's oral health in appropriate format according to tool and organisation guidelines

2.2 Consult with other health personnel where necessary to confirm or clarify screening results, and record processes and outcomes

2.3 Interpret findings based on screening results and report results to health practitioner or oral health team

2.4 Document reporting processes, use information from patient and/or carer and own observations

3. Review screening process and referral outcomes

3.1 Address identified needs for oral health education and/or assessment in consultation with others and refer where necessary

3.2 Where appropriate, discuss with patients and other relevant stakeholders any issues or obstacles relating to referrals made

3.3 Where screening was unsuccessful report and follow up appropriately

3.4 Clarify screening effectiveness by obtaining feedback from patients and other relevant stakeholders and identify any issues in own use of screening tool/s

Foundation Skills

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 2.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Minimal changes to the elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment including volume and frequency requirements.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be demonstrated evidence that the candidate has completed the following tasks at least once:

- communicated effectively with 5 patients to establish a relationship of trust to provide oral health information, including gaining patient's understanding of how the oral health screening tools are used
- used relevant endorsed oral health screening tool/s and techniques on 5 different patients, including:
 - interpreting and reporting results
 - documentation of findings
 - referral of patients as required

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- how to use the relevant endorsed oral health screening tool/s and techniques including:
 - preparation of screening tools
 - communication strategies to aid in screening instrument questioning
 - evaluation of tool effectiveness

- follow-up on unsuccessful screening
- oral health screening instruments and ways to respond to the results, including:
 - referral pathways and processes
 - screening tools, procedures and associated rationale for use
 - workplace policies, procedures and programs for screening
- relevant state/territory and national government policy, programs and reporting processes for oral health

Assessment Conditions

Skills must have been demonstrated in the workplace or in a simulated environment that reflects workplace conditions. Where simulation is used, it must reflect real working conditions by modelling industry operating conditions and contingencies, as well as, using suitable facilities, equipment and resources.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required by practitioners working specifically in rural, remote and isolated areas and/or facilities that have knowledge and experience in oral health care, to apply fluoride varnish in line with prescribed treatment as outlined in an individualised oral health care plan and in accordance with relevant jurisdictional, legislative and regulatory requirements.

The unit applies to registered Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander health practitioners, registered nurses and registered enrolled nurses in primary health care settings in rural, remote and isolated areas where the work roles may require the application of fluoride varnish.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand standards for maintaining infection control, and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

1. Prepare for the application of fluoride varnish

1.1 Check scope of own work role to ensure it includes application of fluoride varnish as advised by an authorised oral health practitioner in an individualised

ELEMENTPERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements define the essential outcomes

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

oral health care plan

1.2 Confirm the patient's oral health care plan, developed by an oral health practitioner, specifically includes the application of fluoride varnish and that there are no contraindications to this procedure

1.3 Confirm consent

1.4 Explain fluoride varnish application procedure to patient and/or family/carer and check their understanding of the benefits of fluoride varnish, need for regular applications, and the risks associated with fluoride varnish

1.5 Explain the advantages and disadvantages of fluoride varnish over other procedures

1.6 Prepare fluoride varnish kit and personal protective equipment (PPE) as required

2. Apply fluoride varnish to teeth

2.1 Position the patient for safety and comfort

2.2 Use PPE in accordance with infection control policies and procedures throughout procedure

2.3 Prepare teeth for fluoride varnish application in accordance with product instructions and application protocols

2.4 Dispense appropriate amount of fluoride varnish

2.5 Apply fluoride varnish in correct manner with applicator to teeth as recommended in the oral health care plan

3. Provide information to patient and/or family/carer about post-application advice and follow up requirements

3.1 Advise patient and/or family/carer of the importance of following instructions and recommended guidelines for eating, drinking fluids and brushing/cleaning teeth following fluoride varnish application

3.2 Inform patient and/or family/carer of any expected short term changes in tooth appearance or sensation, including colour, feel or taste

3.3 Provide post-application information to patient and/or family/carer in both verbal and written or picture formats

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

as appropriate to their individual needs or preferences

3.4 Ensure patient and/or family/carer understand oral health practitioner's recommended schedule for ongoing application in line with their individualised oral health care plan

4. Record and document information about the application

4.1 Record and document details of the application undertaken, information provided and any concerns arising during contact with patient and/or family/carer

4.2 Use relevant technology to complete documentation according to organisation's policies and procedures

Foundation Skills

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Assessment Requirements for HLTOHC006 Apply fluoride varnish

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 2.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Significant changes to the elements and performance criteria. Removed pre-requisite. New evidence requirements for assessment including volume and frequency requirements.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- applied fluoride varnish safely and effectively to 5 people in line with product guidelines, jurisdictional legislation and regulation relating to fluoride schedule, supply, authorisation and disposal, including:
 - prepared self and the client using personal protective equipment against risks associated with the use of fluoride varnish
 - identified and responded to risks associated with applying fluoride varnish
 - evaluated own capabilities in the application of fluoride varnish skills

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- fluoride varnish refers to:
 - a highly concentrated form of fluoride which is applied to tooth's surface as a type of topical fluoride therapy. may be applied to enamel, dentine or cementum of tooth and can be used to help prevent decay, remineralise tooth surface and treat dentine hypersensitivity
 - not permanent varnish but due to adherent nature will stay in contact with tooth surface for several hours

- accessibility to services, including availability of private and public oral health services and eligibility for services
- awareness of relevant jurisdictional legislation and regulation relating to fluoride, including schedule, supply, authorisation and disposal
- application of fluoride varnish in the correct manner refers to:
 - keeping client mouth open
 - maintaining moisture control
 - retracting lip and cheek, wiping and applying a thin layer of varnish to the teeth as prescribed in the oral health care plan
 - ensuring varnish is applied without contact with other tissues
 - never dispensing product in excess to that stated in the oral health care plan
- how to reflect on own level of knowledge to achieve desirable outcomes and maintain own capabilities
- awareness of risks associated with fluoride varnish
- basic anatomy and physiology underpinning oral health and hygiene
- causes and prevention of common dental diseases especially dental caries
- common equipment utilised in the application of fluoride
- effective self-care practices for oral health, including cause, control and prevention of dental plaque
- emergency procedures that may be required during the application of fluoride varnish
- factors that impact on oral health, including:
 - abuse (neglect of oral health needs)
 - access to dental and health services
 - alcohol, licit and illicit drugs and substances over the counter and herbal treatments
 - bacteria in dental plaque
 - correct infant feeding practices
 - damage from habitual grinding of teeth
 - diet and nutrition, including fluids and excessive intake of sugar
 - fluoride
 - general health and wellbeing
 - immunosuppressant conditions, HIV, chemotherapy and radiation
 - injury to mouth, such as from a seizure
 - medical history
 - oral piercings
 - patient oral health information
 - presence of plaque and calculus
 - psychological issues, such as fear of being seen without dentures or persisting with ill-fitting dentures for satisfaction of others
 - salivary function
 - smoking
 - social and cultural determinants of health

- susceptible tooth surfaces
- transmission of bacteria particularly from family/carer to child
- teeth misalignment causing trauma to teeth
- trauma to the mouth as a result of an accident
- work health and safety (WHS) issues and procedures, including those related to manual handling of fluoride varnish and personal safety and security risks associated with provision of fluoride varnish application
- own work role and responsibilities in the application of fluoride varnish
- principles and practices of confidentiality, privacy and consent of fluoride treatment
- evaluation criteria for monitoring effectiveness of fluoride varnish application program
- role of significant others in supporting patient's oral health care needs
- safe application of fluoride varnish
- safe storage of products
- relationship between oral health and general health

Assessment Conditions

Skills and knowledge must be demonstrated in the workplace with the addition of simulations and scenarios where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely.

The following aspect of the performance evidence must have been demonstrated using simulation prior to demonstration in the workplace or with members of the general public

- apply fluoride varnish safely and effectively

Note: Where state/territory legislation prevents practice in the workplace, simulated assessment environments may only be used in place of workplace assessment.

The following conditions must be met for this unit

- use of suitable equipment and resources, including:
 - appropriate personal protective equipment (PPE)
 - oral hygiene self-care aids and technique
 - placebo fluoride varnish
 - specialised equipment utilised in the application of fluoride varnish
 - modelling of industry operating conditions, including access to people for the simulated scenarios

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Release 2	Release 2 HLTOHC007 Recognise and respond to oral health issues supersedes and is equivalent to Release 1 HLTOHC007 Recognise and respond to oral health issues. Updated: Mapping details and minor corrections.
Release 1	HLTOHC007 Recognise and respond to oral health issues supersedes and is not equivalent to HLTOHC001 Recognise and respond to oral health issues.

Application

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to identify variations and recognise oral health issues through a visual check, observation of patient behaviour and habits, signs and symptoms and physical condition of patients. This enables the candidate to respond appropriately to the clinical findings to initiate follow up oral health care.

This unit applies to workers in a range of health and community services environments where their work role requires them to recognise and respond to oral health issues.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian standards and industry codes of practice.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Pre-requisite Unit

Nil

Competency Field

Nil

Unit Sector

Oral Health

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes

1. Identify variations in patient behaviour and habits.

2. Undertake basic visual oral check and questioning.

3. Follow up and promote ongoing oral health care.

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1.1. Identify opportunities to observe patient behaviour, physical functions, capabilities and habits that may indicate oral health issues or associated pain or discomfort.

1.2. Observe, listen for self-reports and question patient, family or carer to determine whether the patient is experiencing pain or discomfort that may be associated with oral health issues.

1.3. Access relevant information on contributing factors that may produce variation from normal behaviour.

1.4. Apply safe manual handling techniques to support patients with special care needs.

2.1. Obtain consent from the patient, family or carer to conduct basic visual oral check and questioning.

2.2. Ensure comfort of patient by developing trust and rapport, adapting environment based on patient needs.

2.3. Provide support for patient's head or chin if necessary, to enhance visual access without creating discomfort for the patient.

2.4. Seek assistance from patient to open their own mouth to limit hand contact inside the mouth.

2.5. Prepare and perform basic visual oral checks in line with own work role and use of standard precautions.

2.6. Identify signs and symptoms of oral health issues that may indicate variation from normal and actively listen to and be aware of self-reports.

3.1. Complete documentation and reporting processes, using information from patient and family or carer or other relevant people as well as own observations in relation to oral health issues.

3.2. Discuss oral health issues with patient and family or carer in line with organisational policies and procedures and respecting patient priorities and choices.

3.3. Take appropriate action within work role, including liaising with supervisor in consultation with patient to ensure

- appropriate referral occurs.
- 3.4. Use focussed communication strategies to provide information relevant to promoting and maintaining good oral health.
 - 3.5. Provide instruction to support patients to take a self-care approach to oral health in line with individual needs where possible.
 - 3.6. Identify and address key barriers to management or self-management of oral health.
 - 3.7. Review and monitor oral health issues.

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- perform a visual oral health check on five different patients, including:
 - identifying any signs and symptoms related to oral health care issues
 - gathering relevant information from visual check and questioning to initiate appropriate follow up oral health care
 - using safe manual handling techniques as required when working with patients with special care needs.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- basic anatomy and physiology underpinning oral health, including what is considered healthy and unhealthy
- patient behaviour and habits which contribute to oral health issues
- causes and prevention of tooth decay, gum disease and tooth wear, including erosion, abrasion and attrition
- effective self-care practices for oral health including cause, control and prevention of dental plaque

- State or Territory and national government policy and programs and reporting processes for oral health accessibility to services, including availability of private and public oral health services, including eligibility for services.
- role of oral health professionals
- factors that impact on oral health, including:
 - abuse including neglect of oral health needs
 - access to dental and health services
 - alcohol, licit and illicit drugs and substances, over the counter and herbal treatments
 - correct infant feeding practices
 - damage from habitual grinding of teeth
 - diet and nutrition, including fluids and excessive intake of sugar

 - susceptible tooth surfaces
 - transmission of bacteria particularly from family or carer to child
 - teeth misalignment causing trauma to teeth
 - trauma to mouth as a result of an accident
- communication strategies that focus on patient needs including mental health and disabilities
- safe manual handling techniques
- organisational policies and procedures for:
 - patient privacy
 - confidentiality of patient information and disclosure
 - documentation and reporting
- healthy eating recommendations as identified in the National Health and Medical Research Council's (NHMRC) Australian dietary guidelines.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in the workplace with the addition of simulations and scenarios where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely.

The following aspect of the performance evidence must have been demonstrated using ten simulation scenarios prior to demonstration in the workplace or with members of the general public:

- performing a visual oral health check

Assessment must ensure:

- access to suitable equipment and resources, including:
 - appropriate personal protective equipment (PPE)
- access to current Dental board of Australia (DBA) and Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA) guidelines and practice standards
- access to current Dental Board of Australia (DBA) infection control and record keeping guidelines
- access to National Health and Medical Research Council's (NHMRC) Australian dietary guidelines
- access to organisational policies and procedures for:
 - patient privacy
 - confidentiality of patient information and disclosure
 - documentation and reporting
- modelling of industry operating conditions including access to people for simulations and scenarios in oral health care work.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required for a worker to participate in safe work practices to ensure their own health and safety, and that of others in work environments that involve caring directly for clients. It has a focus on maintaining safety of the worker, the people being supported and other community members.

This unit applies to all workers who require knowledge of workplace health and safety (WHS) to carry out their own work, in both centre-based and home-based service provision.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand standards and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Follow safe work practices for direct client care

- 1.1 Follow workplace policies and procedures for safe work practices
- 1.2 Identify existing and potential hazards in the workplace, report them to designated persons, and record them according to workplace procedures
- 1.3 Identify any client-related risk factors or behaviours of concern, report them to designated persons, and record them according to workplace procedures
- 1.4 Follow workplace policies and procedures to minimise risk
- 1.5 Identify and report incidents and injuries to designated persons according to workplace procedures

2. Follow safe work practices for manual handling

- 2.1 Follow manual handling procedures and work instructions for minimising manual handling risk
- 2.2 Identify manual handling hazards and report in line with workplace procedures
- 2.3 Apply control measures for minimising manual handling risk

3. Follow safe work practices for infection control

- 3.1 Follow standard precautions as part of own work routine to prevent the spread of infection
- 3.2 Recognise situations when additional infection control procedures are required
- 3.3 Apply additional precautions when standard precautions alone may not be sufficient to prevent transmission of infection
- 3.4 Identify risks of infection and report them according to workplace procedures

4. Contribute to safe work practices in the workplace

- 4.1 Raise WHS issues with designated persons according to organisational procedures
- 4.2 Participate in workplace safety meetings, inspections and consultative activities

ELEMENTPERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements define the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

- hazard identification, including:
 - definition of a hazard
 - common workplace hazards relevant to the industry setting including hazardous manual tasks, infection control risks and personal safety risks
 - workplace procedures for hazard identification
 - strategies minimising risk
- safety considerations when working in a home-based environment, including:
 - rights and responsibilities of workers and clients
 - basic home fire safety including high-risk groups, behaviour that contributes to fire injury and fatalities, and smoke alarm placement, installation and maintenance.
 - risks to personal safety
 - common sources of infection and means to minimise transfer of infectious diseases
 - fundamentals of the musculoskeletal system and practices to minimise injury to self and clients
- workplace emergency procedures
- workplace policies and procedures for WHS

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated:

- in the workplace

OR

- in an environment that provides realistic in-depth industry validated scenarios and simulations to assess candidates' skills and knowledge.

In addition, assessment must ensure use of:

- current workplace policies and procedures for WHS
- PPE relevant to the workplace and job role of the worker

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to implement and monitor work health and safety (WHS) policies, procedures and work practices as part of a small work team.

This unit applies to workers who have a key role in maintaining WHS in an organisation, including duty of care for other workers.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand standards and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

ELEMENTPERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements define the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria specify the level of performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1. Contribute to workplace procedures for identifying hazards and controlling risks

1.1 Identify existing and potential hazards and record them according to workplace procedures

1.2 Contribute to the development of strategies for implementing risk controls in line with workplace procedures and policies

1.3 Implement risk controls in line with the hierarchy of risk control and workplace and legislative requirements

1.4 Identify and report issues with risk controls, including residual risk, in line with workplace and legislative requirements

2. Implement policies and procedures into work team processes

2.1 Regularly provide information about WHS policies and procedures to the work team

2.2 Provide information about identified hazards and the outcomes of risk assessment and risk controls to the work team

2.3 Monitor housekeeping practices to ensure that WHS policies and procedures are followed

2.4 Maintain WHS incident records in the work area according to workplace procedures and legislative requirements

3. Support consultation, cooperation and communication

3.1 Support workplace consultative procedures by encouraging work team participation in consultative activities

3.2 Report health and safety issues in line with workplace procedures and legislative requirements

3.3 Encourage and assist work team members to contribute to WHS

Foundation Skills

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

- Written communication – in order to complete a workplace risk assessment and complete a workplace incident report in line with regulatory guidelines and organisational policies
- Oral communication – in order to accurately present information to a small group of at least two participants

The remaining foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role.

There must be demonstrated evidence that the candidate has completed the following tasks at least once in line with state/territory WHS regulations, relevant codes of practice and workplace procedures:

- conducted a workplace risk assessment and recorded the results, including:
 - identification of hazards and potential hazards
 - risk assessment
 - strategies for minimising risk, and
 - analysis of residual risk
- provided WHS information to at least two workers, including:
 - explanation of WHS policies and procedures
 - demonstration of safe housekeeping practices
 - correct use of personal protective equipment (PPE)

- consistently monitored safety procedures in the day-to-day work activities required by the job role
- completed a workplace incident report
- followed workplace procedures for a simulated emergency situation

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- State/territory legislation and how it impacts on workplace regulations, codes of practice and industry standards, including:
 - state/territory WHS authorities
 - rights and responsibilities of persons conducting a business or undertaking (PCBUs), officers and workers, including duty of care
 - legislative requirements for record-keeping and reporting
 - regulatory requirements relevant to the particular industry/type of work site
 - hazardous manual tasks
 - infection control
- Hazards common to the work environment and how they cause harm
- Principles of hazards and risk assessment, including:
 - hazard identification procedures
 - risk assessment process
 - residual risk
 - risk controls
 - hierarchy of control
- Workplace emergency procedures
- Workplace policies and procedures for WHS.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in the workplace.

In addition, simulations and scenarios must be used where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely. These are situations relating to emergency or unplanned procedures where assessment in these circumstances would be unsafe or is impractical.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate the real-life working environment where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that working environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- current workplace policies and procedures for WHS.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

New evidence requirements for assessment including volume and frequency requirements.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to maintain health and wellbeing by preventing and managing personal stress.

This unit applies to work in a range of health and community services settings, in particular work roles that operate in high stress situations and circumstances.

The skills in this unit must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian/New Zealand standards and industry codes of practice.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT

Elements define the essential outcomes

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element

1. Develop strategies to manage personal stress

- 1.1 Recognise sources of stress in own job role
- 1.2 Recognise triggers and own response to stress
- 1.3 Identify strategies to effectively prevent, reduce and manage stress
- 1.4 Identify internal and external options and resources for additional support

1.5 Develop a personal stress management plan that responds to identified stressors and triggers

2. Implement stress management strategies

2.1 Use strategies from personal stress management plan that address personal triggers and stressors

2.2 Organise own workload to minimise stress and inform relevant personnel of any variations and difficulties affecting work requirements

2.3 Identify and adopt strategies to balance work/life priorities

3. Evaluate stress reducing strategies

3.1 Monitor and review effectiveness of stress management strategies

3.2 Adjust strategies not meeting the desired outcome and recognise when additional resources and/or support is needed

3.3 Access internal or external options and resources for additional support to meet desired outcomes of the stress management plan

Foundation Skills

The Foundation Skills describe those required skills (language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills) that are essential to performance.

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- developed, implemented and reviewed 1 personal stress management plan that includes identified sources, triggers and responses to stress
- used strategies from personal stress management plan to manage 2 stressful situations in the workplace involving colleagues and/or clients

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- sources of stress and how they manifest in health and/or community services work environment including:
 - complex client behaviour (emotional, aggressive, cognitive deficit, non-compliance)
 - grief and loss experienced by workers
 - exposure to stressful working conditions and stressful incidents
- work planning and prioritisation techniques e.g. time management strategies
- legal rights relating to the Fair Work Act
- services available for referral, both within the organisation and in the community e.g. informal/formal debriefing sessions and/or workplace counselling

- self-care techniques including:
 - impact of exercise, diet and nutrition on physical health
 - work/life balance strategies
 - complementary and alternative health options

Assessment Conditions

Skills must have been demonstrated in the workplace or in a simulated environment that reflects workplace conditions. Where simulation is used, it must reflect real working conditions by modelling industry operating conditions and contingencies, as well as, using suitable facilities, equipment and resources.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Assessment Requirements for ICTWEB201 Use social media tools for collaboration and engagement

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with ICT Information and Communications Technology Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- identify different types of social media tools and applications, and the issues associated with their use
- access the internet, set up a social networking presence and upload and link a wide variety of files
- use and evaluate social media tools and applications.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- list basic technical terminology in relation to social networking, social media applications, and tools
- outline basic methods of uploading images, text files, portable document format (PDF) files, audio files, video files, and link the associated files
- state the features, and functions, of social media applications
- list import and export software functions
- explain how to link documents
- explain the process of tagging, in order to facilitate collaborative folksonomy
- list social media applications and procedures, for connecting to social networking sites
- identify and describe, input and output devices
- describe, and use, really simple syndication (RSS) feeds to connect a social network.

Assessment Conditions

Gather evidence to demonstrate consistent performance in conditions that are safe and replicate the workplace. Noise levels, production flow, interruptions and time variances must be typical of those experienced in the website technologies field of work, and include access to:

- a personal computer (PC) and printer
- the internet
- social-media tools and applications
- online instructional documents.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

LGADMIN423A Provide induction and orientation for new employees

Modification History

LGADMIN423A Release 2: Layout adjusted.

LGADMIN423A Release 1: Primary release.

Unit Descriptor

This unit covers developing, conducting and evaluating induction and orientation programs for new employees. The unit is suitable for those within the human resources area but could also be suitable for team leaders and managers.

Application of the Unit

This unit supports the attainment of skills and knowledge required for competent workplace performance in councils of all sizes. Knowledge of the legislation and regulations within which councils must operate is essential. The unique nature of councils, as a tier of government directed by elected members and reflecting the needs of local communities, must be appropriately reflected.

Licensing/Regulatory Information

Not applicable.

Pre-Requisites

Not applicable.

Employability Skills Information

This unit contains employability skills.

Elements and Performance Criteria Pre-Content

Elements describe the essential outcomes of a Unit of Competency

Performance criteria describe the required performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the Range Statement. Assessment of performance is to be consistent with the Evidence Guide.

1. Develop induction processes	1.1 Existing induction processes and procedures are identified and evaluated based on current and future needs of the organisation. 1.2 Consultation is undertaken with business units and other key stakeholders in developing processes and procedures. 1.3 Relevant information and organisational requirements are utilised in preparing induction documentation. 1.4 Content and methodology for induction processes are developed and documented. 1.5 Forms, procedures and induction processes are trialled and measured against objectives. 1.6 Processes and procedures are integrated with other key human resources function areas.
2. Manage induction of staff	2.1 Training and assistance are provided where required to all persons engaged in inducting staff. 2.2 Induction is undertaken in accordance with the induction plan. 2.3 Implementation of the induction is monitored against the induction plan. 2.4 Induction activities are coordinated in accordance with the induction plan. 2.5 Participant progress and the extent to which the induction process is meeting its objectives are monitored through feedback from participants and other relevant persons.
3. Evaluate induction processes	3.1 A reliable and valid evaluation methodology is developed and implemented. 3.2 Information from a variety of sources is collected and analysed in order to determine the effectiveness and efficiency of the induction process. 3.3 The evaluation methodology allows for the organisation's process to be compared with other models of good practice in induction. 3.4 Recommendations on modifications or enhancements are formulated for future revision of induction processes.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This describes the essential skills and knowledge and their level, required for this unit

Required Skills

- effective consultation with stakeholders
- internal marketing and promotion
- project management and evaluation skills
- negotiation skills
- using a variety of words and language structures to explain complex ideas to different audiences
- interpreting and explaining complex formal documents and assisting others to apply them in the workplace
- written advice and reports requiring reasoning and precision of expression
- discussion using exchange of complex oral information
- cross-cultural, gender and disability competency

Required Knowledge

- legislation from all levels of government that affects business operation, especially in regard to occupational health and safety, environmental and sustainability issues, equal opportunity, industrial relations and anti-discrimination
- relevant terms and conditions of employment
- induction methods
- employee contracts
- industrial relations systems
- understanding of the concept of diversity
- equal employment opportunity
- terms and conditions of employment
- human resource policies and practices
- familiarity with models of good practice in induction
- range of evaluation methodology

Evidence Guide

Overview of assessment requirements

A person who demonstrates competency in this unit will be able to perform the outcomes described in the Elements to the required performance level detailed in the Performance Criteria. The knowledge and skill requirements described in the Range Statement must also be demonstrated. For example, knowledge of the legislative framework and safe work practices that underpin the performance of the unit are also required to be demonstrated.

Critical aspects of evidence to be considered

The demonstrated ability to:

- develop induction processes and procedures that meet the organisation's objectives and are integrated with other key human resource functions
- establish effective induction processes that facilitate the provision of information matched to organisational needs

Context of assessment

Competency is demonstrated by performance of all stated criteria, with particular attention to the critical aspects and the knowledge and skills elaborated in the Evidence Guide, and within the scope of the Range Statement.

Assessment must take account of the endorsed Assessment Guidelines in the Local Government Training Package.

Assessment of performance requirements in this unit should be undertaken in an actual workplace or simulated environment.

Assessment should reinforce the integration of the key competencies for the particular AQF level. Refer to the key competency levels at the end of this unit.

Relationship to other units (prerequisite or co-requisite units)

To enable holistic assessment this unit may be assessed with other units that form part of the job role.

Method of assessment

The following assessment methods are suggested:

- observation of the learner performing a range of workplace tasks over sufficient time to demonstrate handling of a range of contingencies
- written and/or oral questioning to assess knowledge and understanding
- completion of workplace documentation
- third-party reports from experienced practitioners
- completion of self-paced learning materials including personal reflection and feedback from trainer, coach or supervisor

Evidence required for demonstration of consistent performance

Evidence should be collected over a set period of time that is sufficient to include dealings with an appropriate range and variety of formal and informal situations, involving different types of problems and clients.

Resource implications

The learner and trainer should have access to appropriate documentation and resources normally used in the workplace.

Range Statement

The Range Statement relates to the Unit of Competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording in the Performance Criteria is detailed below.

PSPETH001 Uphold the values and principles of public service

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in PSP Public Sector Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to PSPETHC301B Uphold the values and principles of public service. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice

Application

This unit describes the skills required to demonstrate ethical conduct required of those in public service. It includes applying ethical standards and dealing with ethical problems.

This unit applies to those working in public sector roles but may be applied to anyone working in a similar organisational context.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

Those undertaking this unit will generally work independently and as part of a team. They would perform routine tasks in a range of familiar contexts.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.

- legislation, regulations, organisational policies, procedures and guidelines relating to conflict in the public sector workplace
- types of conflict in the workplace and typical causes
- conflict theory including signs, stages, levels, factors involved, results
- group processes and roles people play
- organisational structures and workplace culture
- different social and cultural practices
- conflict resolution skills and strategies
- personal power and positional power
- grievance procedures in the public sector
- equal employment opportunity, equity and diversity principles
- public sector legislation such as occupational health and safety and environment in the context of conflict resolution

Evidence Guide

The Evidence Guide specifies the evidence required to demonstrate achievement in the unit of competency as a whole. It must be read in conjunction with the Unit descriptor, Performance Criteria, the Range Statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Public Sector Training Package.

Units to be assessed together

- Pre-requisite units that must be achieved prior to this unit: Nil
- Co-requisite units that must be assessed with this unit: Nil
- Co-assessed units that may be assessed with this unit to increase the efficiency and realism of the assessment process include, but are not limited to:
 - PSPETHC401A Uphold and support the values and principles of public service
 - PSPGOV405B Provide input to change processes
 - PSPGOV406B Gather and analyse information
 - PSPGOV408A Value diversity
 - PSPGOV412A Use advanced workplace communication strategies
 - PSPGOV417A Identify and treat risks
 - PSPLEGN401A Encourage compliance with legislation in the public sector
 - PSPOHS401B Implement workplace safety procedures and programs

Overview of evidence requirements

In addition to integrated demonstration of the elements and their related performance criteria, look for evidence that confirms:

- the knowledge requirements of this unit
- the skill requirements of this unit
- application of Employability Skills as they relate to this unit
- conflict dealt with in a range of (3 or more) contexts (or occasions, over time)

Resources required to carry out assessment

These resources include:

- legislation, policy, procedures and protocols relating to conflict management in the public sector
- grievance procedures in the public sector
- strategies and guidelines for dealing with workplace conflict
- case studies and workplace scenarios to capture the range of situations likely to be encountered when dealing with conflict

Where and how to assess evidence

Valid assessment of this unit requires:

- a workplace environment or one that closely resembles normal work practice and replicates the range of conditions likely to be encountered when dealing with conflict in the workplace, including coping with difficulties, irregularities and breakdowns in routine
- conflict dealt with in a range of (3 or more) contexts (or occasions, over time).

Assessment methods should reflect workplace demands, such as literacy, and the needs of particular groups, such as:

- people with disabilities
- people from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds
- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people
- women
- young people
- older people
- people in rural and remote locations.

Assessment methods suitable for valid and reliable assessment of this competency may include, but are not limited to, a combination of 2 or more of:

- case studies
- portfolios
- questioning
- scenarios
- simulation or role plays
- authenticated evidence from the workplace and/or training courses

For consistency of assessment

Evidence must be gathered over time in a range of contexts to ensure the person can achieve the unit outcome and apply the competency in different situations or environments

Range Statement

The Range Statement provides information about the context in which the unit of competency is carried out. The variables cater for differences between States and Territories and the Commonwealth, and between organisations and workplaces. They allow for different work requirements, work practices and knowledge. The Range Statement also provides a focus for assessment. It relates to the unit as a whole. Text in bold italics in the Performance Criteria is explained here.

Overview of evidence requirements

In addition to integrated demonstration of the elements and their related performance criteria, look for evidence that confirms:

- the knowledge requirements of this unit
- the skill requirements of this unit
- application of Employability Skills as they relate to this unit
- provision of workplace mentoring in a range of (3 or more) contexts (or occasions, over time)

Resources required to carry out assessment

These resources include:

- legislation, policy, procedures and protocols relating to the provision of workplace mentoring, including organisation-specific documents where possible
- current workplace mentoring methodologies and strategies
- case studies and workplace scenarios to capture the range of mentoring situations likely to be encountered in the public sector

Where and how to assess evidence

Valid assessment of this unit requires:

- a workplace environment or one that closely resembles normal work practice and replicates the range of conditions likely to be encountered when providing workplace mentoring, including coping with difficulties, irregularities and breakdowns in routine
- provision of workplace mentoring in a range of (3 or more) contexts (or occasions, over time)

Assessment methods should reflect workplace demands, such as literacy, and the needs of particular groups, such as:

- people with disabilities
- people from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds
- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people
- women
- young people
- older people
- people in rural and remote locations.

Assessment methods suitable for valid and reliable assessment of this competency may include, but are not limited to, a combination of 2 or more of:

- case studies
- portfolios
- projects
- questioning
- scenarios
- simulation or role plays
- authenticated evidence from the workplace and/or training courses

For consistency of assessment

Evidence must be gathered over time in a range of contexts to ensure the person can achieve the unit outcome and apply the competency in different situations or environments

Range Statement

The Range Statement provides information about the context in which the unit of competency is carried out. The variables cater for differences between States and Territories and the Commonwealth, and between organisations and workplaces. They allow for different work requirements, work practices and knowledge. The Range Statement also provides a focus for assessment. It relates to the unit as a whole. - legislation and organisational policies and procedures to enable safe conduct of all activities
- basic adventure-based learning cycle to enable appropriate sequencing of activities and debriefing
- facilitation approaches and activities applicable to a range of needs, ages and learning abilities to enhance learning outcomes
- theories on the transfer of learning and ways of transferring learning in different contexts to meet individual and group needs
- physical and psychological needs of participants to plan suitable adventure-based activities
- factors affecting participant's perception of risk to plan activities with a balance between real and perceived risk
- models and stages of group formation to enable effective and constructive group support
- factors impacting on group dynamics to enable response to group behaviour
- motivation techniques and strategies to keep participants engaged and challenged
- forms of reflective learning and facilitation to improve on various aspects of adventure-based learning activities and programming
- adventure environments, equipment and resources required to facilitate adventure-based learning activities.

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the following is essential:

- plans and designs a sequence of adventure activities according to individual and group learning outcomes, needs and goals
- interacts effectively with group members from diverse backgrounds and facilitates adventure-based learning activities which evidence positive group dynamics
- monitors individual and group progression throughout activities and implements contingency plans where required
- evaluates and reflects on own performance as a facilitator to identify strengths, weaknesses and areas that need improvement.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Assessment must ensure facilitation of adventure-based learning activities on multiple occasions to enable demonstration of competency and consistency of performance.

Assessment must also ensure access to:

- diverse groups of participants to take part in adventure-based learning activities
- an environment suitable for the conduct of adventure-based activities, this may include outdoor or indoor activities
- equipment and resources required for adventure-based learning activities.

Method of assessment

A range of assessment methods should be used to assess practical skills and knowledge. The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- observation of planning processes, such as determining learning outcomes and assessing participant's needs
- observation of safe facilitation of adventure-based learning programs for a variety of individuals and groups
- oral and or written questioning to assess knowledge of facilitation approaches and activities
- third-party reports from a supervisor and or leader detailing performance.

Holistic assessment with other units relevant to the industry sector, workplace and job role is recommended, for example:

- adventure activity specific units of competency.

Range Statement

 - vocational.
- Relevant legislation may include:
- occupational health and safety
 - permits or permission for access
 - environmental regulations
 - marine regulations.
- Organisational policies and procedures may include:
- occupational health and safety
 - time and budget constraints
 - support personnel
 - use, maintenance and storage of equipment and resources
 - risk management
 - communication protocols
 - minimal impact environmental codes
 - code of ethics.
- Contextual issues may include:
- weather conditions; including times
 - season
 - transport
 - location
 - trip distance and duration
 - group objectives
 - group size.
- Model of adventure or experiential learning may include:
- linear
 - cyclical
 - spiral
 - nested loop.
- Phases within the model may include:
- diagnosis
 - design
 - delivery
 - debriefing
 - detachment.
- Holistic development may include:
- physical
 - emotional
 - social
 - intellectual
 - spiritual.
- Contingency plans may include:
- change in weather and conditions
 - equipment failure
 - unavailability of equipment or suitable site.
- Facilitation approaches may
- funnelling

include:

- cognitive hierarchy
- challenge by choice
- working agreements.

Individual differences may include:

- gender
- language
- age
- life experiences and background
- mental or physical ability

Assessment Requirements for SISXCAI003 Conduct non-instructional sport, fitness or recreation sessions

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- plan and conduct at least ten different sport, fitness or recreation sessions involving:
 - planned tasks, games, activities and exercises of varying durations
 - communication, demonstration and explanation of:
 - content, timing and sequence of activities
 - appropriate apparel and footwear
 - techniques and safe use of equipment
 - warm-up and cool-down techniques
 - activities during sessions
 - potential hazards
- use the following communication skills:
 - clear verbal communication
 - modelling and demonstration
 - motivational techniques
- complete session evaluations:
 - own work performance
 - collection of participant feedback:
 - suitability and safety of facilities and equipment
 - content of session
 - structure and content of the activity or session
 - participant progress.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- basic aspects of legislation related to planning, conducting and evaluating sport, fitness or recreation sessions:
 - work health and safety/occupational health and safety requirements
 - equal opportunity and anti-discrimination

- privacy and confidentiality
- working with children requirements
- organisational policies and procedures related to planning, conducting and evaluating sessions:
 - safety procedures
 - risk analysis processes
 - communication protocols
 - roles and responsibilities of different people, and types of tasks undertaken
 - reporting channels
 - reporting and record keeping
 - frequency and scope of equipment checks
- components of sport, fitness or recreation sessions:
 - objectives
 - equipment
 - time
 - location
 - content
 - order
 - phases: warm-up, conditioning, cool-down
- participant needs:
 - competition or performance targets
 - assist with self-improvement
 - fitness targets
 - lifestyle adjustments
 - social opportunities
- tests and assessments appropriate to preparing for sport, fitness or recreation sessions:
 - interviews
 - past performances
 - medical history
 - physical ability tests
- likely demands of participants and sessions:
 - physical
 - emotional
 - psychological
 - group
 - individuals within groups
 - disability requirements
- resource requirements for sessions:
 - physical
 - human

- financial
- transport and related logistical
- external factors that may affect session outcomes:
 - weather
 - time of day
 - environmental variables
 - condition of site or location
 - participant abilities
- conflict resolution strategies to enable group cohesion and interaction
- equipment specifications, testing and checking techniques to ensure the selection and safe use of appropriate equipment
- evaluation processes to enable improvements to be made to the program.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a sport, fitness or recreation environment with access to required equipment for participants. This can be a workplace or simulated environment.

Assessment must ensure use of:

- up-to-date equipment currently used in the sport, fitness or recreation industries, to ensure:
 - safety, e.g. helmets, head gear, gloves
 - the participant can participate in activities to suit their goals, e.g. racquets, bats, balls
- workplace documents currently used in the sport, fitness or recreation industries:
 - session plans
 - session and equipment checklists
 - participant feedback or evaluation forms
- organisational policies and procedures related to:
 - preparing, conducting and evaluating activity sessions
- activity support personnel and participants in a sport, fitness or recreation activity; support personnel and participants can be:
 - staff and participants in an industry workplace who are assisted by the individual during the assessment process or
 - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- plan and conduct a range of non-instructional sessions for a range of participants over an industry realistic period of time.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

Assessment Requirements for SISXEMR002 Coordinate emergency responses

Modification History

Not applicable.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit in the context of the job role, and:

- identify and assess at least five of the following emergency situations and coordinate the appropriate response:
 - fire
 - hazardous release
 - bomb threat
 - medical
 - accidents
 - panic and other emotional responses
 - equipment failure
 - lost party member
 - changing environmental conditions
 - activity specific
- two of the above situations must include an assessment that identifies possible escalation and an appropriate response actioned for each.
- confirm and supervise the selection and safe use of emergency equipment for each situation.

Knowledge Evidence

Demonstrated knowledge required to complete the tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit:

- legislation to enable application of legal requirements according to own work role and level of responsibility:
 - duty of care
 - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
 - environment protection
 - hazardous substances
 - public health and safety
- organisational emergency policies and procedures related to coordinating emergency responses:

- communication lines
- debrief procedures
- duty of care
- emergency procedures
- environment protection
- exit and assembly points
- hazardous substances and dangerous goods
- industry codes of practice
- reporting incidents
- work health and safety/occupational health and safety
- appropriate responses to emergency situations, as specified in the Performance Evidence
- location and safe use of rescue and emergency equipment and resources:
 - hoses
 - ladders
 - rescue equipment
 - monitors
 - foam equipment and extinguishers
 - blankets
 - spill kits
 - personal protective clothing and equipment
 - salvage gear
 - first aid and evacuation equipment
- the potential for emergency escalation:
 - spread of fire
 - threat to adjoining areas
 - dangers of explosion
 - loss of communications
 - involvement of additional persons
 - deterioration in environmental conditions
- rescue techniques
- emergency response agencies within the activity area and direct communication channels to enable information about an emergency to be communicated quickly and directly
- factors that impact on emergency situations to enable appropriate contingency planning
- behaviour and characteristics of typical emergencies to enable the development of an action plan to quickly and effectively bring the situation under control.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated in:

- a sport, fitness or recreation environment where the individual is exposed to simulated emergencies requiring response. This can be a workplace or simulated environment.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- current industry procedures for reporting and managing emergency situations
- legislation relevant to emergencies:
 - work health and safety/occupational health and safety
 - duty of care
 - environment protection
 - hazardous substances and dangerous goods
 - public health and safety
 - industry codes of practice
- equipment and resources to ensure adequate response to emergencies relevant to work role and workplace
- a variety of clients and/or participants requiring an emergency response, clients and participants can be:
 - clients and participants in a sport, fitness or recreation industry workplace who are assisted by the individual during the assessment process or
 - individuals who participate in role plays or simulated activities, set up for the purpose of assessment, in a simulated industry environment operated within a training organisation.

Assessment activities that allow the individual to:

- coordinate participant movement during emergency situations
- respond to a range of emergencies in a sport, fitness or recreation environment, within the required, but realistic, timeframe.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations' requirements for assessors.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- interpersonal skills to:
 - consult and interact with target groups in the community to elicit information required to determine needs for the service
 - source, interpret and confirm information to inform service planning
 - liaise with appropriate personnel to make suggestions and plan the service
 - seek feedback from service users and staff
 - build relationships with stakeholders
- problem-solving skills to:
 - plan a service according to target group needs
 - assess risk factors
 - modify the service as required
 - assess service outcomes against initial objectives to suggest potential improvements
- planning and organising skills to:
 - source and allocate resources for the service
 - develop and implement a work plan for the service within appropriate timelines
- language and literacy skills to:
 - complete research into user needs
 - produce and document service plans
 - complete documentation in relation to recommendations for improvement
- numeracy skills to develop budgets for service provision and analyse profitability
- self-management skills to review and reflect on own work performance in planning and implementing the service according to participant expectations.

Required knowledge

- legislation to enable:

- safe and equitable delivery of the service to target groups
- safe use of equipment and materials
- organisational policies and procedures to enable safe, satisfactory and beneficial outcomes for all participants
- principles of inclusive practices
- reasons for individual participation in sport, fitness and recreation services to ensure this information is included in planning for service
- risk-analysis processes to evaluate the risk and possible impact of planned sport and recreation services
- activity-specific knowledge of planned sport, fitness and recreation services to ensure services match participants' needs
- cost-benefit analysis techniques
- marketing strategies suitable for target groups
- insurance arrangements to suit the service.

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the ability to:

- plan and provide services within budgetary constraints that reflect the needs of a range of participants in accordance with organisational policies and procedures
- monitor the provision of services and apply effective contingency-management techniques to deal with a range of new or changing situations that may arise, and make adjustments in response to these changing situations
- evaluate and document the outcomes of the service
- make recommendations on services and reflect on own work performance to identify ways in which service outcomes and benefits to participants can be improved.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Assessment must ensure:

- planning, implementation and evaluation of multiple sport, fitness or recreation services to allow the individual to demonstrate competency and consistency of performance.

Assessment must also ensure access to:

- an environment or facility appropriate to the planning and provision of sport, fitness or recreation services

- target groups with specific needs
- appropriate persons to provide approvals
- resources for the service
- organisational documentation relevant to service provision.

Method of assessment

A range of assessment methods should be used to assess practical skills and knowledge. The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- observation of planning and implementing a sport fitness or recreation service
- observation of interacting with a range of target groups to establish service needs
- observation of dealing with contingencies, such as changing circumstances in service provision
- oral and or written questioning to assess knowledge of principles of community development practices
- portfolio containing evidence of work plans for sport, fitness and recreation services and reports on outcomes
- third-party reports from a supervisor detailing appropriate work performed by the individual.

Guidance information for assessment

Holistic assessment with other units relevant to the industry sector, workplace and job role is recommended, for example:

- SISXCCS404A Address client needs.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the individual, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

Target groups may include:

- culturally and linguistically diverse
- age-specific
- disability-specific
- gender-specific.

Services may include:

- major events
- competitions
- educational initiatives
- promotional activities or campaigns
- group or individual programs.

Needs may include:

- cultural

Organisation policies and procedures may include:

- linguistic
- disability specific.
- organisational objectives
- work health and safety
- reporting and accountability
- resource allocation
- emergency procedures.

Relevant legislation may include:

- Occupational Health and Safety (OHS) or Work Health and Safety (WHS)
- equal employment opportunity (EEO)
- privacy
- child protection
- state and territory statutory requirements
- local laws and by-laws
- ordinances and policy.

Work plans may include:

- objectives
- timeframes
- stakeholder requirements
- funding sources and criteria
- administration procedures
- promotion strategies
- risk factors, including:
- ground and facility risks
- equipment risks.

Resources may include:

- staff
- equipment
- venues
- industry associations and peak bodies
- external partners
- volunteers
- documentation.

Budget may include:

- setting fees
- income from other sources
- allocating funds.

New or changing circumstances may include:

- participant numbers
- weather
- facility booking falling through
- equipment failure
- emergencies.

Feedback may include:

- qualitative
- quantitative

- evaluation forms and surveys
- financial information.

SITHFAB201 Provide responsible service of alcohol

Modification History

The version details of this endorsed unit of competency set are in the table below. The latest information is at the top.

Version	Comments
2.0 updated on 2 March 2023	Minor changes to Range Statement
2.0	Amendments to the Evidence Guide which better define the assessment environment and assessment requirements of the unit.
1.0	E Replaces and is equivalent to SITHFAB009A Provide responsible service of alcohol.

Unit Descriptor

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to responsibly sell or serve alcohol.

Application of the Unit

Responsible practices must be undertaken wherever alcohol is served or sold, including where alcohol samples are served during on-site product tastings. This unit, therefore, applies to any workplace where alcohol is served or sold, including all types of hospitality venues, retail liquor outlets and wineries, breweries and distilleries.

This unit applies to all levels of sales personnel involved in the sale, service and promotional service of alcohol in licensed premises. Those selling or serving alcohol may include food and beverage attendants; retail liquor sales persons; winery, brewery and distillery cellar door staff and supplier sales representatives. It also applies to security staff who monitor customer behaviour and to the licensee who is ultimately responsible for RSA management.

Licensing/Regulatory Information

The unit incorporates the knowledge requirements, under state and territory liquor licensing law, for employees engaged in the sale or service of alcohol.

Certification requirements differ across states and territories. In most cases all people involved in the sale, service and promotional service of alcohol in licensed premises must be certified in this unit. This can include the licensee and security staff.

This unit covers the Responsible Service of Alcohol (RSA) skill and knowledge requirements common to all States and Territories. Some legislative requirements and knowledge will differ across borders. In some cases after completion of this unit, state and territory liquor authorities require candidates to complete a bridging course to address these specific differences.

Those developing training to support this unit must consult the relevant state or territory liquor licensing authority to determine any accreditation arrangements for courses, trainers and assessors.

Pre-Requisites

Not applicable.

Employability Skills Information

This unit contains employability skills.

Elements and Performance Criteria Pre-Content

Elements and Performance Criteria

Elements describe the essential outcomes of a unit of competency.

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the required skills and knowledge section and the range statement. Assessment of performance is to be consistent with the evidence guide.

1. Sell or serve alcohol responsibly.

- 1.1 Sell or serve alcohol according to provisions of relevant state or territory legislation, licensing requirements and responsible service of alcohol principles.
- 1.2 Provide accurate information to customers on alcoholic beverages according to organisation or house policy and government legislation, including types, strengths, standard drinks and the alcoholic percentages of a range of frequently sold alcoholic beverages.
- 1.3 Assist customers with information on the range of non alcoholic beverages available for purchase.
- 1.4 Identify issues related to the sale and service of alcohol to different types of customers, especially those at risk, and incorporate them into sales or service.

2. Assist customers to drink within appropriate limits.
 - 2.1 Prepare and serve standard drinks or samples according to industry requirements.
 - 2.2 Encourage customers courteously and diplomatically to drink within appropriate limits.
 - 2.3 Recognise erratic drinking patterns as an early sign of possible intoxication and take appropriate action.
 - 2.4 Monitor emotional and physical state of customers for signs of intoxication and ill effects of illicit or other drug usage.
 - 2.5 Where appropriate, offer food and non alcoholic beverages.
 - 2.6 Politely decline requests for alcohol to be dispensed in a manner that is irresponsible, or which encourages the rapid or excessive consumption of alcohol, and advise customers of the reasons for the refusal.
3. Assess alcohol affected customers and identify customers to whom sale or service must be refused.
 - 3.1 Assess intoxication levels of customers using a number of methods, including observing changes in behaviour, observing emotional and physical state, and monitoring noise levels and drink purchases.
 - 3.2 When assessing intoxication, take into account factors that may affect individual responses to alcohol.
 - 3.3 Identify customers to whom sale or service must be refused according to state and territory legislation, including minors, those purchasing on behalf of minors, intoxicated persons, and persons affected by the consumption of illicit and other drugs.
 - 3.4 Where appropriate, request and obtain acceptable proof of age prior to sale or service.
4. Refuse to provide alcohol.
 - 4.1 Refuse service in a polite manner and state reasons for the refusal.
 - 4.2 Speak to intoxicated customers in a suitable and consistent manner, minimising confrontation and arguments and point out signage.
 - 4.3 Provide appropriate assistance to customers when refusing service.
 - 4.4 Where appropriate, give customers a verbal warning and ask them to leave the premises according to organisation or house requirements, the specific situation and provisions of state or territory legislation and regulations.
 - 4.5 Use appropriate communication and conflict resolution skills to handle difficult situations.
 - 4.6 Refer difficult situations beyond the scope of individual responsibility to the appropriate person.
 - 4.7 Promptly identify situations that pose a threat to the safety or security of colleagues, customers or property, and seek assistance from appropriate colleagues according to organisational policy.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- communication to:
 - provide complex information on responsible service of alcohol laws in a way that is readily understood by customers
 - speak firmly and clearly with intoxicated customers
 - deal with customers sensitively, courteously and discreetly using non-confrontational language
- critical thinking skills to assess intoxication levels of customers
- initiative and enterprise skills to offer food and non-alcoholic beverages to assist customers
- learning skills to continuously update knowledge of changing responsible service of alcohol laws and regulations
- literacy skills to:
 - read and interpret documents such as identification (ID) cards, proof of age cards, driver's licences, statutory signage, warning signs and wording within advertising or promotional material, in-house policies and procedures and any general plain English regulatory and advisory information issued by local, or state and territory liquor licensing authorities
- numeracy skills to measure and calculate standard drinks or samples and calculate blood alcohol levels to determine alcohol consumption
- problem-solving skills to:
 - identify customers to whom sale or service must be refused
 - identify intoxicated persons and refuse service
 - identify situations that pose a safety threat and seek assistance from appropriate colleagues
- teamwork skills to share customer information with team members to ensure proper responsible service of alcohol practices within the organisation.

Required knowledge

- public interest reasons for implementation of responsible service of alcohol practices, including:
 - government and community concern with alcohol misuse and abuse
 - crime, violence and anti-social behaviour associated with alcohol abuse
- impact of excessive drinking on:

- local neighbourhood and community
- premises and staff
- customers
- particular types of customers who may be at heightened risk such as young people, pregnant women and minors
- government agencies such as the local police, health facilities and road authority
- key agencies and how to source relevant information on laws, regulations and codes of practice or conduct
- current promotional and strategic community education campaigns developed and conducted by agencies and industry groups
- effects of alcohol on:
 - emotional state
 - health
 - physical alertness
- factors that affect individual responses to alcohol, including:
 - gender
 - weight
 - general health
 - rate of consumption
 - food intake
 - other substances taken
- time for effects of alcohol to be registered
- standard drinks and acceptable measures of alcohol
- indicators of intoxication, including ways of assessing intoxication of customers
- ways of assessing customers affected by the consumption of illicit and other drugs
- principles of harm minimisation and strategies to minimise the harm associated with liquor abuse:
 - strategies laid down in legislation and codes of conduct developed by government agencies or industry groups
 - organisational policies that are designed to reduce the harm associated with liquor abuse
- the key provisions of liquor laws and regulations at a depth relevant to the scope of job responsibility within licensed premises, including the following list that expresses general statements about requirements of liquor legislation and information that must be customised for each State or Territory:
 - legislative definition of intoxication; intoxicated person and unduly intoxicated
 - role of individual staff members and supervisors or managers in providing responsible service of alcohol, including seller or server duty of care and liability
 - requirement to adopt and use statutory signage on the premises for the entire range of circumstances applicable to the organisation
 - requirements for mandatory content of any warning signs and wording within advertising or promotional material of any form, such as print advertising or internet sales

- requirements for the remote sale and delivery of alcohol sales generated via the telephone, fax, email or mail
- requirements for proof of age and obligations to minors under local legislation
- provisions for retaining and reporting falsified proof of age documents
- provisions for requiring someone to leave the premises
- transportation options
- barring procedures
- opening and closing hour provisions
- requirements for monitoring noise and disturbances in and around licensed premises
- requirements laid down in codes of practice or conduct developed by government agencies or industry groups
- requirements described by an in-house policy, standard or code of practice or conduct
- training and record keeping requirements
- banned or undesirable products
- personal and business implications of breaching any laws, regulations, government or industry-driven codes of practice or conduct
- offences and penalties relating to offences
- legal restrictions on alcohol use customised to state or territory legislation, including intoxication provisions of liquor licensing laws
- legal drink and drive limits.

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the ability to:

- responsibly sell or serve alcohol on multiple occasions to customers
- satisfy the legal requirements for responsible sale or service of alcohol for the local state or territory law
- follow organisational policies and procedures for the responsible service of alcohol
- demonstrate knowledge of:
 - reasons for and benefits of responsible service of alcohol
 - principles of responsible service of alcohol and harm minimisation

- the key provisions of liquor laws and regulations at a depth relevant to the scope of job responsibility within licensed premises
- the ramifications of non-compliance with the law and industry codes for the organisation, licensee and individual staff members.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Assessment must ensure use of:

- a real or simulated workplace
- a range of industry equipment to demonstrate standard drink measures or samples
- relevant and current publications, signage, information and plain English fact sheets distributed by government regulators and industry bodies.

Method of assessment

A range of assessment methods should be used to assess the practical skills and knowledge required to sell or serve alcohol responsibly.

The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- role-plays or case studies simulating customers, intoxicated patrons and alcohol that allow assessment of the individual's ability to:
 - interact with customers and explain organisational legal requirements to sell or serve alcohol responsibly
 - explain in-house policies for the service of alcohol
 - refuse service to people to whom alcohol cannot be served
 - speak to intoxicated customers to minimise confrontation
- case studies and problem-solving activities to assess the individual's ability to respond to:
 - situations where customers are engaging in erratic drinking patterns
 - signage deficiencies
 - situations that pose a safety threat
- written or oral questioning to assess knowledge of legislation and all other knowledge components of this unit
- review of portfolios of evidence and third-party workplace reports of on-the-job performance by the individual.

Guidance information for

The assessor should design integrated assessment activities to holistically assess this unit with other units relevant to the industry sector, workplace and job role, for example:

- SITHFAB202 Operate a bar
- SITHFAB302 Conduct a product tasting for alcoholic beverages
- SITHFAB303 Prepare and serve cocktails
- SITHFAB304 Provide advice on beers, spirits and liqueurs
- SITHFAB305 Provide advice on Australian wines
- SITHFAB306 Provide advice on imported wines
- SITHFAB307 Provide table service of food and beverage.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

Accurate information may be provided to customers:

- by use of fact sheets and advertising material that comply with legislative requirements
- by use of mandatory signage
- verbally.

Issues may include:

- demeanour and mood
- familiarity with specific customers
- perceived effects of illicit and other drug usage
- perceived health status
- physical stature
- social context.

Those at risk may include:

- minors
- people affected by the consumption of illicit and other drugs
- people from non-English speaking backgrounds
- women
- young customers.
- appropriate nip measures

Standard drinks should be measured using:

Samples may include tastings of any item for sale in a:

- appropriately sized sample glasses
- electronic dispensing and measuring devices.
- brewery
- distillery
- hospitality venue
- retail liquor outlet
- winery.

Erratic drinking patterns may include:

- mixing a wide range of drink types
- drinking quickly and asking for more immediately
- ordering more than one drink for self-consumption
- mixing alcohol consumption with consumption of prescription or illicit drugs
- consistently returning to the tasting site to request more samples
- ordering multiple samples
- ordering large samples
- ordering ‘triple shots’ or extra large drinks.

Requests for drinks to be dispensed in a manner that is irresponsible, or which encourages the rapid or excessive consumption of liquor include:

- jugs of spirits and mixers
- large samples
- laybacks
- multiple samples for self-consumption
- rocket fuel
- shooters
- test tubes
- yard glasses.

Changes in behaviour may involve the customer becoming:

- aggressive
- disorderly
- quarrelsome
- violent.

Factors include:

- food intake
- gender
- general health
- other substances taken, especially illicit and other drugs
- rate of consumption
- weight.

Proof of age includes:

- current drivers licence

Intoxicated denotes:

- passport
- photo card
- proof of age card.
- drunk
- those to whom service may be refused due to excessive consumption of alcohol
- ‘unduly intoxicated’ may also be used in some state or territory legislation.

Signage may include:

- signs produced in-house that comply with wording required by legislation
- standard promotional signs issued by the relevant state or territory licensing authority
- warning notices within any form of advertising.

Appropriate assistance may include:

- assisting the customer to connect with their designated driver
- offering alternatives to alcohol, including food
- offering to sell or serve non-alcoholic drinks
- organising transport for customers wishing to leave
- providing information on taxis.

Communication and conflict resolution skills may include:

- using open and non-aggressive body language
- using a number of strategies to diffuse a situation, such as taking the person away from an audience or blaming the refusal on the ‘law’
- monitoring the reactions of other customers
- picking early warning signs and intervening before the person is intoxicated
- not using physical touch or body language
- remaining calm and using tactful language.

Unit Descriptor

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to transport food from a food preparation area to another location. It also deals with holding or storage on arrival.

Application of the Unit

This unit applies to catering operations where food is transported from the preparation area to another location and stored on arrival. This could include restaurants, educational institutions, aged care facilities, hospitals, defence forces, cafeterias, kiosks, cafes, residential catering, in-flight and other transport catering, events catering and private catering. It applies to food handlers who directly handle food when transporting and storing food. People at many levels use this skill in the workplace including cooks, chefs, caterers and catering assistants.

The person transporting the food may or may not be driving the vehicle.

Licensing/Regulatory Information

Food handlers involved in transporting and storing food must comply with the requirements contained within the Australia New Zealand Food Standards (ANZFS) Code (the Code). Business may be required to implement a food safety program and food handlers would need to comply with the transportation provisions.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- analysis and interpretation skills to:
 - unpack competency standards
 - interpret job description and performance appraisal information and map to units of competency
 - identify candidate needs
- communication skills to:
 - explain the recognition process to the candidate
 - give clear and precise instructions and advice
 - discuss the recognition process with other relevant people
 - discuss the assessment outcome with the candidate
- literacy skills to:
 - read and interpret relevant information to conduct recognition-based assessment
 - prepare required documentation and records/reports of recognition outcomes in the required format
- research and evaluation skills to:
 - research workplace sources of evidence
 - access recognition policies and procedures

Elements and Performance Criteria

1. Organise instruction and demonstration	1.1. Gather information about learner characteristics and learning needs 1.2. Confirm a safe learning environment 1.3. Gather and check instruction and demonstration objectives and seek assistance if required 1.4. Access and review relevant learning resources and learning materials for suitability and relevance, and seek assistance to interpret the contextual application 1.5. Organise access to necessary equipment or physical resources required for instruction and demonstration 1.6. Notify learners of details regarding the implementation of the learning program and/or delivery plan
2. Conduct instruction and demonstration	2.1. Use interpersonal skills with learners to establish a safe and comfortable learning environment 2.2. Follow the learning program and/or delivery plan to cover all learning objectives 2.3. Brief learners on any OHS procedures and requirements prior to and during training 2.4. Use delivery techniques to structure, pace and enhance learning 2.5. Apply coaching techniques to assist learning 2.6. Use communication skills to provide information,

	instruct learners and demonstrate relevant work skills 2.7. Provide opportunities for practice during instruction and through work activities 2.8. Provide and discuss feedback on learner performance to support learning
3. Check training performance	3.1. Use measures to ensure learners are acquiring and can use new technical and generic skills and knowledge 3.2. Monitor learner progress and outcomes in consultation with learner 3.3. Review relationship between the trainer/coach and the learner and adjust to suit learner needs
4. Review personal training performance and finalise documentation	4.1. Reflect upon personal performance in providing instruction and demonstration, and document strategies for improvement 4.2. Maintain, store and secure learner records according to organisational and legal requirements

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- verbal and non-verbal communication techniques, such as:
 - asking relevant and appropriate questions
 - providing explanations
 - demonstrating
 - using listening skills
 - providing information clearly
- safety skills to implement OHS requirements, by acting and responding safely in order to:
 - identify hazards
 - conduct prestart-up checks if required
 - observe and interpret learner behaviour that may put people at risk
- time-management, skills to:

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

- ensure all learning objectives are covered
- pace learning
- reflection skills in order to:
 - identify areas for improvement
 - maintain personal skill development
- literacy skills to:
 - complete and maintain documentation
 - read and follow learning programs and plans
 - read and analyse learner information
- technology skills to operate audio-visual and technical equipment
- interpersonal skills to:
 - engage, motivate and connect with learners
 - provide constructive feedback
 - maintain appropriate relationships
 - establish trust
 - use appropriate body language
 - maintain humour
 - demonstrate tolerance
 - manage a group
 - recognise and be sensitive to individual difference and diversity
- observation skills to:
 - monitor learner acquisition of new skills, knowledge and competency requirements
 - assess learner communication and skills in interacting with others
 - identify learner concerns
 - recognise learner readiness to take on new skills and tasks

Required knowledge

- learner characteristics and needs
- content and requirements of the relevant learning program and/or delivery plan
- sources and availability of relevant learning resources and learning materials
- content of learning resources and learning materials
- training techniques that enhance learning and when to use them
- introductory knowledge of learning principles and learning styles
- key OHS issues in the learning environment, including:
 - roles and responsibilities of key personnel
 - responsibilities of learners
 - relevant policies and procedures, including hazard identification, risk assessment, reporting requirements, safe use of equipment and emergency

Evidence GuideEVIDENCE GUIDE

The Evidence Guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment

Assessment must address the scope of this unit and reflect all components of the unit. A range of appropriate assessment methods and evidence-gathering techniques must be used to determine competency. A judgement of competency should only be made when the assessor is confident that the required outcomes of the unit have been achieved and that consistent performance has been demonstrated.

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the ability to:

- carry out a minimum of three training sessions, involving demonstrating and instructing particular work skills for different groups; with each session addressing:
 - different learning objectives
 - a range of techniques and effective communication skills appropriate to the audience.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Evidence must be gathered in the workplace wherever possible. Where no workplace is available, a simulated workplace must be provided.

 - discussion and group interaction are enhanced
- conflict resolution and negotiation skills to:
 - identify critical points, issues, concerns and problems
 - identify options for changing behaviours
- oral communication and language skills to:

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

- motivate learners to transfer skills and knowledge
- engage with the learner
- interpersonal skills to maintain appropriate relationships and ensure inclusivity
- observation skills to monitor individual and group progress

Required knowledge

- introductory knowledge of learning theories
- sound knowledge of learning principles
- sound knowledge of learner styles
- industry area and subject matter of the delivery
- learner group profile, including characteristics and needs of individual learners in the group
- content and requirements of the learning program and/or delivery plan
- different delivery methods and techniques appropriate to face-to-face group delivery
- techniques for the recognition and resolution of inappropriate behaviours
- behaviours in learners that may indicate learner difficulties
- organisational record-management systems and reporting requirements
- evaluation and revision techniques
- specific resources, equipment and support services available for learners with special needs
- relevant policy, legal requirements, codes of practice and national standards, including commonwealth and state or territory legislation that may affect training and assessment in the vocational education and training sector
- OHS relating to the facilitation of group-based learning, including:
 - assessment and risk control measures
 - reporting requirements for hazards
 - safe use and maintenance of relevant equipment
 - emergency procedures
 - sources of OHS information
 - role of key workplace persons
- policies and procedures relevant to the learning environment

Required Skills and Knowledge

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- oral communication and language skills to:
 - motivate the learner
 - transfer skills and knowledge
- interpersonal skills to maintain appropriate relationships
- observation skills to monitor individual progress
- literacy skills to:
 - read and interpret organisational documents, legal documents and contracts
 - complete and maintain documentation
- organisational skills to provide guidance and feedback to individuals
- communication skills, including:
 - using effective verbal and non-verbal language
 - using critical listening and questioning techniques
 - giving constructive and supportive feedback
 - assisting learners to paraphrase advice or instructions back to the trainer/facilitator
 - providing clear and concrete options and advice
 - using appropriate industry/profession terminology and language
 - ensuring language, literacy and numeracy used is appropriate to learners

Required knowledge

- systems, processes and practices within the organisation where work-based learning is taking place
- operational demands of the work and impact of changes on work roles
- organisational work culture, including industrial relations environment
- systems for identifying skill needs
- introductory knowledge of different learning styles and how to encourage learning in each, for example:
 - visual learners
 - audio learners
 - kinaesthetic learners
 - theoretical learners
- relevant policy, legislation, codes of practice and national standards that may affect training and assessment in the vocational education and training sector
- OHS relating to the work role, including:
 - hazards relating to the industry and specific workplace

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

- reporting requirements for hazards and incidents
- specific procedures for work tasks
- safe use and maintenance of relevant equipment
- emergency procedures
- sources of OHS information

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the ability to:

- prepare and facilitate work-based learning
- provide evidence of a minimum of two examples of developing work-based learning pathways, that include:
 - identifying needs for learning
 - analysing work practices, work environment and work activities
 - organising and allocating work in a way that reflects learning needs and provides effective learning opportunities through work processes
- provide a minimum of two examples of a learning facilitation relationship being conducted:
 - with different individuals
 - demonstrating communication skills and flexibility
 - demonstrating one or more of the processes or techniques identified.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Evidence must be gathered in the workplace wherever possible. Where no workplace is available, a simulated workplace must be

Required Skills and Knowledge

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- planning and time-management skills to mentor in a workplace
- oral communication and language skills to motivate learners
- organisational skills to provide guidance and feedback to individuals
- interpersonal skills to:
 - engage in relationship building, including building trust and maintaining confidentiality
 - respond to diversity, including gender and disability
- communication skills to use a range of communication strategies, including listening, questioning, and giving and receiving feedback
- initiative and enterprise skills to apply procedures relating to OHS and environmental legislation in the context of workplace mentoring

Required knowledge

- relevant policy, legislation, codes of practice and national standards likely to impact on the provision of workplace mentoring
- training contracts and responsibilities of employer, registered training organisation

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

- (RTO) and funding body
- training plans and responsibilities
 - training products and strategies for learning
 - mentoring methodologies and strategies
 - acceptable behaviour in the mentoring relationship
 - equal employment opportunity, equity and diversity principles
 - OHS relating to the work role, including:
 - hazards relating to the industry and specific workplace
 - reporting requirements for hazards and incidents
 - specific procedures for work tasks
 - safe use and maintenance of relevant equipment
 - emergency procedures
 - sources of OHS information

Evidence Guide

EVIDENCE GUIDE

The Evidence Guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment	Assessment must address the scope of this unit and reflect all components of the unit. Arrange of appropriate assessment methods and evidence-gathering techniques must be used to determine competency. A judgement of competency should only be made when the assessor is confident that the required outcomes of the unit have been achieved and that consistent performance has been demonstrated.

Unit Descriptor

Unit descriptor	This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to conceptualise, design, develop and review learning programs to meet an identified need for a group of learners. The unit addresses the skills and knowledge needed to identify the parameters of a learning program, determine the design, outline the content and review its effectiveness.

Application of the Unit

Application of the unit	This unit typically applies to a trainer or facilitator who designs or develops learning programs. A learning program can be discrete, providing a planned learning approach that relates to specific learning and training needs, or it may form part of the learning design for a qualification.

Elements and Performance Criteria Pre-Content

Elements describe the essential outcomes of a unit of competency.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the required skills and knowledge section and the range statement. Assessment of performance is to be consistent with the evidence guide.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
1. Define parameters of the learning program	1.1. Clarify purpose and type of learning program with key stakeholders 1.2. Access and confirm the competency standards and other training specifications on which to base the learning program 1.3. Identify language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the program 1.4. Identify and consider characteristics of the target learner group
2. Work within the vocational education and training (VET) policy framework	2.1. Access relevant VET policies and frameworks, and apply to work practices 2.2. Identify changes to training packages and accredited courses and apply these to program development 2.3. Conduct work according to organisational quality assurance policies and procedures
3. Develop program content	3.1. Research, develop and document specific subject matter content according to agreed design options 3.2. Evaluate existing learning resources for content relevance and quality 3.3. Specify assessment requirements of the learning program

4. Design structure of the learning program	4.1. Break the learning content into manageable segments and document timeframe for each segment 4.2. Determine and confirm delivery strategies and required assessment methods and tools 4.3. Document complete learning program in line with organisational requirements 4.4. Review complete program with key stakeholders and adjust as required 4.5. Ensure a safe learning progression by analysing risks in the learning environment and including a risk control plan

Required Skills and Knowledge

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- organisational skills to ensure resources are available and suitable
- evaluation skills to determine the time required for each learning segment and the overall timelines of the learning program
- cognitive skills to develop the learning program content and design its structure
- language and literacy skills to read and interpret a range of documentation, including technical and subject matter documents, references and texts

Required knowledge

- information about training package developers and course accreditation agencies responsible for specific learning program parameters
- training packages and relevant competency standards to be used as the basis of the learning program
- other performance standards and criteria to be used as the basis of the learning program, where relevant
- distinction and relationship between a training package/accredited course, learning strategy and learning program, where linked
- different purposes and focus of learning programs
- sound knowledge of learning principles
- instructional design principles relating to different design options for learning program design and structure
- availability and types of different relevant learning resources, learning materials

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

and pre-developed learning activities

- methodology relating to developing and documenting new learning activities and related learning materials
- different delivery modes and methods
- relevant policies, legal requirements, codes of practice and national standards, including commonwealth and state or territory legislation that may affect training and assessment in the VET sector
- relevant OHS knowledge relating to the work role, and OHS considerations that need to be included in the learning program

A judgement of competency should only be made when the assessor is confident that the required outcomes of the unit have been achieved and that consistent performance has been demonstrated.

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the ability to:

- design, develop and review learning programs within the VET context
- prepare and develop a minimum of two learning programs:
 - that contain differentiated learning program designs to reflect particular needs, contexts and timelines
 - at least one of which must be based on competency standards or accredited courses and must cover at least one entire unit of competency or accredited course module.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Required skills

- analytical skills to:
 - identify critical learning points
 - structure and weight the contents appropriately
 - determine appropriateness of feedback
- communication and interpersonal skills to:
 - establish and confirm requirements
 - collaborate with a range of people
 - seek feedback from others
- literacy and writing skills, including:
 - writing for different audiences
 - writing to the appropriate level
 - using an appropriate style
- planning skills to:
 - develop and schedule work plans
 - monitor and manage outcomes
- problem solving skills to:
 - analyse, identify and develop strategies to meet identified challenges
 - identify difficulties of those participating in provision
 - select and use a variety of problem-solving strategies
- review and analysis skills to:
 - identify areas for improvement
 - recognise personal limitations
- research skills to find content and relevant information.

Required knowledge

- principles, theories and contemporary practices of instructional design,
- the main branches of learning theory incorporating behavioural learning theory; cognitive learning theory; experiential learning theory; information processing theory and current research on learning as it relates to teaching in an adult environment
- language, literacy and numeracy (LLN) issues, such as:
 - requirements of target audience
 - using the Australian Core Skills Framework (ASCF) as a framework to aid instructional design
- legal, organisational and ethical responsibilities associated with the assessment system, including:
 - maintaining client privacy and confidentiality

- providing accurate information
- duty of care under common law
- compliance with AQTF requirements
- copyright and privacy laws, including the use of electronic technology.

Required skills

- analysis and interpretation skills to:
 - evaluate information management systems, policies and procedures of an organisation
 - select relevant evaluation information and documentation
 - access and interpret the organisation's standards and values
 - analyse records/notes of the evaluation process
- communication skills to:
 - explain the evaluation process
 - give clear and precise instructions and advice
 - discuss the evaluation process with other relevant people
 - seek information relevant to the evaluation
 - discuss the evaluation outcome with the stakeholders
- language and literacy skills to:
 - interpret training program requirements (including, where appropriate AQTF requirements)
 - develop resources to support the evaluation process
 - communicate with key stakeholders
 - produce and maintain documentation
- planning and organising skills to:
 - plan projects
 - plan and sequence work programs
 - coordinate the work of self and others
- research and evaluation skills to investigate training and workforce data, and determine and implement appropriate improvement.

Required knowledge

- Commonwealth and state/territory legislation, codes of practice and standards, for example:
 - Training Packages and accredited courses, and what comprises quality training and assessment services
 - how training and/or assessment organisations operate

- terminology relating to quality evaluation processes
- evaluation models/methods, including the Kirkpatrick Model
- records management systems of the organisation
- other relevant policy, legislation, codes of practice and national standards, including Commonwealth and state/territory legislation, for example:
 - plagiarism
 - copyright and privacy laws
 - security of information and confidentiality requirements
 - duty of care, as it relates to coordinating personnel and learning
 - the industrial relations system, industry/workplace relations and industrial awards/enterprise agreements
 - anti-discrimination legislation, including equal opportunity, racial vilification and disability discrimination
 - vocational education and training systems
 - OHS relating to planning and conducting an evaluation.

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

Aim of the evaluation study may include:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • evaluating the effectiveness of the training in meeting workforce needs • estimating the cost effectiveness of the training provided • evaluating outcomes of a learning or assessment process or product • determining or trialling new processes/products • establishing client satisfaction • ensuring learning/assessment strategies and programs are relevant to client needs and capability requirements • determining resource requirements • providing solutions to organisational performance problems.
Scope of the evaluation study may include:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • whole of training and/or assessment of the RTO • specific training and/or assessment services • specific training and/or assessment products • specific aspects of training and/or assessment systems • partner organisation arrangements • workforce training needs.
Data and information to be gathered may include:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • work performance • workplace productivity • employer feedback • trainee feedback.
Stakeholders in the evaluation process may include:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • employer organisations • training graduates • workplace supervisors and managers • trainers and assessors • training designers • HR managers.
Technique(s) for gathering data/information may include:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • surveys • group discussion sessions • researching of organisational performance data

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • conducting interviews with course graduates, their supervisors and managers, trainers/ facilitators and assessors • examining the organisations documents and systems, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • policies and procedures • learning and assessment strategies • training/assessment records • course evaluation questionnaires • resources for delivery and assessment including assessment tools.
Evaluation instruments may include:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • surveys • feedback forms • work performance specifications • questionnaires • diaries • logs • discussion group questions.
Alternatives to the training program may include:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • job redesign • change in supervision arrangements or work support • individual mentoring • communication and information campaign, e.g. posters, brochures • job aids, e.g. manuals • standard operating procedures (SOPs).

TLIC2025 Operate four wheel drive vehicle

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package.

Application

This unit involves the skills and knowledge required to operate a four wheel drive vehicle safely in a range of conditions in accordance with the relevant state/territory legislated roads and traffic licence requirements.

It includes driving a four wheel drive vehicle on roads, traversing gradients, ascending and descending steep gradients, and operating in rugged terrain. It also includes using vehicle equipment/controls and completing pre- and post-operational checks.

Recognised driver's licence or provisional car licence must be held prior to commencing this unit of competency.

Driving involves the application of four wheel drive vehicle operating principles and procedures to maintain the safety and operation of a four wheel drive vehicle across a variety of on-road and off-road contexts.

Driving is performed with limited supervision, and with duty of care responsibility for self and others in achieving the prescribed outcomes.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

Elements describe the essential outcomes.

1 Operate four wheel drive vehicles on roads

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

- 1.1 Pre-start checks of vehicle and equipment are carried out in accordance with manufacturer specifications and roadworthy requirements
- 1.2 Job hazards are identified and required action is taken to minimise, control or eliminate identified hazards
- 1.3 Tyres are checked for pressure suitable for terrain and/or changed in accordance with manufacturer and workplace procedures
- 1.4 Vehicle fuel, water and any ancillary equipment are checked before starting vehicle journey in accordance with manufacturer and workplace procedures
- 1.5 Loads are secured in accordance with workplace and legislative requirements
- 1.6 Vehicle is driven on-road and off-road in accordance with legislative and workplace requirements, at appropriate operating speeds for road or track conditions and hazards
- 1.7 Vehicle equipment/controls are set and operated in accordance with manufacturer instructions for operation in surrounding terrain
- 1.8 Road conditions are constantly monitored, negotiated and appropriate operations and control techniques are used to ensure safe vehicle operation and no injury to people or damage to vehicle, tracks or loads is sustained
- 1.9 Vehicle is parked and shut down in accordance with workplace and manufacturer requirements

2 Operate vehicle on, or across a gradient

- 2.1 Intended vehicle path is inspected prior to negotiating gradient
- 2.2 Loads are secured in accordance with workplace and legislative requirements
- 2.3 Appropriate gear and/or range are selected and engine revolutions are maintained to ensure constant traction

- 2.4 Vehicle is driven on-road and off-road in accordance with legislative and workplace requirements at appropriate speeds for conditions and gradient hazards
 - 2.5 Vehicle equipment/controls are set and operated in accordance with manufacturer instructions for operation in, on or across a gradient
 - 2.6 Gradient conditions are constantly monitored, and appropriate operations and control techniques are used to ensure safe vehicle operation and no injury to people or damage to vehicle, tracks or loads is sustained
- 3 Operate vehicle ascending a steep gradient
- 3.1 Intended vehicle path is inspected prior to negotiating ascent
 - 3.2 Appropriate gear and/or range are selected to ascend grade, and engine revolutions are maintained to ensure constant traction
 - 3.3 Vehicle equipment/controls are set and operated in accordance with manufacturer instructions for operation while ascending a steep gradient
 - 3.4 Stall recovery techniques are applied in accordance with manufacturer and workplace procedures
 - 3.5 Ascent conditions are constantly monitored, and appropriate operations and control techniques are used to ensure safe vehicle operation and no injury to people or damage to vehicle, tracks or loads is sustained
- 4 Operate vehicle descending a steep gradient
- 4.1 Intended vehicle path is inspected prior to negotiating gradient
 - 4.2 Appropriate gear and/or range are selected to descend grade, and engine revolutions are maintained to ensure constant traction
 - 4.3 Vehicle equipment/controls are set and operated in accordance with manufacturer instructions for operation while descending a steep gradient
 - 4.4 Stall recovery techniques are applied in accordance with manufacturer and workplace procedures
 - 4.5 Descent conditions are constantly monitored, and appropriate operations and control techniques are used to ensure safe vehicle operation and no injury to people or damage to vehicle, tracks or loads is sustained

- 5 Operate vehicle in rugged terrain
- 5.1 Intended vehicle path is inspected prior to negotiating rugged terrain
 - 5.2 Appropriate gear and/or range are selected to negotiate rugged terrain and engine revolutions are maintained to ensure constant traction
 - 5.3 Vehicle equipment/controls are set and operated in accordance with manufacturer instructions for operation in surrounding terrain
 - 5.4 Vehicle chains are fitted in accordance with manufacturer instructions and environmental conditions, as required
 - 5.5 Vehicle load is inspected, positioned and secured to maximise traction for four wheel driving
 - 5.6 Rugged conditions are constantly monitored, and appropriate operations and control techniques are used to ensure safe vehicle operation and no injury to people or damage to vehicle, tracks or loads is sustained
- 6 Complete operations
- 6.1 Vehicle is parked and shut down in accordance with workplace and manufacturer requirements
 - 6.2 Faults or malfunctions are corrected and/or reported in accordance with manufacturer and workplace requirements
 - 6.3 Vehicle and equipment are cleaned and stored after use in accordance with workplace requirements
 - 6.4 Documentation and journey reports are completed in accordance with workplace procedures

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Range of Conditions

Range is restricted to essential operating conditions and any other variables essential to the work environment.

Non-essential conditions can be found in the Companion Volume Implementation Guide.

Unit Mapping Information

This unit replaces and is equivalent to TLIC2025A Operate four wheel drive vehicle.

Assessment Requirements for TLIC2025 Operate four wheel drive vehicle

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package.

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria on at least one occasion and include:

- applying relevant legislation and workplace procedures
- cleaning and storing vehicles and equipment
- communicating effectively with others
- completing relevant documentation
- conducting pre-start checks
- demonstrating low-risk driving behaviours
- identifying and correcting minor operational faults
- identifying job hazards and taking required action
- implementing contingency plans
- interpreting and following operational instructions and prioritising work
- modifying activities depending on operational contingencies, risk situations and environments
- reporting and/or rectifying identified problems, faults or malfunctions promptly, in accordance with regulatory requirements and workplace procedures
- reading and interpreting relevant instructions, procedures, information and signs
- using and adjusting vehicle equipment/controls as required:
 - brakes
 - electronic traction control
 - freewheeling hubs
 - gears/range
 - heating and cooling systems
 - jacks
 - tyres
- working systematically with required attention to detail without injury to self or others, or damage to goods or equipment.

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria and include knowledge of:

- documentation and record keeping requirements
- effect of hard surface driving (such as transmission wind up) on a 4x4 system
- effect of loads while negotiating a gradient
- effect on centre of gravity of changing fluid loads
- efficient driving techniques and safe driving strategies
- environmental impact of 4x4 driving
- hazards and risks associated with traversing cross gradients
- hazards that may exist when operating a four wheel drive vehicle in on-road and off-road situations, and action to minimise, control or eliminate identified hazards
- low risk driving behaviours:
 - creating and maintaining crash avoidance space
 - protecting crash avoidance space
 - road rules and directions
 - space and time management
- pre- and post-operational checks and related action
- problems that may occur when operating a four wheel drive vehicle, and action that can be taken to report or resolve the problems
- relevant land management procedures and regulations
- relevant state/territory road traffic authority road rules, regulations, permit and licence requirements
- relevant work health and safety (WHS)/occupational health and safety (OHS) and environmental procedures and regulations
- vehicle equipment/controls, instruments and indicators, and their use
- vehicle handling procedures and techniques for a range of road and track conditions
- workplace procedures for operating a four wheel drive vehicle in both on-road and off-road situations.

Assessment Conditions

As a minimum, assessors must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

As a minimum, assessment must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

Assessment must occur in workplace operational situations, where it is appropriate to do so; where this is not appropriate, assessment must occur in simulated workplace operational situations that replicate workplace conditions in a four wheel drive vehicle typical of that used in industry.

Assessment processes and techniques must be appropriate to the language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the work being performed and the needs of the candidate.

Resources for assessment include:

- a range of relevant exercises, case studies and/or simulations
- applicable documentation including workplace procedures, regulations, codes of practice and operation manuals
- relevant materials, tools, equipment and personal protective equipment currently used in industry.

A simulator/online assessment is not suitable for the final assessment of this unit of competency.

TLIE2007 Use communications systems

Modification History

Release 2. This is the second release of this unit of competency in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package:

- Minor word changes and reordering in Knowledge Evidence
- Minor statement changes in Assessment Conditions.

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package.

Application

This unit involves the skills and knowledge required to use communications systems in accordance with relevant regulations and workplace procedures.

It includes identifying system features, operating a communications system effectively, using appropriate communications system protocols, maintaining equipment and completing documentation.

It involves applying established communication principles and practices, and using local technical, colloquial language and vocabulary in day-to-day communication.

Work is performed under some supervision, generally within a team environment.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS

PERFORMANCE CRITERIA

Elements describe the essential outcomes.

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.

1 Check communications system requirements

1.1 System features and control functions are identified

1.2 Impact of battery and signal levels on system's capability is determined

1.3 Mobile equipment is set up to optimise communication

1.4 Channels are selected appropriate to the communication as required

2 Communicate using communications technology

2.1 System checks are carried out to confirm communications system is operational, in accordance with manufacturer's instructions and workplace procedures

2.2 Communications system is operated safely in accordance with manufacturer's instructions, workplace procedures and regulatory requirements

2.3 Telephone and radio security are maintained in accordance with workplace procedures

2.4 Channel selection is appropriate for the location and type of communication

2.5 Messages are transmitted clearly and precisely, and user ethics and protocols are followed

2.6 Public address (PA) system is used, as required, to communicate with passengers and/or crew in accordance with operating procedures

2.7 Incoming messages are received and answered promptly and courteously in accordance with operating procedures and regulatory requirements

2.8 Appropriate language, protocols, procedures and codes are followed when using communications systems

2.9 Received messages are interpreted and recorded in accordance with workplace procedures

2.10 Clear and unambiguous vocal communication is used

3 Maintain communications

3.1 Equipment is checked and maintained in working order

- equipment operational status in accordance with workplace procedures
- 3.2 Minor communications systems faults are promptly identified, diagnosed, and repaired or reported in accordance with workplace procedures
- 4 Complete documentation
- 4.1 Appropriate communications records are maintained in accordance with workplace procedures
- 4.2 Communications records are stored/filed as required

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Range of Conditions

Range is restricted to essential operating conditions and any other variables essential to the work environment.

Assessment Requirements for TLIE2007 Use communications systems

Modification History

Release 2. This is the second release of this unit of competency in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package:

- Minor word changes and reordering in Knowledge Evidence
- Minor statement changes in Assessment Conditions.

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package.

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria on at least one occasion and include:

- applying precautions and required action to minimise, control or eliminate hazards that may exist when using communications systems
- communicating and working effectively with others using available communications systems
- completing documentation related to work activities when using communications systems
- following communications security procedures
- identifying and using required communications technology
- implementing contingency plans
- modifying activities depending on differing operational contingencies, risk situations and environments
- monitoring communications equipment performance and taking appropriate action as required
- operating and adapting to differences in communications equipment in accordance with operating procedures
- planning, monitoring and prioritising work activities in terms of planned schedule, including predicting consequences and identifying improvements
- reading, interpreting and following communications systems instructions, procedures and relevant legislation
- reporting and/or rectifying identified problems, faults or malfunctions promptly in accordance with workplace procedures
- using communications equipment
- working systematically with required attention to detail without injury to self or others, or damage to goods or equipment.

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria and include knowledge of:

- communication techniques including barriers to effective communication and how to overcome them
- features of various communications systems
- minor routine maintenance procedures for communications equipment
- pre-operational checks for communications systems and equipment
- principles of effective communication
- procedures and protocols for using communications systems during an emergency
- protocols and procedures for communicating with others using relevant communications technology including public address (PA) systems
- relevant procedures and duty of care requirements
- relevant work health and safety (WHS)/occupational health and safety (OHS) responsibilities
- typical problems that may occur when using communications systems, and appropriate action and solutions.

Assessment Conditions

Assessors must hold credentials specified within the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

Assessment must satisfy the Principles of Assessment and Rules of Evidence and all regulatory requirements included within the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

Assessment must occur in workplace operational situations where it is appropriate to do so; where this is not appropriate, assessment must occur in simulated workplace operational situations that replicate workplace conditions.

Assessment processes and techniques must be appropriate to the language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the work being performed and the needs of the candidate.

Resources for assessment must include:

- a range of relevant exercises, case studies and/or other simulations
- relevant and appropriate materials, tools, equipment and personal protective equipment (PPE) currently used in industry
- applicable documentation, including workplace procedures, regulations, codes of practice and operation manuals.
