Application

This unit of competency specifies the skills and knowledge required to manage the processes to ensure the legal obligations of a building and construction contractor involved in either residential and/or commercial contracting projects are fully met.

It involves managing relationships with advisors and ensuring that the organisation meets the requirements of licensing, work health and safety (WHS), welfare, workers compensation, taxation, insurance, fair trading and environmental legislation.

This unit of competency supports builders, project managers and related construction industry professionals responsible for ensuring the legal obligations of a contractor are met.

Completion of the general construction induction training program specified by the model Code of Practice for Construction Work is required for any person who is to carry out construction work. Achievement of CPCWHS1001 Prepare to work safely in the construction industry meets this requirement.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.
