 - negotiate with a wide range of known and unknown stakeholders
 - negotiate with senior management and specialist professionals
- interpreting data and information
- solving complex problems
- using information technology for research and reporting
- networking inside and outside the workplace

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the depth of knowledge demonstrated must be appropriate to the job context of the candidate.

- agency, organisation and legislative requirements, policies, procedures and practice
- organisation's consultation, reporting and accountability systems and processes
- code of ethics
- suitable research methodologies
- consultation models, protocol and practice
- manual and electronic information systems
- cultural implications of research methods and the cultural analysis of information

Assessment Conditions

Valid assessment of this unit requires a workplace environment or one that closely resembles normal work practice and replicates the range of conditions likely to be encountered by an individual responsible for researching issues, and gathering, analysing, organising and presenting information on issues of concern in correctional services as part of a coordinated team, including coping with difficulties, irregularities and changes to routine.

Assessors must satisfy the NVR/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.
