Application

This unit describes the skills required to prepare for and supervise vehicular escorts and protect prisoners and the public during escorts. Escorts may be for the purpose of court attendance, medical treatment, compassionate and family visits, employment programs, attendance at specialist services, interstate transfers, location transfers, and attendance at hearings and inquiries.

This unit applies to those working in the planning and monitoring of escorts. These staff members may be from a range of occupational areas within correctional services. Working as part of a coordinated team is integral to the role.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to, particularly those related to prisoner transport.

Those undertaking this unit work independently, drawing upon support from a range of established resources. The role requires complex organisational, analysis and communication skills.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.
