DEF45115 Certificate IV in Range Control

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This qualification was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. Supersedes and is not equivalent to DEF40612 Certificate IV in Range Control. • DEF unit codes updated • Imported units updated • PUACOM002B removed from core • PUACOM007B removed from core • DEFGEN005 added as an elective

Qualification Description

This qualification allows for the attainment of competencies as a range control officer. The term range refers to any area of land, sea or air that may be designated for military manoeuvres or simulated wartime operations. Range control officers are responsible for the safe and effective coordination of training activities on assigned training areas. Range control officers are generally located at or near their training area. The unit qualifies individuals to apply a broad range of specialised knowledge and skills in varied contexts to undertake skilled work in range control.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this qualification at the time of publication.

Packaging Rules

12 units of competency are required for this qualification:

- 6 core units
- 6 elective units

Choose a minimum of 4 elective units from the list below.

DEF53415 Diploma of Institutional and Operational Chaplaincy

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This qualification was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages.

Qualification Description

This qualification has been designed to provide a package of competencies reflecting the responsibilities of a chaplain. The role of the chaplain is principally to do with religious ministry; however in the Australian Defence Force that ministry extends well beyond the community model of a minister of religion. Chaplains remain active members of their denominational church organisation and they cannot continue to practice without the endorsement of their church, yet they are also commissioned members of the Australian Defence Force. Their role is governed by two disparate yet culturally sympathetic entities, a military chaplain must provide spiritual ministry to all members of Defence, regardless of faith or denomination. This qualification was developed within Defence but could be used by other organisations.

DEF72115 Graduate Certificate in Explosive Ordnance

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This qualification was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This qualification supersedes and is equivalent to DEF80112 Vocational Graduate Certificate in Explosive Ordnance. • DEF unit codes updated • Imported units updated • DEFEO209C removed from elective units • DEFGEN025 added to elective units

Qualification Description

This qualification allows for the attainment of competencies in explosive ordnance.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this qualification at the time of publication.

Packaging Rules

8 units of competency are required for this qualification:

- 2 core units
- 6 elective units

Choose a minimum of 3 electives from Group A.

Choose the remaining 3 electives from the list below or from elsewhere within this training package, or from another endorsed training package, or from an accredited course.

All elective units selected from outside this qualification must reflect the occupational and learning outcomes of this AQF qualification level. Seek further advice on selecting imported units of competency in the DEF Implementation Guide.

Elective units selected must not duplicate content already covered by other units in this qualification.

Core units
DEFEXO001	Work safely with explosive ordnance
DEFEXO082	Apply a knowledge of explosive ordnance
Group A: Specialisation units
DEFGEN025	Control engineering and logistic processes
DEFTST006	Analyse test data
DEFEXO084	Apply knowledge of explosive chemistry
DEFEXO085	Apply knowledge of explosive physics
DEFEXO086	Apply knowledge of explosive materials
MSS407003A	Analyse process changes
MSS407012A	Lead a problem solving process to determine and solve root cause
Group B: General elective units
DEFTST007	Apply knowledge of test and evaluation processes
PUAEMR030	Manage and evaluate emergency management exercises
PUAEMR031	Design emergency management exercises
PSPPOL501A	Develop organisation policy
TLIX4028A	Apply knowledge of logistics

AHCCCF501A Evaluate project submissions

Modification History

Not Applicable

Unit Descriptor

Unit descriptor	This unit covers evaluating project submission and defines the standard required to: develop an evaluation approach based on the original application; prepare appropriate forms, interview sheets and questionnaires; organise data collection on project inputs, processes, and outcomes according to the evaluation report; prepare reports including quantitative, qualitative and graphical data and analysis.

Application of the Unit

Application of the unit	This unit applies to those persons who evaluate submissions for funding for community-based programs at regional and State/Territory levels usually working as part of a team decision making process and covers the process of participating in the submission assessment process for government funded community-based programs at regional and State/Territory levels.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
1. Review previously planned project outcomes	1.1. Proposed project outcomes and evaluation approaches are identified from original approved application and any updates. 1.2. Consultations are conducted with community group leaders, coordinators and facilitators as required to identify any changes to original plan, timelines, outcomes, and to evaluation. 1.3. Timing and evaluation in terms of project progress are determined to identify availability of data and suitable range of evaluation methods.
2. Develop evaluation approach	2.1. Evaluation approach is developed to include resources used and processes applied within the available data collection opportunities. 2.2. Evaluation approach is developed around prior project evaluations, and program and agency requirements. 2.3. Proposed evaluation approach is discussed with stakeholders to obtain comments and consent. 2.4. Proposed evaluation approach is modified to cater for stakeholder views without compromising program and agency requirements and the evaluation results. 2.5. Approval is obtained for evaluation approach and timing according to program and agency requirements.

3. Organise data collection	3.1. Data is collected on project inputs, processes and outcomes according to evaluation approach. 3.2. Appropriate instructions are provided to others for them to collect data on behalf of the evaluator. 3.3. Appropriate forms and questionnaires are designed to implement the evaluation. 3.4. Interviews are conducted and observations made according to the planned evaluation approach. 3.5. Data is recorded in format suitable for analysis and reporting. 3.6. Accuracy of data is checked according to evaluation practice and program and agency requirements.
4. Analyse data	4.1. Data is analysed according to the evaluation plan to obtain required information on inputs, processes and outputs. 4.2. Data is analysed progressively during evaluation to identify any deficiencies. 4.3. Any deficiencies in data are rectified where possible by changes in evaluation and data collection methods. 4.4. Appropriate software is used for quantitative analysis. 4.5. Analysis is recorded to program and agency requirements.
5. Report on and implement conclusions	5.1. Report is prepared to program, agency and project requirements. 5.2. Analysis and report conclusions are checked with key stakeholders to identify any deficiencies to be removed or additional information that should be included. 5.3. Report meets required program and agency standards in terms of layout, format, style and process. 5.4. Data collection, analysis and reporting are timely to project agency requirements. 5.5. Report is submitted according to project, program and agency requirements. 5.6. Report on conclusions is implemented to project, program and agency requirements and within the scope of the group resources and authority.

Required Skills and Knowledge

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- review previously planned project outcomes
- develop evaluation approach
- organise data collection
- analyse data and report on conclusions
- use literacy skills to fulfil job roles as required by the organisation. The level of skill may range from reading and understanding documentation to completion of written reports
- use oral communication skills/language competence to fulfil the job role as specified by the organisation including questioning, active listening, asking for clarification, negotiating solutions and responding to a range of views
- use numeracy skills to estimate, calculate and record complex workplace measures
- use interpersonal skills to work with others and relate to people from a range of cultural, social and religious backgrounds and with a range of physical and mental abilities.

Required knowledge

- evaluation techniques and appropriate reporting methods
- concepts of maintaining valid evaluations
- identifying and documenting limitations
- natural resource management technologies
- data collection methods
- program and agency requirements, including reporting requirements
- agency procedures
- standard form of contract and agreement requirements.

Evidence Guide

EVIDENCE GUIDE

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

EVIDENCE GUIDE
Overview of assessment
Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit	The evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit must be relevant to workplace operations and satisfy holistically all of the requirements of the performance criteria and required skills and knowledge and include achievement of the following: • develop an evaluation approach based on the original application • prepare appropriate forms, interview sheets and questionnaires • organise data collection on project inputs, processes, and outcomes according to the evaluation report • prepare reports including quantitative, qualitative and graphical data and analysis.
Context of and specific resources for assessment	Competency requires the application of work practices under work conditions. Selection and use of resources for some worksites may differ due to the regional or enterprise circumstances.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole.
Project submissions may include:	• submissions for funding for community-based Landcare programs or similar at regional and State/Territory levels.

AHCPMG307 Apply animal trapping techniques

Modification History

Release	TP Version	Comment
1	AHCv1.0	Initial release

Application

This unit of competency describes the skills and knowledge required to trap and hold live animals and release or humanely destroy. Animals may be native animals, domestic animals, animals determined to be pests or feral animals.

Trapping techniques call for the use of a variety of equipment and may include the use of lures or baits.

This unit applies to individuals who work under broad direction and take responsibility for their own work. They use discretion and judgement in the selection and use of available resources.

Some forms of traps are strictly regulated in some States and Territories in Australia. Specific determination should be sought through the relevant State or Territory authority.

Firearms may be required if trapped animals are to be killed. If this is appropriate, firearm licensing conditions will apply and specific determination should be sought through the relevant State or Territory.

Appropriate firearms licences may also be required for those involved in training and assessment against this unit.

In addition to legal responsibilities, all units of competency dealing with animals in the AHC Training Package have the requirements for animals to be handled humanely to minimise stress and discomfort.

Elements and Performance Criteria

Element	Performance criteria
Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
1. Prepare for trapping	1.1 Identify purpose of animal capture and set objectives 1.2 Confirm the location and size of the area designated for trapping activities 1.3 Confirm target animal movement patterns, behaviour and lifecycles to determine trapping location and placement of equipment and appropriate timing of trapping activity 1.4 Identify potential non-target animals 1.5 Estimate time required to complete trapping 1.6 Identify and check vehicles, materials and equipment required for trapping 1.7 Select appropriate traps for target animal and the environment 1.8 Clean, maintain and prepare trapping equipment 1.9 Identify hazards associated with trapping and select appropriate personal protective equipment 1.10 Identify and manage environmental risks associated with trapping animals 1.11 Obtain relevant permissions to enter property 1.12 Determine precautions for minimising trapping of non-target animals
2. Place and set traps	2.1 Undertake site surveillance prior to setting traps 2.2 Select and prepare site to maximise opportunity for trapping target animals and minimise the chance of trapping non-target animals 2.3 Position, set and calibrate trapping equipment and check it for strength and security 2.4 Apply lures, decoys, baits or toxins as necessary 2.5 Camouflage traps as required 2.6 Apply precautions to prevent trapping of non-target animals 2.7 Set traps in accordance with legislative requirements and animal welfare codes of practice
3. Check and remove traps	3.1 Inspect traps at the required frequency 3.2 Identify trapped animals then release, humanely destroy or

	prepare for transport as required 3.3 Handle captured animals humanely and in accordance with animal welfare codes of practice 3.4 Transport animals from site, when required, in a safe and appropriate manner 3.5 Observe work health and safety procedures and public safety requirements prior to and during trapping activities 3.6 Release trap mechanism safely and remove trap 3.7 Restore trap-site to its prior condition
4. Record data	4.1 Use Global Positioning System (GPS) loggers 4.2 Use appropriate data sheets or other recording instruments to record details of trap sets and lures as well as target and non-target capture
5. Clean and store equipment and material	5.1 Clean and store carcases for research or other purposes 5.2 Clean and store equipment and materials to workplace standards to minimise biosecurity risks 5.3 Record target and non-target kills
6. Report completion of work	6.1 Report results of trapping activities, including any incidents with animals

Assessment Requirements for AHCPMG307 Apply animal trapping techniques

Modification History

Release	TP Version	Comment
1	AHCv1.0	Initial release

Performance Evidence

The candidate must be assessed on their ability to integrate and apply the performance requirements of this unit in a workplace setting. Performance must be demonstrated consistently over time and in a suitable range of contexts.

The candidate must provide evidence that they can:

- humanely trap animals and release or destroy the animals as required, following Standard Operating Procedures
- identify target and non-target animals present in area
- check vehicles, equipment and materials for serviceability and clean equipment before starting and on completing the job
- select and prepare the trapping site and restore it on completion of the job
- position, set, calibrating and regularly checking trapping equipment
- apply lures or baits, if required
- select, use and store baits or toxins according to workplace procedures
- handle and euthanase captured animals in accordance with animal welfare guidelines
- summarise and present trapping data to supervisor
- clean and store equipment and carcases using approved chemicals in accordance with Safety Data Sheets and enterprise procedures to minimise biosecurity risks to other animals
- apply work health and safety practices in the context of own work
- apply appropriate environmental sustainability practices in the context of own work
- apply appropriate animal welfare practices in the context of own work

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must demonstrate knowledge of:

- basic requirements for ensuring the welfare of animals described in the relevant Codes of Practice
- the purpose for trapping the animal

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

- the target animal's range, movement patterns and behaviour and how to apply knowledge of these to selecting trapping location and equipment
- the reproductive cycle of the target animal to determine appropriate timing of trapping activities
- food preferences, both general and local, of target animals
- capture and kill points for target animals
- permissions that may be required to undertake trapping
- principles relating to property, stock and duty of care
- precautions that need to be taken to minimise trapping of non-target animals
- how to camouflage traps
- how to safely set off traps to render them inactive
- work health and safety procedures that relate to trapping animals
- recording and reporting requirements
- how to use decoys and lures
- how to prepare baits or toxins
- applicable State or Territory legislation on the use and storage of baits or toxins
- applicable legislation on the capture and handling of animals
- suitable traps and techniques for the target animal
- target animals and non-target native animals also found in the area
- suitable personal protective equipment
- transportation methods for captured animals

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a real work environment, under work conditions, setting traps for live animals.

If firearms are used to destroy animals then the assessment team must hold firearms licences.

Assessors must satisfy current standards for RTOs.

AVID0001 Package dangerous goods for air transport

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the AVI Aviation Training Package.

Application

This unit involves the skills and knowledge required to package dangerous goods for air transport, in compliance with relevant regulatory requirements of the Civil Aviation Safety Authority (CASA) and national operating standards.

It includes selecting appropriate packing instructions, identifying and selecting packing, packaging dangerous goods, labelling and marking dangerous goods, and stowing packaged dangerous goods in accordance with regulatory requirements.

This unit addresses aviation technical skill requirements (physical, mental and task-management abilities) related to load handling duties of ground operations personnel, and contributes to safe and effective performance in complex aviation operational environments.

Operations are conducted as part of recreational, commercial and military aircraft activities across a variety of operational contexts within the Australian aviation industry.

Work is performed independently or under limited supervision as a single operator or within a team environment.

Licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements are applicable to this unit.

Use for Defence Aviation is to be in accordance with relevant Defence Orders, Instructions, Publications and Regulations.

Assessment Requirements for AVID0001 Package dangerous goods for air transport

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the AVI Aviation Training Package.

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria on at least one occasion and include:

- applying precautions and required action to minimise, control or eliminate identified hazards
- applying relevant legislation and workplace procedures
- communicating effectively with others
- completing relevant documentation, including labelling and marking packaged dangerous goods
- identifying and correctly using relevant equipment
- implementing work health and safety (WHS)/occupational health and safety (OHS) procedures and relevant regulations
- interpreting and following operational instructions and prioritising work
- modifying activities depending on workplace contingencies, situations and environments
- monitoring and anticipating operational problems and hazards and taking appropriate action
- reading, interpreting and following relevant regulations, instructions, procedures, information, signs and labels
- reporting and/or rectifying identified promptly, in accordance with regulatory requirements and workplace procedures
- selecting and using required personal protective equipment (PPE) conforming to industry and WHS/OHS standards.

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria and include knowledge of:

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

- characteristics and ways of identifying various classes of dangerous goods
- documentation requirements for transporting appropriate dangerous goods by air
- problems that may occur when packaging dangerous goods for air transport and appropriate action that should be taken in each case
- relevant regulatory requirements pertaining to packaging, packing, marking, labelling, documenting, storing and despatching dangerous goods designated for air transport, including International Air Transport Association (IATA) and Civil Aviation Safety Authority (CASA) requirements
- relevant WHS/OHS and environmental procedures and regulations
- risks that exist when packaging dangerous goods for air transport and related risk control procedures and precautions
- safety principles for packaging dangerous goods for air transport
- workplace procedures for packaging, packing, marking, labelling, documenting, storing and despatching dangerous goods designated for air transport.

Assessment Conditions

As a minimum, assessors must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

As a minimum, assessment must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

Assessment must occur in workplace operational situations. Where this is not appropriate, assessment must occur in simulated workplace operational situations that reflect workplace conditions.

Assessment processes and techniques must be appropriate to the language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the work being performed and the needs of the candidate.

Resources for assessment must include access to:

- a range of relevant exercises, case studies and/or simulations
- acceptable means of simulation assessment
- applicable documentation including workplace procedures, regulations, codes of practice and operation manuals
- relevant materials, tools, equipment and personal protective equipment currently used in industry.

AVIW3006 Refuel aircraft

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the AVI Aviation Training Package.

Application

This unit involves the skills and knowledge required to refuel aircraft, in compliance with relevant regulatory requirements of the Civil Aviation Safety Authority (CASA) and national operating standards.

It includes conducting pre-operational checks on fueller/dispenser vehicle and equipment, loading fueller, and positioning fueller/dispenser vehicle. It also includes carrying out refuelling operations, completing post-refuelling operations, and completing documentation.

This unit addresses aviation technical skill requirements (physical, mental and task-management abilities) related to equipment and system operations of ground operations personnel, and contributes to safe and effective performance in complex aviation operational environments.

Operations are conducted as part of recreational, commercial and military aircraft activities across a variety of operational contexts within the Australian aviation industry.

Work is performed independently or under limited supervision as a single operator or within a team environment.

Licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements are applicable to this unit.

ELEMENTS	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
1 Conduct pre-operational checks on fueller/dispenser vehicle and equipment	1.1 Personal protective equipment is selected and used in accordance with workplace procedures
	1.2 Hazards are identified, risks are assessed and hazard management is implemented
	1.3 Pre-operational checks of fueller/dispenser vehicle and auxiliary equipment are conducted
	1.4 Problems or defects identified during pre-operational checks are reported or rectified in accordance with workplace procedures and manufacturer requirements
	1.5 Outcomes of pre-operational checks are reported and recorded
2 Load fueller	2.1 Vehicle is positioned at loading bay and all precautionary and reporting requirements are carried out
	2.2 Vehicle is grounded and loading bay bonding lead is connected to fueller
	2.3 Fueller is dipped and ullage is determined
	2.4 Loading operations and quality control checks are completed
3 Position fueller/dispenser vehicle	3.1 Fueller/dispenser vehicle is moved to aircraft
	3.2 Aircraft is approached after checks are made to confirm aircraft engines have stopped and aircraft wheel chocks are in place
	3.3 Vehicle is positioned either underwing or standoff, depending on aircraft type
	3.4 Appropriate precautions are taken to avoid risk of collision with aircraft control surfaces and engines

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

	3.5	Fueller/dispenser vehicle is parked in a position that provides easiest route for evacuation in an emergency
4 Carry out refuelling operations	4.1	Vehicle is grounded and bonding lead is connected to aircraft
	4.2	Pressure refuelling auxiliary equipment is positioned and hose is connected
	4.3	Hydrant dispenser delivery hoses and couplings are connected to aircraft and intake hose is connected to inlet coupler
	4.4	Aircraft is refuelled to required fuel quantity or tank capacity
5 Complete post-refuelling operations	5.1	Refuelling operations are completed
	5.2	Fuel sample is taken from filter sump/inlet and visual check is made prior to aircraft departure
	5.3	Hoses, couplings and auxiliary equipment are disconnected and stowed
	5.4	Hydrant dispenser lanyard is disconnected, and pit valve dust cover and hydrant pit lid are replaced
	5.5	Reel hoses are rewound and stowed
	5.6	Fueller/dispenser vehicle is driven either to depot or to next aircraft in accordance with workplace procedures, regulatory requirements and local instructions
6 Complete documentation	6.1	Hard copy documentation and paperwork is completed as required and airline representative's signature is obtained
	6.2	Electronic fuel management systems are used to report, record and verify refuel operations

Foundation Skills

Foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit of competency.

Range of Conditions

Range is restricted to essential operating conditions and any other variables essential to the work environment.

Pre-operational checks must include:	• air-pressure after start-up • auxiliary equipment • brake interlock override switch seal • brake test • fire extinguishers • personal protective equipment (PPE) • radio check with base • required documentation • sampling equipment and water detection capsules • serviceability of ladder or portable steps • sufficient fuel in fueller for planned refuelling job • vehicle parked in designated area • visual inspection for leaks, defects and obstructions
Personal protective equipment must include:	• approved uniform • gloves • hearing protection • high visibility clothing • mask or respirator • safety glasses • safety headwear and footwear
Hazards must include one or more of the following:	• contamination of, or from, materials being handled • dust • fuel vapours • hazardous or dangerous materials • hot engines, static electricity, sparks and other forms of ignition • jet blast • noise • other additives (such as water, methanol, icing inhibitors) • other vehicles on tarmac • rotating propellers • spill, leakages, ruptures

As a minimum, assessors must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

As a minimum, assessment must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

Assessment must occur in workplace operational situations. Where this is not appropriate, assessment must occur in simulated workplace operational situations that reflect workplace conditions.

Assessment processes and techniques must be appropriate to the language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the work being performed and the needs of the candidate.

Resources for assessment must include access to:

- a range of relevant exercises, case studies and/or simulations
- acceptable means of simulation assessment
- applicable documentation including workplace procedures, regulations, codes of practice and operation manuals
- relevant materials, tools, equipment and personal protective equipment currently used in industry.

BSBAUD501 Initiate a quality audit

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to initiate and organise a quality audit with an auditee. It covers assessing the scope and objectives of a quality audit; communicating with the auditee regarding the proposed quality audit; identifying resources required to conduct the audit; and developing and submitting a quality audit plan. The types of audits may include external or internal systems audits or process or product/service audits.

It applies to individuals with a well-established theoretical knowledge base in quality auditing who are proficient in using a wide range of specialised, quality auditing and managerial techniques to plan, carry out and evaluate a quality audit. Individuals also supervise and monitor the processes and outcomes of others working in a quality audit team.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to create an environment that enables and supports the application of innovative practice focusing on a holistic approach to the integration of innovation across all areas of work practice.

It applies to individuals working in leadership or management roles in any industry or community context. The individual could be employed by the organisation, but may also be an external contractor, the leader of a cross organisation team or of a self-formed team of individuals. The work group could be permanent or temporary in nature.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENT	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
1 Lead innovation by example	1.1 Make innovation an integral part of leadership and management activities 1.2 Demonstrate positive reception of ideas from others and provide constructive advice 1.3 Establish and maintain relationships based on mutual respect and trust

	1.4 Take considered risks to open up opportunities for innovation 1.5 Regularly evaluate own approaches for consistency with the wider organisational or project context
2 Establish work practices that support innovation	2.1 Consult on and establish working conditions that reflect and encourage innovative practice 2.2 Introduce and maintain workplace procedures that foster innovation and allow for rigorous evaluation of innovative ideas 2.3 Facilitate and participate in collaborative work arrangements to foster innovation 2.4 Build and lead teams to work in ways that maximise opportunities for innovation
3 Promote innovation	3.1 Acknowledge suggestions, improvements and innovations from all colleagues 3.2 Find appropriate ways of celebrating and promoting innovation 3.3 Promote and reinforce the value of innovation according to the vision and objectives of the organisation or project 3.4 Promote and support the evaluation of innovative ideas within the wider organisational or project context
4 Create a physical environment which supports innovation	4.1 Evaluate the impact of the physical environment in relation to innovation 4.2 Collaborate with colleagues about ideas for enhancing the physical work environment before taking action 4.3 Consider potential for supporting innovation when selecting physical resources and equipment 4.4 Design, fit-out and decorate workspaces to encourage creative mindsets, collaborative working and the development of positive workplace relationships
5 Provide learning opportunities	5.1 Pro-actively share relevant information, knowledge and skills with colleagues 5.2 Provide or encourage formal and informal learning opportunities to help develop the skills needed for innovation 5.3 Create opportunities in which individuals can learn from the experience of others

This section describes language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills incorporated in the performance criteria that are required for competent performance.

Skill	Performance Criteria	Description
Reading	1.5, 2.2, 4.1, 5.1	• Interprets and evaluates information that may deal with complex ideas related to issues both within and outside a given workplace context
Writing	3.3, 3.4, 5.1	• Develops information for others using language to suit the context and audience
Oral Communication	1.2, 2.1, 2.3, 3.1, 3.3, 3.4, 5.1	• Presents ideas and concepts to a range of audiences using structure and language to suit the audience • Uses active listening and questioning to discuss and clarify information and to confirm understanding
Navigate the world of work	1.1, 1.5, 2.1, 2.2, 3.3, 5.1, 5.2	• Takes responsibility for implementing practices and procedures to achieve organisational objectives in innovation according to role requirements • Stays up to date with professional development options to provide relevant information to staff
Interact with others	1.2, 1.3, 2.3, 2.4, 3.1-3.4, 4.2, 5.1, 5.3	• Uses appropriate communication techniques to build rapport and foster strong relationships with co-workers in a range of work contexts • Uses inclusive and collaborative techniques to share, promote and convey complex information about new ideas and systems within the workplace
Get the work done	1.1, 1.4, 1.5, 2.1, 3.2, 3.3, 4.1, 4.3, 4.4, 5.2, 5.3	• Accepts responsibility for planning and implementing tasks and practices to achieve organisational goals, negotiating key aspects with others and taking into account current capabilities and needs • Develops new and innovative ideas through exploration, evaluation, analysis and critical thinking • Facilitates a climate where people feel comfortable suggesting and discussing improvements or new ideas • Uses problem solving processes to identify, assess and respond to challenges and risks around innovation

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to maximise opportunities for innovation by:

- establishing procedures and practices that foster innovation including:
  - collaborative work arrangements
  - building team capacity to contribute to innovation
  - providing formal and informal learning opportunities
  - evaluating ideas
  - celebration and promotion of innovation
  - consultation
  - respectful communications and sharing of ideas and feedback
- reinforcing the value of innovation to the vision and objectives of the organisation,
- model ling behaviour including being receptive to ideas, giving constructive advice, evaluating own work, establishing and maintaining relationships based on mutual respect and trust, taking considered risks that provide opportunities for innovation
- evaluating how the physical environment can be enhanced to support innovation and collaboration and collaborating on ideas to make improvements including in the selection of physical resources and equipment, and the design, fit-out and decoration of the workspaces
- making changes to a workspace that will encourage innovation in at least one of
  - design
  - fit-out
  - decoration.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- explain the concepts and theories of innovation and how these link to innovation in practice
- explain the context for innovation in the workplace including core business values, overall objectives, broader environmental context and the need to ensure the value and benefit of innovative ideas and projects
- discuss the factors and tools that can motivate individuals to use creative thinking and apply innovative work practices
- research the legislative framework that impacts on operations in the relevant workplace context
- explain how different approaches to management and leadership can support or hinder innovation
- discuss typical challenges and barriers to innovation within teams and organisations and ways of overcoming these including rewarding and celebrating innovation, coaching and learning, modelling behaviour and managing the physical environment.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced in the creativity and innovation and include access to:

- workplace documents
- case studies and, where possible, real situations
- office equipment and resources
- interaction with others.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

BSBITU101 Operate a personal computer

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to start up and use a range of basic functions on a personal computer or business computer terminal.

It applies to individuals who perform a range of routine computer tasks in the various sectors of the business services industry and generally work under direct supervision.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Unit Sector

Information and Communications Technology – IT Use

ELEMENT	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
1 Start computer, system information and features	1.1 Adjust workspace, furniture and equipment to suit user ergonomic requirements 1.2 Ensure work meets organisational and work health and safety (WHS) requirements for computer operation 1.3 Start computer or log on according to user procedures 1.4 Identify basic functions and features using system information 1.5 Customise desktop configuration, if necessary, with assistance from appropriate persons

	1.6 Use help functions as required
2 Navigate and manipulate desktop environment	2.1 Open, close and access features by selecting correct desktop icons 2.2 Open, resize and close desktop windows by using correct window functions 2.3 Create shortcuts onto the desktop, if necessary, with assistance from appropriate persons
3 Organise files using basic directory and folder structures	3.1 Create folders/subfolders with suitable names 3.2 Save files with suitable names in appropriate folders 3.3 Rename and move folders/subfolders and files as required 3.4 Identify folder/subfolder and file attributes 3.5 Move folders/subfolders and files using cut and paste, and drag and drop techniques 3.6 Save folders/subfolders and files to appropriate media where necessary 3.7 Search for folders/subfolders and files using appropriate software tools 3.8 Restore deleted folder/subfolders and files as necessary
4 Print information	4.1 Print information from installed printer 4.2 View progress of print jobs and delete as required 4.3 Change default printer, if installed
5 Shut down computer	5.1 Close all open applications 5.2 Shut down computer according to user procedures

Foundation Skills

This section describes language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills incorporated in the performance criteria that are required for competent performance.

Skill	Performance Criteria	Description
Reading	1.3, 1.5, 1.6, 3.1-3.8, 4.1-4.3, 5.1, 5.2	• Recognises textual information within internal procedures and technical documents to determine and complete work requirements

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- adjust equipment, furniture and workspace to suit individual ergonomic requirements
- follow organisational and WHS requirements when operating a computer
- follow user procedures and system information when using the basic functions on a computer, seeking assistance when necessary
- use desktop icons and create shortcuts
- create and manipulate folders and subfolders
- check and delete print jobs and change default printer
- correctly shut down software applications and the computer.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- outline the main work health and safety requirements for working with a computer
- list the main points to consider when setting up an ergonomic work environment
- list the main components of the computer system, and briefly explain what each one does
- briefly explain the functions of the operating system
- outline the organisation’s conventions for naming files

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced in the information and communications technology – IT use field of work and include access to:

	2.2 Ensure spreadsheet design enhances readability and appearance, and meets organisational and task requirements for style and layout 2.3 Use style sheets and automatic functions to ensure consistency of design and layout
3. Create spreadsheet	3.1 Ensure data is entered, checked and amended to maintain consistency of design and layout, in accordance with organisational and task requirements 3.2 Format spreadsheet using software functions to adjust page and cell layout to meet information requirements, in accordance with organisational style and presentation requirements 3.3 Ensure formulae are tested and used to confirm output meets task requirements, in consultation with appropriate personnel as required 3.4 Use manuals, user documentation and online help to overcome problems with spreadsheet design and production
4. Produce simple charts	4.1 Select chart type and design that enables valid representation of numerical data, and meets organisational and task requirements 4.2 Create charts using appropriate data range in spreadsheet 4.3 Modify chart type and layout using formatting features
5. Finalise spreadsheets	5.1 Preview, adjust and print spreadsheet and any accompanying charts, in accordance with task requirements 5.2 Ensure data input meets designated timelines and organisational requirements for speed and accuracy 5.3 Name and store spreadsheet in accordance with organisational requirements and exit application without data loss/damage

Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit defines skills, knowledge and outcomes required to plan and supervise the performance of the team and develop team cohesion.

It applies team leaders, supervisors and new emerging managers who have an important leadership role in the development of efficient and effective work teams.

Leaders at this level also provide leadership for the team and bridge the gap between the management of the organisation and the team members. As such they must 'manage up' as well as manage their team/s.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

BSBLEG308 Assist in prioritising and planning activities in a legal practice

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to assist others within a legal practice to organise a legal schedule.

It applies to individuals who work under supervision to arrange appointments and other activities based on court dates and required legislative timeframes. In this role, individuals apply a broad range of administrative competencies in a legal office work environment, using some discretion and judgement. They provide support to legal practitioners and may provide technical advice and support to a team.

This unit underpins all units of competency in the Legal Services stream.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

BSBMGT403 Implement continuous improvement

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to implement the organisation's continuous improvement systems and processes. It covers using systems and strategies to actively encourage the team to participate in the process, monitoring and reviewing performance, and identifying opportunities for further improvements.

It applies to managers who have an active role in implementing the continuous improvement process to achieve the organisation's objectives. Their position is closely associated with the creation and delivery of products and services which means that they have an important role in influencing the ongoing development of the organisation.

At this level, work will normally be carried out within routine and non-routine methods and procedures, which require planning, evaluation, leadership and guidance of others.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

BSBMGT502 Manage people performance

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to manage the performance of staff who report to them directly. Development of key result areas and key performance indicators and standards, coupled with regular and timely coaching and feedback, provide the basis for performance management.

It applies to individuals who manage people. It covers work allocation and the methods to review performance, reward excellence and provide feedback where there is a need for improvement.

The unit makes the link between performance management and performance development, and reinforces both functions as a key requirement for effective managers.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

BSBPMG418 Apply project stakeholder engagement techniques

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to assist in managing stakeholder relationships during a project. It involves ensuring timely and appropriate involvement of key individuals, organisations and groups throughout the project.

It applies to individuals who are project practitioners working in a project support role.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Management and Leadership – Project Management

ELEMENT	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
1. Assist in identifying and addressing stakeholder interests	1.1 Assist in identifying stakeholders relevant to project objectives 1.2 Segment stakeholder interests and assist in determining forms of engagement 1.3 Consider interests of stakeholders when advising on project operations 1.4 Support actions to address differing stakeholder interests where required
2. Actively participate in	2.1 Apply interpersonal skills to ensure stakeholder engagement is

Assessment Requirements for BSBPMG418 Apply project stakeholder engagement techniques

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- work with others to establish various stakeholders needs and interests
- engage with project stakeholders using effective interpersonal skills and appropriate methods of communication
- select and use communications methods relevant to the project needs and stakeholder expectations
- complete all relevant documentation.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- describe different types of stakeholders
- explain the different levels of stakeholder engagement on projects
- describe techniques and strategies for stakeholder engagement
- explain why the interests and expectations of stakeholders must be considered
- describe common problems leading to variances in stakeholder engagement.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced in the management and leadership – project management field of work and include access to:

- project documentation detailing stakeholder engagement
- examples of stakeholder engagement activities.

Evidence Guide

EVIDENCE GUIDE
The Evidence Guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.
Overview of assessment
Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit	Evidence of the following is essential: • identification, analysis and evaluation of risks • demonstrated understanding of personal role in relation to wider organisational or project context • demonstrated understanding of risk management processes and procedures.
Context of and specific resources for assessment	Assessment must ensure: • access to workplace documentation relating to risk management • access to risk management tools and frameworks.
Method of assessment	A range of assessment methods should be used to assess practical skills and knowledge. The following examples are appropriate for this unit: • direct questioning combined with review of portfolios of evidence and third party workplace reports of on-the-job performance by the candidate • review of documentation outlining risk analysis processes and outcomes • analysis of responses to case studies and scenarios • oral or written questioning to assess knowledge of Australian and international standards for risk management • review of implementation of treatment plans.
Guidance information for assessment	Holistic assessment with other units relevant to the industry sector, workplace and job role is recommended, for example:

EVIDENCE GUIDE
	• general administration units • other risk management units.

RANGE STATEMENT
The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.
Context may include:	• any related projects or organisations • any resources, including physical assets, which are vital to operations • key operational elements and service of the organisation • organisation or project, how it is organised and its capabilities • own role and responsibilities in relation to overall project or organisation design
Risks may include:	• commercial and legal relationships • economic circumstances and scenarios • human behaviour • individual activities • management activities and controls • natural events • political circumstances • positive risk • technology - technological issues
Tools may include:	• documentation to assist in process of identifying risk, and assessing impact and likelihood of occurrence • standard instruments developed for the organisation and contextualised for sections of the workplace's operations, such as checklists and testing procedures • tools to prioritise risks, including where relevant, numerical scoring systems for risks

Stakeholders may include:	• contractors • employees • financial managers • insurance agents • managers • public • service providers • suppliers • unions • volunteers

Risk categorisation may include:	• likelihood of risks:
	  • almost certain
	  • likely
	  • possible
	  • unlikely
	  • rare
	• consequences of risks:
	  • insignificant
	  • minor
	  • moderate
	  • major
	  • catastrophic
	  • current control measures

Level of risk may include:	• low, treated with routine procedures • moderate, with specific responsibility allocated for the risk, and monitoring and response procedures implemented • high, requiring action, as it has potential to be damaging to the organisation or project • extreme, requiring immediate action, as it has potential to be devastating to the organisation or project

Control measures may include:	• hierarchy of controls:
	  • reduction in likelihood of risks
	  • reduction of consequences of risks
	  • retention of risks
	  • risk aversion
	  • transfer of responsibility of risks

RANGE STATEMENT
Measures of success may include:	• costs • reductions in impact • reductions in likelihood • reductions in occurrence

Application

This unit describes skills and knowledge required to manage risks in a range of contexts across an organisation or for a specific business unit or area in any industry setting.

It applies to individuals who are working in positions of authority and are approved to implement change across the organisation, business unit, program or project area. They may or may not have responsibility for directly supervising others.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Unit Sector

Regulation, Licensing and Risk – Risk Management

Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
1. Establish risk context	1.1 Review organisational processes, procedures and requirements for undertaking risk management in accordance with current risk management standards 1.2 Determine scope for risk management process 1.3 Identify internal and external stakeholders and their issues 1.4 Review political, economic, social, legal, technological and policy context

	1.5 Review strengths and weaknesses of existing arrangements 1.6 Document critical success factors, goals or objectives for area included in scope 1.7 Obtain support for risk management activities 1.8 Communicate with relevant parties about the risk management process and invite participation
2. Identify risks	2.1 Invite relevant parties to assist in the identification of risks 2.2 Research risks that may apply to scope 2.3 Use tools and techniques to generate a list of risks that apply to the scope, in consultation with relevant parties
3. Analyse risks	3.1 Assess likelihood of risks occurring 3.2 Assess impact or consequence if risks occur 3.3 Evaluate and prioritise risks for treatment
4. Select and implement treatments	4.1 Determine and select most appropriate options for treating risks 4.2 Develop an action plan for implementing risk treatment 4.3 Communicate risk management processes to relevant parties 4.4 Ensure all documentation is in order and appropriately stored 4.5 Implement and monitor action plan 4.6 Evaluate risk management process

This section describes language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills incorporated in the performance criteria that are required for competent performance.

Skill	Performance Criteria	Description
Reading	1.1, 1.4, 1.5, 2.2	• Comprehends a variety of relatively complex texts • Gathers, interprets and analyses textual information from a range of sources to identify relevant information
Writing	1.6, 1.8, 2.1, 2.3, 4.3	• Develops textual material and organises content in a manner that effectively documents

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- analyse information from a range of sources to identify the scope and context of the risk management process including:
  - stakeholder analysis
  - political, economic, social, legal, technological and policy context
  - current arrangements
  - objectives and critical success factors for the area included in scope
  - risks that may apply to scope
- consult and communicate with relevant stakeholders to identify and assess risks, determine appropriate risk treatment actions and priorities and explain the risk management processes
- develop and implement an action plan to treat risks
- monitor and evaluate the action plan and risk management process
- maintain documentation.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- outline the purpose and key elements of current risk management standards
- outline the legislative and regulatory context of the organisation in relation to risk management
- outline organisational policies, procedures and processes for risk management.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced in the regulation, licensing and risk - risk management field of work and include access to:

- relevant legislation, regulations, standards and codes
- relevant workplace documentation and resources
- case studies and, where possible, real situations
- interaction with others.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- locate and interpret a range of environment/sustainability legislation and procedural requirements
- participate in and support discussions for an improved resource efficiency process
- identify, document and measure usage of resources
- collaborate with team members on suggestions for improving workplace practices.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- identify environmental and resource hazards/risks as well as environmental or sustainability legislation, regulations and codes of practice applicable to own role
- outline sustainability requirements in the workplace
- identify reporting channels and procedures to report breaches and potential issues
- identify where to find environmental and resource efficiency systems and procedures.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced in the sustainability field of work and include access to:

- documentation, information and resources related to workplace environmental and resource efficiency issues
- office equipment and resources

Unit Descriptor

Unit descriptor	This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to effectively measure current resource use and to carry out improvements including reducing the negative environmental impact of work practices. This unit requires the ability to access industry information, and applicable legislative and occupational health and safety (OHS) guidelines. While no licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements apply holistically to this unit at the time of publication, relevant national, state and territory legislation, regulations and codes of practice impact upon this unit.

Application of the Unit

Application of the unit	This unit applies to operators/team members under supervision or guidance, who are required to follow workplace procedures and instructions, and to work in an environmentally sustainable manner. It covers: efficient resource use potential environmental hazards regulatory compliance improving environmental performance (within the scope of competency, authority and own level of responsibility). It addresses the knowledge, processes and techniques necessary to participate in environmentally sustainable work practices.

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- analytical skills to comply with all relevant legislation associated with job specifications and procedures
- communication and problem-solving skills to question, seek clarification and make suggestions relating to work requirements and efficiency
- communication and teamwork skills to recognise procedures; to follow instructions; to respond to change, such as current workplace environmental/sustainability frameworks; and to support team work and participation in a sustainable organisation
- literacy, numeracy and technology skills to interpret workplace information in relation to work role, and to document and measure resource use
- technology skills to select and use technology appropriate for a task.

Required knowledge

- environmental and resource hazards/risks
- environmental or sustainability legislation, regulations and codes of practice applicable to own work role
- OHS issues and requirements
- organisational structure, and reporting channels and procedures
- relevant environmental and resource efficiency systems and procedures
- sustainability in the workplace

Evidence Guide

EVIDENCE GUIDE
The Evidence Guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.
Overview of assessment
Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit	Evidence of the following is essential: • accessing, interpreting and complying with a range of environment/sustainability legislation and procedural requirements relevant to daily responsibilities • accurately following organisational information to participate in and support an improved resource efficiency process and reporting as required • developing and/or using tools such as inspection checklists, to collect and measure relevant information on organisation resource consumption, within work role • identifying organisational improvements by applying efficient resource use to daily activities • knowledge of environmental and resource hazards/risks.
Context of and specific resources for assessment	Assessment must ensure: • access to an actual workplace or simulated environment • evidence is relevant to the particular workplace role, including work area, equipment, systems, and documentation • review of current work area directly relating to own work, to assess measurement of resources used, hazards and compliance • individual or team discussion about potential for increased resource efficiency within current work area • access to workplace documents, information and resources (such as compliance obligations, enterprise

	plans, work responsibilities).
Method of assessment	A range of assessment methods should be used t assess practical skills and knowledge. The following examples are appropriate for this unit: • direct questioning combined with review of portfolios of evidence and third party workplace reports of on-the-job performance by the candidate • observation of demonstrated techniques over time and in a range of situations • analysis of responses to case studies and scenarios • review of documentation measuring current resource usage • evaluation of techniques used to document and measure current usage of resources • review of identified and reported workplace environmental hazards • evidence of active participation in organisational plans to improve environmental practices and resource efficiency.
Guidance information for assessment	Holistic assessment with other units relevant to the industry sector, workplace and job role is recommended, for example: • BSBINN201A Contribute to workplace innovation • BSBSMB301A Investigate micro business opportunities • BSBWOR202A Organise and complete daily work activities.

RANGE STATEMENT
The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.
Environmental and resource	• maximising opportunities to improve business environmental performance

efficiency issues may include:	• minimising environmental risks • promoting more efficient production and consumption of natural resources, for example minimising waste by participating in or using a waste management system • using resources efficiently such as material usage, energy usage (seeking alternative sources of energy or energy conservation) or efficient water usage
Appropriate techniques may include:	• examining and documenting resources in work area • examining invoices from suppliers • examining relevant information and data • measuring resource usage under different conditions • reports from other parties involved in the process of identifying and implementing improvements

Compliance may include:	• meeting relevant laws, by-laws and regulations or best practice to support compliance in environmental performance and sustainability at each level as required (such as Environmental Protection or Biodiversity Conservation Act):
	  • international
	  • commonwealth
	  • state/territory
	  • local government
	  • industry
	  • organisation

Organisational plans may include:	• documented policies and procedures • work plans to minimise waste or to increase efficiency of resources such as a green office program, supply chain program for purchasing sustainable products or an environmental management framework
Suggestions may include ideas that help to:	• improve energy efficiency • increase use of renewable, recyclable, reusable and recoverable resources • maximise opportunities such as use of solar power or other alternative forms of energy, where appropriate

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

RANGE STATEMENT
	• prevent and minimise risks • reduce emissions of greenhouse gases • reduce use of non-renewable resources

Unit Descriptor

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to effectively analyse the workplace in relation to environmentally sustainable work practices and to implement improvements and monitor their effectiveness.

This unit requires the ability to access industry information, applicable legislative and occupational health and safety (OHS) guidelines.

Application of the Unit

Application of the unit	This unit applies to those with responsibility for a specific area of work or who lead a work group or team. It addresses the knowledge, processes and techniques necessary to implement and monitor environmentally sustainable work practices, including the development of processes and tools, such as: • identifying areas for improvement • developing plans to make improvements • implementing and monitoring improvements in environmental performance. A person who demonstrates competence in this unit must be able to provide evidence of the ability to implement and monitor integrated environmental and resource efficiency management policies and procedures within an organisation. Evidence must be strictly relevant to the

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- analytical skills to analyse problems, to devise solutions and to reflect on approaches taken
- change management skills
- communication skills to answer questions, clarify and acknowledge suggestions relating to work requirements and efficiency
- communication/consultation skills to support information flow from stakeholders to the work group
- innovation skills to identify improvements, to apply knowledge about resource use to organisational activities and to develop tools
- literacy skills to comprehend documentation, to interpret environmental and energy efficiency requirements, to create tools to measure and monitor improvements and to report outcomes
- numeracy skills to analyse data on organisational resource consumption and waste product volumes
- planning and organising skills to implement environmental and energy efficiency management polices and procedures relevant to own work area
- problem-solving skills to devise approaches to improved environmental sustainability and to develop alternative approaches as required
- technology skills to operate and shut down equipment; where relevant, to use software systems for recording and filing documentation to measure current usage; and to use word processing and other basic software for interpreting charts, flowcharts, graphs and other visual data and information
- supervisory skills to work effectively with a team.

Required knowledge

- best practice approaches relevant to own area of responsibility and industry
- compliance requirements within work area for all relevant environmental/sustainability legislation, regulations and codes of practice including resource hazards/risks associated with work area, job specifications and procedures
- environmental and energy efficiency issues, systems and procedures specific to industry practice
- external benchmarks and support for particular benchmarks to be used within organisation, including approaches to improving resource use for work area and expected outcomes

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

- OHS issues and requirements
- organisational structure and reporting channels and procedures
- quality assurance systems relevant to own work area
- strategies to maximise opportunities and to minimise impact relevant to own work area
- supply chain procedures
- terms and conditions of employment including policies and procedures, such as daily tasks, work area responsibilities, employee, supervisor and employer rights, equal opportunity.

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment
Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit	Evidence of the following is essential: • knowledge of relevant compliance requirements within work area • developing plans to make improvements • planning and organising work group activities in relation to measuring current use and devising strategies to improve usage • monitoring resource use and improvements for environmental performance relative to work area and supervision • ensuring appropriate action is taken within work area in relation to environmental/sustainability compliance and potential hazards • implementing new approaches to work area in an effort to resolve and improve environmental and resource efficiency issues and reporting as required.
Context of and specific resources for assessment	Assessment must ensure: • access to an actual workplace or simulated environment • access to a range of environment/sustainability legislation, standards, guidelines and procedural requirements relevant to specific work area, daily

Guidance information for assessment	Holistic assessment with other units relevant to the industry sector, workplace and job role is recommended.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

Compliance may include:	• meeting relevant laws, by-laws and regulations or best practice or codes of practice to support compliance in environmental performance and sustainability at each level as required (such as Environmental Protection or Biodiversity Conservation Act):
	  • international
	  • commonwealth
	  • state/territory
	  • industry
	  • organisation.

Sources may include:	• organisation specifications • regulatory sources • relevant stakeholders • resource use.
Purchasing strategies may include:	• influencing suppliers to take up environmental sustainability approaches • researching and participating in programs such as a supply chain program to purchase sustainable products.

Stakeholders, key personnel and specialists may include:	• individuals and groups both inside and outside the organisation who have direct or indirect interest in the organisation’s conduct, actions, products and services, including:
	  • customers
	  • employees at all levels of the organisation
	  • government

	• investors • local community • other organisations • suppliers • key personnel within the organisation, and specialists outside the organisation who may have particular technical expertise.
Techniques and tools may include:	• examination of invoices from suppliers • examination of relevant information and data • measurements made under different conditions • others as appropriate to the specific industry context.

Environmental and resource efficiency improvement plans may include:	• addressing environmental and resource sustainability initiatives such as environmental management systems, action plans, green office programs, surveys and audits
	• applying the waste management hierarchy in the workplace
	• determining organisation's most appropriate waste treatment including waste to landfill, recycling, re-use, recoverable resources and wastewater treatment
	• initiating and/or maintaining appropriate organisational procedures for operational energy consumption, including stationary energy and non-stationary (transport)
	• preventing and minimising risks, and maximising opportunities such as:
	  • improving resource/energy efficiency
	  • reducing emissions of greenhouse gases
	• reducing use of non-renewable resources
	• referencing standards, guidelines and approaches such as:
	  • ecological footprinting
	  • Energy Efficiency Opportunities Bill 2005
	  • Global Reporting Initiative
	  • green office program – a cultural change program
	  • green purchasing
	  • Greenhouse Challenge Plus (Australian government initiative)
	  • ISO 14001:1996 Environmental management systems life cycle analyses

	• product stewardship • supply chain management • sustainability covenants/compacts • triple bottom line reporting.

Suggestions may include ideas that help to:	• prevent and minimise risks and maximise opportunities such as:
	  • usage of solar or renewable energies where appropriate
	  • reducing emissions of greenhouse gases
	  • reducing use of non-renewable resources
	  • making more efficient use of resources, energy and water
	• maximising opportunities to re-use, recycle and reclaim materials
	• identifying strategies to offset or mitigate environmental impacts:
	  • purchasing carbon credits
	  • energy conservation
	  • reducing chemical use
	  • reducing material consumption
	• expressing purchasing power through the selection of suppliers with improved environmental performance e.g. purchasing renewable energy
	• eliminating the use of hazardous and toxic materials.

Environmental assets may include:	• assets of the natural environment such as:
	  • biological assets (produced or natural)
	  • land
	  • water areas with their ecosystems
	  • subsoil, and
	  • air.

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to work in a manner that is healthy and safe in relation to self and others and to respond to emergency incidents. It covers following work health and safety (WHS) and emergency procedures and instructions, implementing WHS requirements and participating in WHS consultative processes.

It applies to individuals who require a basic knowledge of WHS to carry out work in a defined context under direct supervision or with some individual responsibility, in a range of industry and workplace contexts.

NOTE: The terms 'occupational health and safety' (OHS) and 'work health and safety' (WHS) are equivalent and generally either can be used in the workplace. In jurisdictions where the Model WHS Act has not been implemented RTOs are advised to contextualise the unit of competency by referring to the existing State/Territory OHS legislative requirements.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

BSBWHS305 Contribute to WHS issue resolution

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to contribute to work health and safety (WHS) issue-resolution processes, and to communicate their outcomes.

It applies to individuals who contribute to the resolution of WHS issues in the workplace as part of their WHS responsibilities which are in addition to their main duties.

NOTE: The terms 'occupational health and safety' (OHS) and 'work health and safety' (WHS) are equivalent and generally either can be used in the workplace. In jurisdictions where the Model WHS Legislation has not been implemented RTOs are advised to contextualise the unit of competency by referring to the existing State/Territory OHS legislative requirements.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

BSBWHS401 Implement and monitor WHS policies, procedures and programs to meet legislative requirements

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package release 1.0

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to implement and monitor an organisation's work health and safety (WHS) policies, procedures and programs in the relevant work area in order to meet legislative requirements.

It applies to individuals with supervisory responsibilities for implementing and monitoring the organisation's WHS policies, procedures and programs in a work area. These individuals have a broad knowledge of WHS policies and contribute well developed skills in creating solutions to unpredictable problems through analysis and evaluation of information from a variety of sources. They provide supervision and guidance to others and have limited responsibility for the output of others.

NOTE: The terms 'occupational health and safety' (OHS) and 'work health and safety' (WHS) are equivalent and generally either can be used in the workplace. In jurisdictions where the Model WHS Legislation has not been implemented RTOs are advised to contextualise the unit of competency by referring to the existing State/Territory OHS legislative requirements.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Assessment Requirements for BSBWHS403 Contribute to implementing and maintaining WHS consultation and participation processes

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- explain clearly and accurately to individuals and parties the legal roles, duties, rights and responsibilities of self and others regarding work health and safety (WHS) consultation and participation processes
- contribute, as appropriate to job role and work area, to:
  - setting up and running WHS consultation and participation processes to ensure that relevant individuals and parties understand and can participate in the processes
  - identifying training needs to support the WHS consultation and participation processes and providing learning opportunities, coaching and mentoring as appropriate to needs
  - communicating information and data about WHS consultation and participation processes
  - identifying barriers to effective WHS consultation and participation and developing, implementing and evaluating measures to remove the barriers.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- describe requirements under WHS legislation and organisational policies and procedures for consultation and participation processes and the individuals and parties who need to participate
- describe possible barriers to the implementation and effectiveness of WHS consultation and participation processes and strategies to remove them
- identify internal and external sources of WHS information and data and how to access them

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

- describe training requirements for individuals and parties necessary for effective WHS consultation and participation processes

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced by individuals carrying out work health and safety duties in the workplace and include access to:

- office equipment and resources
- relevant Acts, regulations, codes of practice, standards and guidelines
- workplace documentation and personnel.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

BSBWHS404 Contribute to WHS hazard identification, risk assessment and risk control

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to contribute to the processes of identifying work health and safety (WHS) hazards, assessing WHS risks, and developing, implementing and evaluating risk controls according to legislative and organisational requirements.

It applies to individuals who contribute to WHS risk management processes in their work role in a range of industry and workplace contexts.

NOTE: The terms 'occupational health and safety' (OHS) and 'work health and safety' (WHS) are equivalent and generally either can be used in the workplace. In jurisdictions where the Model WHS Legislation has not been implemented RTOs are advised to contextualise the unit of competency by referring to the existing State/Territory OHS legislative requirements.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Assessment Requirements for BSBWHS409 Assist with workplace monitoring processes

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to assist with processes for monitoring physical agents and/or conditions including:

- identifying regulatory requirements and standards that apply to monitoring of physical agents and/or conditions relevant to work health and safety (WHS)
- identifying the context of measurements to be undertaken including:
  - which physical agents and/or conditions will be measured and their characteristics
  - where the measurements will be taken
  - area or space available
  - movements of people and equipment, tasks or activities being undertaken, number of persons occupying area and other factors that may impact on the sampling or data-collection processes
  - physical features of equipment, such as emitting sources
- preparing for and collecting workplace WHS data and information including:
  - selecting and calibrating appropriate equipment and selecting appropriate scale
  - defining a sampling process and plan
  - performing tests
  - correct preparation, use, maintenance, cleaning storage and if required disposal of equipment
- consultation and communication with individuals and parties about the requirements, purpose and nature of the monitoring
- interpreting and evaluating results of monitoring including calculations using appropriate units of measurement, logarithmic scales, decimals and order of magnitude relevant to making and interpreting measurements and measurement error
- preparing and presenting clear and logical reports that are appropriate to purpose of report and the target audience
- keeping records that meet regulatory requirements
- seek expert advice, support and equipment as required.
- ensure own safety during monitoring process.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- list typical physical agents and/or conditions relevant to WHS including:
  - biological agents, such as insects, mites and bacteria
  - electricity
  - fibres, dusts and particulates
  - fumes, mists, gases and vapours
  - heat and humidity
  - light
  - noise
  - radiation, including ionising, non-ionising and laser
  - vibration
- outline aspects of WHS Acts, regulations, codes of practice and standards that are relevant to measuring physical agents and/or conditions and how they apply to the organisation
- explain the mode of action of common physical, biological and chemical agents on the body and how they produce discomfort or harm
- list the characteristics, mode of action and units of measurement for major hazard types
- describe environmental conditions that impact on measurements
- explain types of measuring and monitoring equipment and techniques for correct and safe use including limitations on use and output, calibration, adjustment, maintenance and any in-built alarms.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced by individuals carrying out work health and safety duties in the workplace and include access to:

- measuring devices and equipment
- office equipment and resources
- relevant Acts, regulations, codes of practice, licensing requirements, standards
- case studies and, where possible, real situations
- interaction with others.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

BSBWHS501 Ensure a safe workplace

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to establish, maintain and evaluate the organisation's work health and safety (WHS) policies, procedures and programs in the relevant work area, according to WHS legislative requirements. It takes a systems approach and addresses compliance with relevant legislative requirements.

This unit applies to managers working in a range of contexts who have, or are likely to have responsibility for WHS as part of their broader management role. It is relevant for people with obligations under WHS legislation, for example persons conducting a business or undertaking (PCBUs) or officers, as defined by relevant legislation.

NOTE: The terms 'occupational health and safety' (OHS) and 'work health and safety' (WHS) are equivalent and generally either can be used in the workplace. In jurisdictions where the Model WHS Legislation has not been implemented RTOs are advised to contextualise the unit of competency by referring to the existing State/Territory OHS legislative requirements.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

BSBWHS504 Manage WHS risks

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to conduct work health and safety (WHS) risk management processes.

It applies to individuals who manage WHS risks, based on the organisation's WHS management system (WHSMS), WHS information system (WHSIS) and risk-management approach (as covered in BSBWHS503 Contribute to the systematic management of WHS risk). These individuals will work in a range of WHS roles across all industries and apply a substantial knowledge base and well-developed skills in a wide variety of WHS contexts.

NOTE: The terms 'occupational health and safety' (OHS) and 'work health and safety' (WHS) are equivalent and generally either can be used in the workplace. In jurisdictions where the Model WHS Legislation has not been implemented RTOs are advised to contextualise the unit of competency by referring to the existing State/Territory OHS legislative requirements.

BSBWHS505 Investigate WHS incidents

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to plan, conduct and report on investigations of work health and safety (WHS) incidents that have resulted in, or have the potential to result in, injury or damage.

It covers conducting an initial assessment of the situation; establishing the scope and legal parameters of the investigation; conducting a systematic analysis to identify underlying causes and actions for prevention; and reporting on the outcomes of the investigation appropriate to the potential severity of the incident, which may include accessing specialist expertise.

This unit applies to individuals required to investigate incidents in relation to prevention of future incidents.

The unit applies to people who work in a range of WHS roles across all industries and who apply a substantial knowledge base and well-developed skills in a wide variety of WHS contexts.

NOTE: The terms 'occupational health and safety' (OHS) and 'work health and safety' (WHS) are equivalent and generally either can be used in the workplace. In jurisdictions where the Model WHS Legislation has not been implemented RTOs are advised to contextualise the unit of competency by referring to the existing State/Territory OHS legislative requirements.

Range of Conditions

This section specifies different work environments and conditions that may affect performance. Essential operating conditions that may be present (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) are included.

Incidents include:	• accidents
	• incidents as referred to in WHS legislation
	• major-to-minor incidents resulting in:
	  • major-to-minor injuries and diseases
	  • major-to-minor damage to property, equipment, work processes or the environment
	• near misses, where no injury or damage occurs

The incident analysis must be based on:	• adopting an open-minded and objective approach • analysing policies, procedures, processes and systems in place at the time of the incident • focusing on the 'how', 'what' and 'why' of the incident • not focusing on individual behaviour or fault • using applicable models of causation and occurrence.

Assessment Requirements for BSBWHS505 Investigate WHS incidents

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- prepare and implement an initial response to an incident that complies with legislative and organisational requirements and considers the safety and security of individuals and the site
- systematically develop and document a plan to investigate an incident
- collect, document and analyse data and information relevant to an incident investigation ensuring that all individuals in the investigation team understand and follow required processes
- prepare and communicate an investigation report in required format that identifies the events leading up to the incident, immediate and underlying causes, points at which the incident could have been prevented and recommendations arising from the investigation.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- outline ethics related to conducting an investigation
- describe the characteristics and composition of the workforce impacting on the investigation of work health and safety (WHS) incidents, including:
  - cultural background
  - workplace diversity
  - gender
  - language, literacy and numeracy levels
  - organisational structure, including employment status, shifts and geographical location
- list and describe internal and external sources of information and data relevant to investigations

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

- describe organisational WHS policies, procedures, processes and systems relevant to work role
- describe requirements under WHS legislation for notifying and reporting incidents and enforcement notices, and rights and powers of WHS inspectors
- outline types and characteristics of incidents including causes and incident management processes.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced by individuals carrying out work health and safety duties in the workplace and include access to:

- workplace policies and procedures
- office equipment and resources
- relevant Acts, regulations, codes of practice, standards and guidelines relating to risks found in the workplace
- case studies and, where possible, real situations.

Assessors must satisfy NVR/AQTF assessor requirements.

BSBWHS508 Manage WHS hazards associated with plant

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Application

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to effectively manage work health and safety (WHS) hazards and to comply with WHS legislation as it applies to the management or control of plant (not the design, manufacture, supply, installation, construction or commissioning of plant or issuing of licences associated with plant).

It applies to individuals who may provide leadership and guidance to others using managerial and communication skills and who use systematic approaches to identify and resolve issues.

NOTE: The terms 'occupational health and safety' (OHS) and 'work health and safety' (WHS) are equivalent and generally either can be used in the workplace. In jurisdictions where the National Model WHS Legislation has not been implemented RTOs are advised to contextualise the unit of competency by referring to the existing State/Territory OHS legislative requirements.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Assessment Requirements for BSBWHS508 Manage WHS hazards associated with plant

Modification History

Release	Comments
Release 1	This version first released with BSB Business Services Training Package Version 1.0.

Performance Evidence

Evidence of the ability to:

- manage effective identification of hazards and develop risk control options for the operation of plant as defined in work health and safety (WHS) legislation
- develop, implement, monitor and modify WHS policies and procedures for the operation of plant
- use relevant systems and procedures in the operation and maintenance of plant
- implement general licensing and training requirements associated with plant
- identify, record and report on WHS hazards and assessing risk
- develop and implement risk control options
- communicate in the workplace to:
  - advise people of their rights, obligations and duties
  - consult about policies and procedures
  - identify hazards
  - assess WHS risk
  - advise people about registration, licensing and certification requirements
- use machinery safety control measures to control plant risks, including following registration and licensing requirements
- identify training needs and organise training.

Note: If a specific volume or frequency is not stated, then evidence must be provided at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

To complete the unit requirements safely and effectively, the individual must:

- describe the basic principles of incident causation and injury processes
- explain the differences between a hazard and a risk

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

- identify factors that impact on risk
- explain the hierarchy of control and considerations for choosing between different risk controls
- identify high-risk work licences required for specific plant
- identify internal and external sources of WHS information and data, and explain how to access these sources
- discuss the management of risk associated with plant as a duty of a person conducting a business or undertaking (PCBUs) under WHS legislation
- describe the methods for providing evidence of compliance with WHS legislation
- outline workplace processes (such as work flow, planning and control) and hazards relevant to the workplace
- discuss organisational behaviour and culture as it impacts on WHS, change and work team
- describe the key features of organisational WHS policies, procedures, processes and systems
- identify other functional areas that impact on the management of WHS
- outline key features of plant specific knowledge including:
  - basic physics of fluids under pressure and pressure vessels, and the behaviour of pressurised fluid when pressure is released
  - duties, rights and obligations of individuals and parties specified in WHS legislation
  - hazards associated with plant and systems of work associated with plant
  - industry practices related to permit to work and isolation and tag out systems
  - registration requirements of plant, licensing and certification competencies
- describe the key principles and practices of a systematic approach to managing WHS
- describe the strategies for guarding moving parts in machinery, human factors related to machine guarding, safe design principles, features and limitations
- outline the key features of WHS Acts, regulations, codes of practice and other instruments issued by WHS regulators.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment must be conducted in a safe environment where evidence gathered demonstrates consistent performance of typical activities experienced by individuals carrying out work health and safety duties in the workplace and include access to:

- manufacturers' manuals including specifications and operational information and data
- relevant WHS Acts, regulations, codes of practice, standards, guidelines
- sources of information, data and advice
- workplace policies and procedures
- workplace equipment and resources
- case studies and, where possible, real situations
- interaction with others.

CPCCOHS1001A Work safely in the construction industry

Modification History

Not Applicable

Unit Descriptor

Unit descriptor

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to undertake Occupational Health and Safety (OHS) induction training within the construction industry.

It requires the ability to demonstrate personal awareness of OHS legislative requirements, and the basic principles of risk management and prevention of injury and illness in the construction industry.

Licensing requirements will apply to this unit of competency depending on the regulatory requirements of each jurisdiction.

Application of the Unit

Application of the unit

This unit of competency supports the attainment of the basic OHS knowledge required prior to undertaking designated work tasks within any of the sectors within the construction industry. The unit relates directly to the general induction training program specified by the National Code of Practice for Induction for Construction Work (ASCC 2007).

EVIDENCE GUIDE

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence must confirm personal awareness of the following:

- applicable OHS legislative and safety requirements for construction work including duty of care
- the range of common construction hazards and procedures for the assessment of risk and application of the hierarchy of control
- OHS communication processes, information and documentation including the role of OHS committees and representatives, the meaning of common safety signs and symbols, and procedures for reporting hazards, incidents and injuries
- general procedures for responding to incidents and emergencies including evacuation, first aid, fire safety equipment and PPE.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

- Resources must be available to support the program including participant materials and other information or equipment related to the skills and knowledge covered by the program.
- It is recommended that the assessment tool designed specifically to support this unit of competency will provide consistency in assessment outcomes.
- Where applicable, physical resources should include equipment modified for people with disabilities
- Access must be provided to appropriate assessment support when required.
- Assessment processes and techniques must be culturally appropriate, and appropriate to the oracy, language and literacy capacity of the assessee and the work being performed
- In all cases where practical assessment is used it will be combined with targeted questioning to assess the underpinning knowledge. Questioning will be undertaken in such a manner as is appropriate to the oracy, language and literacy levels of the operator, any cultural issues that may affect responses to the questions, and reflecting the requirements of the competency and the work being performed.

Method of assessment	Assessment methods may include more than one of the following: • practical assessment • oral questioning • written test • work-based activities • simulated project based activity

RANGE STATEMENT

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

OHS legislative requirements relate to:	• Australian standards • construction industry OHS standards and guidelines • duty of care • health and safety representatives, committees and supervisors • licences, tickets or certificates of competency • National Code of Practice for Induction Training for Construction Work • national safety standards • OHS and welfare Acts and regulations • safety codes of practice.
Duty of care requirements relate to:	• legal responsibility under duty of care to do everything reasonably practicable to protect others from harm

Unit Descriptor

Unit descriptor This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to undertake a basic construction project to provide elementary skills applicable to the construction industry. It includes completion of a project using basic tools, equipment and materials.

Application of the Unit

Application of the unit This unit supports the attainment of basic construction work applications for new construction sites, existing structures being renovated or extended, and existing structures subject to service, restoration or maintenance which includes working with others and as a member of a team.

Basic projects include minor projects within any sector of the construction industry, for example, constructing a pergola, barbecue or footpath.

Elements and Performance Criteria Pre-Content

Elements describe the essential outcomes of a unit of competency.

Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the required skills and knowledge section and the range statement. Assessment of performance is to be consistent with the evidence guide.

ELEMENT	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
1. Plan and prepare.	1.1. Work instructions and operational details for the project planning are obtained, confirmed and applied from relevant information. 1.2. Safety (OHS) requirements are followed in accordance with safety plans and policies. 1.3. Signage and barricade requirements are identified and implemented. 1.4. Tools and equipment selected to carry out tasks are consistent with job requirements, checked for serviceability, and any faults are rectified or reported prior to commencement. 1.5. Material quantity requirements are calculated in accordance with plans and specifications. 1.6. Materials appropriate to the work application are identified, obtained, prepared, safely handled and located ready for use. 1.7. Environmental requirements are identified for the project in accordance with environmental plans and statutory and regulatory authority obligations, and are applied.
2. Prepare materials for use on a simple construction project.	2.1. Required materials are selected for the project from project plans and specifications. 2.2. Materials are checked for quality in accordance with the specifications.

3. Determine component requirements and assembly sequence.	3.1. Component parts are identified from working drawings and specifications. 3.2. Processes for manufacture, assembly or other construction techniques and components are selected and applied in accordance with working drawings, specifications and established work procedures. 3.3. Construction process is determined. 3.4. Component parts are checked for accuracy, quality and suitability for the project according to plans, drawings, specifications and established work procedures.
4. Operate hand tools.	4.1. Hand tools are identified and checked for serviceability and operation in accordance with OHS legislation. 4.2. Equipment to hold or support material during the operation of tools is selected and applied in accordance with standard work practices. 4.3. Hand tools are used in accordance with OHS legislation.
5. Use equipment safely.	5.1. Equipment is selected and checked for serviceability and operation in accordance with OHS legislation. 5.2. Equipment is safely and effectively operated in accordance with OHS legislation, and used to construct basic project.
6. Construct a simple project.	6.1. Work area requirements are prepared in accordance with working drawings, specifications and established work procedures. 6.2. Set out, levelling, construction and erection or installation of project are implemented in accordance with application and requirements for line, level and plumb in construction projects. 6.3. Construction project is completed to specification and quality and is checked for conformity to plans and design specifications.
7. Clean up.	7.1. Work area is cleared and materials disposed of, reused or recycled in accordance with legislation, regulations, codes of practice and job specification. 7.2. Tools and equipment are cleaned, checked, maintained and stored in accordance with manufacturer recommendations and standard work practices.

Required Skills and Knowledge

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

Required skills for this unit are:

- communication skills to:
  - determine requirements
  - enable clear and direct communication, using questioning to identify and confirm requirements, share information, listen and understand
  - follow instructions
  - read and interpret:
    - documentation from a variety of sources
    - drawings and specifications
  - report faults
  - use language and concepts appropriate to cultural differences
  - use and interpret non-verbal communication, such as hand signals
- identifying and accurately reporting to appropriate personnel any faults in tools, equipment or materials
- numeracy skills to apply measurements and calculations
- organisational skills, including the ability to plan and set out work
- teamwork skills to work with others to action tasks and relate to people from a range of cultural and ethnic backgrounds and with varying physical and mental abilities
- technological skills to:
  - use a range of mobile technology, such as two-way radio and mobile phones
  - voice and hand signals to access and understand site-specific instructions.

Required knowledge

Required knowledge for this unit is:

- basic construction techniques
- construction materials
- construction terminology
- hazardous materials
- job safety analysis (JSA) and safe work method statements
- material safety data sheets (MSDS)

REQUIRED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

- material sizes
- materials storage and environmentally friendly waste management
- plans, specifications and drawings
- plumb, line and level
- processes for the calculation of material requirements
- quality requirements
- tools and equipment types, characteristics, uses, limitations and maintenance
- workplace and equipment safety requirements.

Evidence Guide

EVIDENCE GUIDE

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment	This unit of competency could be assessed in the workplace or a close simulation of the workplace environment, provided that simulated or project-based assessment techniques fully replicate construction workplace conditions, materials, activities, responsibilities and procedures.
Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit	A person who demonstrates competency in this unit must be able to provide evidence of the ability to: • locate, interpret and apply relevant information, standards and specifications • comply with site safety plan and OHS legislation, regulations and codes of practice applicable to workplace operations • comply with organisational policies and procedures, including quality requirements • safely and effectively use tools and equipment • communicate and work effectively and safely with others • complete a basic construction project to specifications, complying with OHS requirements, correct and safe use of hand tools and equipment.

Context of and specific resources for assessment	This competency is to be assessed using standard and authorised work practices, safety requirements and environmental constraints. Assessment of essential underpinning knowledge will usually be conducted in an off-site context. Assessment is to comply with relevant regulatory or Australian standards' requirements. Resource implications for assessment include: • an induction procedure and requirement • realistic tasks or simulated tasks covering the mandatory task requirements • relevant specifications and work instructions • tools and equipment appropriate to applying safe work practices • support materials appropriate to activity • workplace instructions relating to safe work practices and addressing hazards and emergencies • material safety data sheets • research resources, including industry related systems information. Reasonable adjustments for people with disabilities must be made to assessment processes where required. This could include access to modified equipment and other physical resources, and the provision of appropriate assessment support.
Method of assessment	Assessment methods must: • satisfy the endorsed Assessment Guidelines of the Construction, Plumbing and Services Training Package • include direct observation of tasks in real or simulated work conditions, with questioning to confirm the ability to consistently identify and correctly interpret the essential underpinning knowledge required for practical application • reinforce the integration of employability skills with workplace tasks and job roles • confirm that competency is verified and able to be transferred to other circumstances and environments.

Validity and sufficiency of evidence requires that:

- competency will need to be demonstrated over a period of time reflecting the scope of the role and the practical requirements of the workplace
- where the assessment is part of a structured learning experience the evidence collected must relate to a number of performances assessed at different points in time and separated by further learning and practice, with a decision on competency only taken at the point when the assessor has complete confidence in the person's demonstrated ability and applied knowledge
- all assessment that is part of a structured learning experience must include a combination of direct, indirect and supplementary evidence.

Assessment processes and techniques should as far as is practical take into account the language, literacy and numeracy capacity of the candidate in relation to the competency being assessed.

Supplementary evidence of competency may be obtained from relevant authenticated documentation from third parties, such as existing supervisors, team leaders or specialist training staff.

Range Statement

RANGE STATEMENT

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

Project planning includes:	• assessment of conditions • determining work requirements • equipment defect identification • hazards • work site inspection.
Information includes:	• diagrams or sketches • instructions issued by authorised organisational or external personnel • manufacturer specifications and instructions, where specified • MSDS • memos • regulatory and legislative requirements pertaining to undertaking a basic construction project • relevant Australian standards • safe work procedures relating to undertaking a basic construction project • signage • verbal, written and graphical instructions • work bulletins • work schedules, plans and specifications.

Safety (OHS) is to be in accordance with state and territory legislation and regulations and project safety plan and may include:	• emergency procedures, including extinguishing fires, organisational first aid requirements and evacuation
	• handling activities that may require the assistance of others or the use of manual or mechanical lifting devices where size, weight or other issues, such as a disability are a factor
	• hazard control
	• hazardous materials and substances
	• organisational first aid
	• PPE prescribed under legislation, regulations and workplace policies and practices
	• safe operating procedures, including the conduct of operational risk assessment and treatments associated with:
	  • earth leakage boxes
	  • lighting
	  • power cables, including overhead service trays, cables and conduits

RANGE STATEMENT

	• restricted access barriers • surrounding structures • traffic control • trip hazards • work site visitors and the public • working at heights • working in confined spaces • working in proximity to others • use of firefighting equipment • use of tools and equipment • workplace environmental requirements and safety.
Tools and equipment include:	• those appropriate to the project.
Materials include:	• those appropriate to the project.
Environmental requirements include:	• noise and dust • vibration and clean-up management • waste management.
Statutory and regulatory authorities include:	• federal, state and local authorities administering applicable Acts, regulations and codes of practice.
Quality requirements include:	• internal company quality policy and standards • manufacturer specifications, where specified • relevant regulations, including Australian standards • workplace operations and procedures.

CPCCWHS1001 Prepare to work safely in the construction industry

Modification History

Release	Comment
Version 1	Replaces superseded equivalent CPCCOHS1001A Work safely in the construction industry.

Application

This unit of competency specifies the mandatory work health and safety training required prior to undertaking construction work. The unit requires the person to demonstrate personal awareness and knowledge of health and safety legislative requirements in order to work safely and prevent injury or harm to self and others. It covers identifying and orally reporting common construction hazards, understanding basic risk control measures, and identifying procedures for responding to potential incidents and emergencies. It also covers correctly selecting and fitting common personal protective equipment (PPE) used for construction work.

This unit meets the general construction induction training requirements of:

- Part 1.1 Definitions and Part 6.5 of the Model Work Health and Safety Regulations;
- Division 11 of Part 3 of the Occupational Safety and Health Regulations 1996 for Western Australia; and
- Division 3 of Part 5.1 of the Occupational Health and Safety Regulations 2007 for Victoria.

It is expected that site-specific induction training will be conducted prior to conducting construction work.

Licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements apply to this unit. Relevant work health and safety state and territory regulatory authorities should be consulted to confirm jurisdictional requirements.

Foundation Skills

This section describes the language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills essential to performance in this unit but not explicit in the performance criteria.

Skill	Performance feature
Numeracy skills to:	• locate and recognise numbers commonly used in safety signs.
Oral communication skills to:	• ask questions to clarify instructions • listen to instructions to identify key safety information • tell another person about a construction problem or hazard.
Reading skills to:	• follow simple pictorial safety instructions • follow simple safety instructions that are written in English.
Problem-solving skills to:	• select risk control measures.

Range of Conditions

This section specifies work environments and conditions that may affect performance. Essential operating conditions that may be present (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) are included. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below.

Jurisdictional health and safety legislative requirements must include at least one of the following state and territory Acts or their equivalent:	• Australian Capital Territory: Work Health and Safety Act 2011 • New South Wales: Work Health and Safety Act 2011 • Northern Territory: Work Health and Safety (National Uniform Legislation) Act 2011 • Queensland: Work Health and Safety Act 2011 • South Australia: Work Health and Safety Act 2012 • Tasmania: Work Health and Safety Act 2012 • Victoria: Occupational Health and Safety Act 2004 • Western Australia: Occupational Safety and Health Act 1984.

Modification History

Release	Comment
Version 1	Replaces superseded equivalent CPCCOHS1001A Work safely in the construction industry.

Performance Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy the requirements of the elements, performance criteria, foundation skills, and range of conditions of this unit, in addition to the specific performance and knowledge evidence described below.

The person must:

- identify and orally report two construction hazards
- orally explain how risk could be reduced or removed in relation to those two hazards
- select appropriate personal protective equipment (PPE) to control the risk
- orally explain basic procedures for responding to incidents and emergencies, including types and purpose of the following fire safety equipment:
  - fire blankets
  - fire extinguishers, including water, carbon dioxide, powder and foam
  - hose reels and mains
- identify and orally explain the meaning of required safety signs and symbols
- orally explain the purpose of job safety analyses (JSAs), safe work method statements (SWMS) and safety data sheets (SDS)
- orally explain the roles of the following designated health and safety personnel:
  - first aid officers
  - work health and safety representatives
  - work health and safety committee members
  - supervisors.

The person must also demonstrate correctly fitting to themselves the PPE listed below:

- eye protection
- hearing protection
- hard hat

- high visibility retro reflective vest.

Knowledge Evidence

A person must demonstrate knowledge of:

- basic duty of care, and the roles, rights and responsibilities of business owners and workers in relation to working safely while undertaking construction work
- basic meaning of the terms ‘hazard’ and ‘risk’
- basic principles of risk management, including the following five steps in order:
  - identify hazard
  - assess risk
  - consult and report
  - control hazard
  - review
- basic procedures for accessing first aid
- construction hazards, including those relating to:
  - asbestos
  - confined spaces
  - electrical: power lines, cords and equipment
  - excavations and trenches, including underground services
  - dust
  - falling objects
  - hazardous substances and dangerous goods
  - hot and cold work environments
  - manual handling
  - noise
  - plant and equipment operation
  - traffic and mobile plant
  - unplanned collapse
  - ultraviolet radiation
  - working at heights, including scaffolding
- construction work that requires a high risk work licence
- types, purpose and use of PPE used in construction, as specified in the performance evidence, and including safety footwear, harnesses and respiratory protection, and ultraviolet (UV) protective clothing and sunscreen
- construction emergencies, including:
  - chemical spill
  - fire
  - injury to personnel
  - structural collapse
  - toxic or flammable vapour emission

    - vehicle or mobile plant accident
- construction incidents, including:
    - incidents resulting in personal injury or damage to property
    - near misses or dangerous occurrences that do not cause injury but may pose an immediate and significant risk to persons or property, and need to be reported so that action can be taken to prevent recurrence
- safe work practices that should be followed in construction work, including:
    - accessing and using site amenities for drinking water, hand washing and toilets
    - following safety procedures when performing work tasks and using equipment
    - identifying and reporting hazards, incidents and injuries in the workplace
    - keeping the work area clean, tidy and free from debris
    - not using or being affected by drugs and/or alcohol while at work
    - preventing bullying and harassment in the workplace
    - selecting and using required PPE
    - smoking only in designated areas
    - storing and removing waste and debris in designated areas
- meanings and symbols associated with construction safety signs, symbols and tags, including:
    - emergency information signs: exits, emergency equipment and first aid
    - fire signs: location of fire alarms and firefighting equipment
    - hazard signs and symbols: danger and warning
    - regulatory signs and symbols: prohibition, mandatory and limitation or restriction
    - safety and lockout tags: danger and out-of-service tags.

Assessment Conditions

The following must be present and available to learners during assessment activities:

- equipment:
    - all of the PPE listed in the performance evidence
- specifications:
    - state or territory Act relevant to the location of the learner, as specified in the range of conditions.

The assessment of performance evidence must be done by direct observation of the learner by an assessor, either by an assessor observing the learner physically and/or by an assessor observing the learner via audio and visual media in real time.

Assessor requirements

As a minimum, assessors must satisfy the assessor requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) current at the time of assessment.

CPPPMT3019 Organise and monitor pest management operations

Modification History

Release 1.

Replaces superseded equivalent CPPPMT3019A Organise and monitor pest management operations.

This version first released with CPP Property Services Training Package Version 2.

Application

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to organise and monitor major pest management contracts, including allocating work to personnel, and conducting training needs analyses and resultant professional development. A comprehensive understanding of pest management services and treatments offered is required to perform this task efficiently.

The unit supports pest management technicians responsible for assessing work requirements and allocating and monitoring work, including providing appropriate equipment and materials to perform pest management operations. It also covers identifying opportunities for the use of training and assessment to build and recognise staff skills. It applies to pest management technicians who are responsible for leading a small work team.

Licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements apply to pest management in some States. Relevant state and territory regulatory authorities should be consulted to confirm those requirements.

1.	Identify work requirements.	1.1. Work orders are reviewed to identify requirements, including site characteristics and specific requests, according to company requirements.
		1.2. Client needs and expectations are identified and communicated according to work order and company requirements.
		1.3. Hazards and risk control measures relevant to the work site are confirmed according to company and compliance requirements.
2.	Organise equipment and materials.	2.1. Past work orders are reviewed when available and equipment, personal protective equipment (PPE) and material requirements are estimated according to company requirements.
		2.2. Required equipment, materials and suitable PPE are accessed according to company requirements.
		2.3. Operational effectiveness of equipment is checked according to manufacturer specifications and company requirements.
		2.4. Suitable PPE is selected and checked for correct fitting according to manufacturer specifications and company and compliance requirements.
3.	Allocate work orders.	3.1. Schedule of work orders, to be completed within specified time and budget, is developed according to client, company and compliance requirements.

- commonwealth and state or territory legislation and local government regulations relating to organising and monitoring pest management operations, including:
  - consumer protection
  - dangerous goods
  - pesticide registers and manifests
  - pesticide use
  - privacy
  - public health and safety
- environmental requirements relating to organising and monitoring pest management operations, including:
  - clean up, containment or isolation of hazards
  - company policies and guidelines
  - emergency chemical spill control measures
  - hazardous materials handling
- industry advisory standards and codes of practice relating to organising and monitoring pest management operations, such as:
  - building codes
  - dangerous goods codes
- regulations, by-laws and guidelines relating to organising and monitoring pest management operations of environmental protection agencies and government departments
- work health and safety requirements relating to organising and monitoring pest management operations, including:
  - procedures for hazard identification, risk assessment and hazard control, including hierarchy of hazard control
  - requirements of national registration authority and state government authorities
  - site inductions and client safety requirements

Assessment Requirements for CPPPMT3019 Organise and monitor pest management operations

Modification History

Release 1.

Replaces superseded equivalent CPPPMT3019A Organise and monitor pest management operations.

This version first released with CPP Property Services Training Package Version 2.

Performance Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy all of the elements, performance criteria and foundation skills of this unit, and must schedule, organise and monitor a work order for pest management at three different premises to be selected as follows:

- three residential premises with different types of construction, or
- three different commercial premises with different uses, or
- a mix of three different residential and commercial premises.

In doing the above, the person must also:

- allocate work and staff
- comply with company, legislative or regulatory requirements
- identify work requirements and hazards and risks associated with pest management and clearly communicate them to work team
- provide equipment and material supplies
- assess staff skill gaps and arrange or provide suitable training, development and assessment opportunities.

Knowledge Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must demonstrate knowledge of:

- compliance requirements relevant to organising and monitoring pest management operations
- company policies and procedures relevant to organising and monitoring pest management operations, including:
  - emergency response procedures
  - injury, dangerous occurrence and incident reporting
  - health and safety procedures

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

  - performance reviews
  - work documentation and reporting procedures
- content and industry terms used in work order specifications
- mathematical methods for budgeting and estimating workloads
- pest management equipment, personal protective equipment (PPE) and materials, including manufacturer specifications for safe use.

Assessment Conditions

Suitable assessment of performance requires:

- equipment:
  - pest management equipment essential for undertaking the work orders specified in the performance evidence
  - PPE as specified in the range of conditions
- materials:
  - materials essential for undertaking the work orders specified in the performance evidence
- specifications:
  - equipment operating manuals
  - plain English guides to relevant compliance requirements
  - relevant client databases and information
  - work order instructions, work plans and schedules, and company policy documents

CPPPMT3029 Plan and schedule pest management operations

Modification History

Release 1.

Replaces superseded equivalent CPPPMT3029A Plan and schedule pest management operations.

This version first released with CPP Property Services Training Package Version 2.

Application

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to plan and schedule all types of pest management operations, including rescheduling work when circumstances change. The unit requires the ability to assess the workload implications of current work orders, including amount and type of work required; and then using this knowledge, to schedule work in a logical and organised manner. A comprehensive understanding of the pest management services and treatments being offered is required.

The unit applies to those managing the presence or activities of pests that may affect the health, safety or amenity of persons or the environment and can be applied to domestic, commercial or industrial premises.

Licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements apply to pest management in some States. Relevant state and territory regulatory authorities should be consulted to confirm those requirements.

1.	Assess requirements of current work orders.	1.1. Work orders are identified for specified schedule period according to company requirements.
		1.2. Geographic locations of work orders are identified according to company requirements.
		1.3. Work orders are reviewed according to company requirements to assess types of pest management services to be delivered, site entry requirements, and site hazards or health and safety concerns to be addressed.
		1.4. Time requirements are estimated for each work order by comparison with records of similar work orders and according to company requirements.
2.	Prepare work schedule.	2.1. Schedule of work orders is prepared to maximise company productivity, minimise travel and staff downtime, achieve business targets, and meet client expectations according to company and compliance requirements.
		2.2. Treatment time is planned to minimise disruption and discomfort to clients and personnel at work site according to company and compliance requirements.
		2.3. Provision is made in schedule for weather and other variables when planning treatments.
		2.4. Emergency and priority work orders are scheduled according to company requirements.
3.	Monitor and adjust work schedule.	3.1. Clients and team members are advised promptly, according to company requirements, when adjustments to the schedule affect timing of work order.
		3.2. Reasons for changes to schedules are recorded according to company requirements to assist future planning.

Foundation Skills

This section describes the language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills essential to performance in this unit but not explicit in the performance criteria.

Skill	Performance feature
Learning skills to:	• identify and use reliable sources of information regarding compliance requirements relevant to organising and monitoring pest management operations.
Numeracy skills to:	• estimate time to complete work orders and travel between locations • calculate totals of estimated times to identify numbers of work orders to be scheduled and completed in a day.
Oral communication skills to:	• interact effectively with clients to keep them informed of scheduling and to negotiate scheduling changes if required.
Reading skills to:	• interpret work order and compliance requirements related to the pest management tasks to be performed.
Writing skills to:	• record scheduling information accurately and legibly and in formats suitable for staff.
Problem-solving skills to:	• manage a range of contingencies when rescheduling work.

Range of Conditions

This section specifies work environments and conditions that may affect performance. Essential operating conditions that may be present (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) are included. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below.

include two or more of the following:

- daily
- monthly
- weekly.

Schedule:

- must include one or more of the following:
  - charts and wall-mounted planning boards
  - electronic or paper-based
  - to-do lists
  - work diaries
- must reflect:
  - licence endorsements
  - staff skills, knowledge and preferences.

Compliance requirements must include:

- Australian standards, quality assurance and certification requirements relating to planning and scheduling pest management operations
- commonwealth, state and territory legislation and local government regulations relating to planning and scheduling pest management operations, including:
  - consumer protection
  - dangerous goods
  - pesticide registers and manifests
  - pesticide use
  - privacy
  - public health and safety
- national and industry codes of practice and advisory standards relating to planning and scheduling pest management operations:
  - building codes
  - dangerous goods codes
- work health and safety requirements relating to planning and scheduling pest management operations, including:
  - procedures for hazard identification, risk assessment and hazard control, including hierarchy of hazard control
  - requirements of national registration authority and state government authorities
  - site inductions and client safety requirements
  - use of safe work methods, including use of pesticides according to manufacturer labels.

Assessment Requirements for CPPPMT3029 Plan and schedule pest management operations

Modification History

Release 1.

Replaces superseded equivalent CPPPMT3029A Plan and schedule pest management operations.

This version first released with CPP Property Services Training Package Version 2.

Performance Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy all of the elements, performance criteria and foundation skills of this unit, and must plan and schedule fifteen work orders for pest management operations at work sites in different geographic locations.

In doing the above, the person must also:

- allocate work to appropriately trained staff
- assess and prioritise work order requirements
- comply with company and compliance requirements for pest management operations
- negotiate rescheduling of two work orders due to unforeseen issues, such as traffic or weather conditions
- schedule work orders efficiently.

Knowledge Evidence

- A person demonstrating competency in this unit must demonstrate knowledge of:
- company procedures relevant to planning and scheduling pest management operations, including:
  - health and safety procedures
  - work documentation and reporting procedures
- compliance requirements relating to planning and scheduling pest management operations
- content and industry terms used in work order specifications
- key features of scheduling software programs and methods
- local conditions and travel routes that may impact on timeframes and schedules for pest management tasks
- scheduling methods and contingency factors that may affect pest management operation schedules
- time requirements to perform each of the pest management services

- types of pest management services offered.

Assessment Conditions

Suitable assessment of performance requires:

- equipment:
  - computer with internet access
  - maps
  - telephone
- specifications:
  - company procedures relating to planning and scheduling pest management operations
  - fifteen current work orders as specified in the performance evidence
  - manufacturer specifications relating to treatment times
  - past work orders for pest management
  - plain English guides to compliance requirements
- relationships with team members and supervisor:
  - work must be completed individually
- relationship with client:
  - consultation with clients is required
- timeframe:
  - according to work order.

Assessor requirements

As a minimum, assessors must satisfy the assessor requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) current at the time of assessment.

CPPSIS3020 Perform basic surveying computations

Modification History

Release 1.

Replaces superseded equivalent CPPSIS3020A Perform basic surveying computations.

This version first released with CPP Property Services Training Package Version 3.

Application

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to perform basic surveying computations in a plane coordinate system. The unit covers computations and conversions based on basic mathematical concepts of algebra, geometry and trigonometry. Computations are done on simple regular geometric figures, traverses, angles, bearings, distances, plane coordinates, heights, perimeter and area.

The unit supports those who work under supervision in a surveying and spatial information services team to perform basic computations associated with field work and data collection.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory, or certification requirements apply to this unit of competency at the time of endorsement.

	computations.	1.2.	Computational procedures are identified according to industry and organisational requirements.
		1.3.	Computational equipment is selected according to computational and organisational requirements.
2.	Calculate basic surveying data.	2.1.	Computations are performed on angles and bearings according to computational requirements and using computational equipment.
		2.2.	Conversions between polar and rectangular coordinates are performed according to computational requirements.
		2.3.	Computations are performed on the coordinates of a simple closed traverse.
3.	Finalise work processes.	3.1.	Computations and conversions are finalised and their accuracy confirmed according to computational requirements.
		3.2.	Data is recorded according to organisational requirements.

Foundation Skills

This section describes the language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills essential to performance in this unit but not explicit in the performance criteria.

Skill	Performance feature
Numeracy skills to:	• apply the basic concepts of algebra, geometry and trigonometry to plane geometry and measuring simple regular figures • perform calculations relating to geometric figures, area, angles, bearings, distances, traverses, plane coordinates, heights and perimeter.
Oral communication skills to:	• ask questions to clarify work task requirements and computational formulas • discuss computational methods.

Assessment Requirements for CPPSIS3020 Perform basic surveying computations

Modification History

Release 1.

Replaces superseded equivalent CPPSIS3020A Perform basic surveying computations.

Performance Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy the requirements of the elements, performance criteria, foundation skills and range of conditions of this unit. The person must also accurately perform basic computations for two different surveying computational tasks, demonstrating the ability to:

- calculate perimeter and areas of simple regular figures
- calculate adjusted coordinates of points on a closed traverse
- convert between:
  - polar and rectangular coordinates
  - vertical angles and gradients and vice versa
- check accuracy of above computations.

During the above surveying computational tasks, the person must:

- communicate clearly with others to clarify work tasks and computational results
- comply with organisational requirements and industry-accepted methods for systematically and legibly laying out computations
- use organisational documents to complete required records.

Knowledge Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must demonstrate knowledge of:

- common surveying and mathematical terms used in basic surveying computations
- industry-accepted methods for performing and laying out different types of basic surveying computations
- organisational policies and procedures for completing surveying records and documentation.

CPPSIS4024 Source and assess spatial data

Modification History

Release 1.

Replaces superseded equivalent CPPSIS4024A Collect and set out spatial data.

This version first released with CPP Property Services Training Package Version 3.

Application

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to source spatial data from a range of media and datasets, and assess its availability and suitability for use in meeting client requirements. The unit covers researching and assessing data suppliers and information, such as metadata and attributes, to determine the most suitable sources of available data to meet job specifications. The unit also covers collecting and setting out data using a computer and software suitable for manipulating and presenting spatial data. The unit requires the ability to measure and reduce data and write technical reports.

The unit supports those who work in support positions for surveying and mapping, town planning, cartography and geographic information systems (GIS).

Modification History

Release 1.

Replaces superseded equivalent CPPSIS4024A Collect and set out spatial data.

This version first released with CPP Property Services Training Package Version 3.

Performance Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy the requirements of the elements, performance criteria, foundation skills and range of conditions of this unit. The person must also source and assess the availability and suitability of spatial data for two different projects in consultation with colleagues.

While sourcing and assessing the above spatial data, the person must:

- clarify job specifications, including extent, content, intended use, accuracy, precision and format of spatial data
- complete required documentation, including written assessments as specified in the range of conditions
- communicate clearly with others to clarify and discuss work tasks
- comply with legal and organisational requirements relating to:
  - completing records and documentation
  - copyright and ownership of spatial data
  - using and storing equipment
  - working safely
- perform spatial data measurements, reduction and manipulation with accuracy
- set out spatial data and related attributes, including:
  - colour
  - layer
  - level
  - line type
  - line width
  - text
- verify availability of suitable data with suppliers, taking into account copyright and ownership constraints.

CPPWMT4007A Implement waste management plans

Modification History

Revised unit

Unit updated and equivalent to PRMWM07B Implement waste management plan

Unit Descriptor

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to implement a waste management plan. It requires the ability to follow assignment instructions, liaise with clients, and effectively identify and assess their waste practices and issues that affect their organisation's operations.

Application of the Unit

This unit of competency supports individuals with responsibilities for implementing an organisation's waste management plans, procedures and programs in a work area. It includes contributing to the implementation of developed strategies, systems and plans, as well as recognising the need for expert advice. It also may include the ability to lead a team.

Licensing/Regulatory Information

Pre-Requisites

Not applicable.

Employability Skills Information

This unit contains employability skills.

Elements and Performance Criteria Pre-Content

Elements describe the essential outcomes of a unit of competency.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the required skills and knowledge section and the range statement. Assessment of performance is to be consistent with the evidence guide.

Elements and Performance Criteria

1	Organise for implementation of waste management plan.	1.1	Waste management plan is reviewed to determine implementation requirements.
		1.2	Potential hazards and risks are identified and communicated to designated appropriate person.
		1.3	Equipment, including emergency and personal protective equipment (PPE), is selected for implementation of strategy according to organisational requirements and occupational health and safety (OHS) procedures.
		1.4	Personnel are informed how to maintain PPE.
2	Undertake plan implementation activities.	2.1	New or changed waste management procedures and processes are explained to relevant personnel.
		2.2	New or changed waste management procedures are implemented according to waste management plan, organisational requirements and legislation and codes.
		2.3	Education and training are provided to personnel to ensure full understanding of and commitment to waste management plan.
3	Monitor and review outcomes of waste management plan.	3.1	Review of waste management plan is conducted to determine safety, feasibility, compliance, efficiency and effectiveness.
		3.2	Necessary adjustments to waste management plan are made to maximise achievement of objectives.
		3.3	Details of implementation and review of waste management plan are documented and reviewed according to organisational requirements.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- interpersonal skills to:
  - work in a team environment
  - lead teams
- technical skills to facilitate:
  - plant and equipment operation, including computer operation and problem solving
  - basic cleaning and maintenance of plant and equipment
  - selection of plant and equipment
- reading skills to interpret:
  - plans
  - documents
- problem-solving skills to identify hazards and risks
- self-management skills to:
  - apply signalling techniques
  - conduct work practices safely and efficiently
  - organise work methodically
  - keep records
  - use information technology to complete tasks
  - use emergency and PPE
- oral communication skills to:
  - ask questions
  - listen actively
  - consult
  - give instructions
  - provide information
- planning and initiative skills to supervise teams, including:
  - providing guidance
  - demonstrating functions associated with waste management
  - implementing change
  - undertaking quality control inspections
- critical thinking skills to implement waste management plan, identifying:
  - resource needs
  - hazards and risks
- written communication skills for:
  - report writing
  - documentation

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

Required knowledge

- environmental issues relating to:
  - life cycle of products: re-new, re-use and recycle
  - environmental regulations
  - renewable energy
- identification of:
  - waste types, streams and characteristics
  - waste non-conformances
  - unanticipated waste
  - hazardous waste
  - waste non-conformance procedures
  - waste containment
  - waste disposal and recovery routes
- OHS requirements relating to:
  - dangerous goods and hazardous substances
  - OHS hierarchy of control
- resource recovery options relating to:
  - valuable resources within materials
  - potential resources to be recovered
- waste assessment review, including:
  - analysing waste practices
  - analysing previous assessment plans and assessment processes
  - incorporating standard audit requirements and procedures
  - incorporating nature and significance of waste minimisation hierarchy
  - incorporating types of client waste management surveys and their uses
- waste management provision, including:
  - duty of care
  - legislation, regulations and codes of practice applicable to specific waste management functions
  - organisational pricing schedules
  - organisational requirements and structure, including workplace communication channels and procedures
  - waste management options
  - waste management hierarchy

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment	This unit of competency could be assessed by observation of practical demonstration in the workplace or in discussion, relaying the implementation of waste management plans.
Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit	A person who demonstrates competency in this unit must be able to provide evidence of the required skills and knowledge specified in this unit. In particular the person should demonstrate the ability to: • interpret waste management plan requirements • implement new processes and procedures • organise education and training • monitor outcomes of a waste management plan, incorporating OHS requirements.
Context of and specific resources for assessment	Assessment of essential underpinning knowledge may be conducted in an off-site context. It is to comply with relevant regulatory or Australian standards' requirements. Resource implications for assessment include: • work plans and approved specifications • forms and procedures manuals.
Method of assessment	Waste management plans must be implemented in line with industry expectations in the particular client environment. If the environment is narrowly defined or is not representative of industry needs, it may be necessary to refer to portfolio case studies to assess competency in implementing a waste management plan. Assessment methods must: • satisfy the endorsed Assessment Guidelines of the Property Services Training Package • include direct observation of tasks in real or simulated work conditions, with questioning to confirm the ability to consistently identify and correctly interpret the essential underpinning knowledge required for practical application • reinforce the integration of employability skills with workplace tasks and job roles • confirm that competency is verified and able to be transferred to other circumstances and environments.
Guidance information for assessment	Reasonable adjustments for people with disabilities must be made to assessment processes where required. This could include access to modified equipment and other physical resources, and the provision of appropriate assessment support.

	Assessment processes and techniques should as far as is practical take into account the language, literacy and numeracy capacity of the candidate in relation to the competency being assessed. This unit could be assessed on its own or in combination with other units relevant to the job function, for example: • CPPWMT4027A Select and obtain waste management plant, equipment and materials • CPPWMT4030A Determine waste management services • CPPWMT4032A Inform and educate clients on waste management issues • CPPWMT5033A Educate public on waste management issues.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

Waste management plan may include:	• implementation strategies, including:
	  • material safety data sheets (MSDS)
	  • measurement and recording
	  • OHS procedures
	  • PPE
	  • legislation and codes
	  • site contract requirements
	  • work procedures
	• objectives pertaining to:
	  • changes to processes and procedures
	  • environmental issues
	  • education and training
	  • past and future reviews and audits
	  • recycling requirements

	• scales.
Emergency and personal protective equipment must include:	• communications equipment • eye protection, such as goggles and protective glasses • eyewash kit • fire extinguishers • first aid kit • footwear • gloves • overalls and protective clothing.
Emergency and personal protective equipment could also include:	• breathing apparatus • emergency procedure guides • face shields or masks • hard hats • hearing protection • MSDS • spill kit.
Organisational requirements may include:	• briefing papers • job sheets • memos • letters • quality assurance documents • tender and contract documents • verbal and written instructions and directions.

Maintain PPE must include:	• clean, fit, wear and store equipment according to:
	  • equipment specifications
	  • organisational requirements
	  • manufacturer specifications
	  • OHS regulations.

Legislation and codes may include:	• codes, including:
	  • Australian Code for the Transport of Dangerous Goods by Road and Rail
	  • industry
	• commonwealth, state and territory legislation, including:
	  • anti-discrimination
	  • environmental protection

Elements and Performance Criteria

1	Clarify client requirements.	1.1	Information relating to client contact with organisation is reviewed.
		1.2	Client needs and waste management requirements are established through questioning and discussion.
		1.3	Site assessment is organised to determine and clarify client requirements.
2	Undertake site inspection.	2.1	Waste characteristics, waste types and volume of waste are established.
		2.2	Waste assessment is conducted to clarify client requirements.
		2.3	Details relating to access for the provision of waste management services are confirmed.
		2.4	Client's existing waste management habits and processes are determined from questioning and observation.
		2.5	Potential hazards and risks to waste management service provision are identified.
3	Determine service and information requirements.	3.1	Waste management service is designed to meet client needs and to be cost-effective.
		3.2	Service is offered according to organisational requirements and environmental, occupational health and safety (OHS) regulations and other legislation and codes.
		3.3	Client is provided with accurate and understandable information relating to waste management strategy in order to make an informed decision.
		3.4	Additional advice is sought where required in relation to compliance with environmental, and OHS regulations and other legislation and codes.

4	Record assessment as required.	4.1	Information on client requirements and service proposed is recorded, according to organisational requirements.
		4.2	Information on service provision, legal requirements and organisational requirements is provided to the client.
		4.3	Client is provided with a copy of assessment documentation.
		4.4	Organisational records are updated according to organisational requirements.

Required Skills and Knowledge

This section describes the skills and knowledge required for this unit.

Required skills

- analytical skills to:
  - determine appropriate waste management service
  - observe review operations
- basic numeracy skills to:
  - compare service costs
  - review claims
- reading skills to interpret:
  - maps
  - plans
  - documents
  - work requirements and material safety data sheets (MSDS)
- self-management skills to:
  - conduct work practices safely and efficiently
  - apply accuracy and attention to detail
  - apply decision making
  - identify hazards and risks
  - organise work methodically

Required knowledge

- environmental issues relating to:
  - life cycle of products: re-new, re-use and recycle
  - environmental regulations
  - renewable energy
- OHS requirements relating to:
  - dangerous goods and hazardous substances
  - OHS hierarchy of control
  - potential hazards and risks to waste management services
  - emergency response procedures
- plant, equipment and materials to facilitate:
  - operation of plant and equipment
  - cleaning and maintenance of plant and equipment
  - plant shut-down, lock-out and isolation procedures
- identification of waste types, including:
  - waste types, streams, non-conformances and characteristics
  - unanticipated waste
- principles of supervision, including:
  - leading by example
  - providing or organising training
  - establishing work plans
  - monitoring work activity and team outputs
  - establishing effective communication channels
- resource recovery options relating to:
  - valuable resources within materials
  - potential resources to be recovered

This could include access to modified equipment and other physical resources, and the provision of appropriate assessment support. Assessment processes and techniques should as far as is practical take into account the language, literacy and numeracy capacity of the candidate in relation to the competency being assessed. This unit could be assessed on its own or in combination with other units of competency relevant to the job function, for example: • CPPWMT4030A Determine waste management services • CPPWMT5004A Develop waste management strategies • CPPWMT5033A Educate public on waste management issues.

Range Statement

The range statement relates to the unit of competency as a whole. It allows for different work environments and situations that may affect performance. Bold italicised wording, if used in the performance criteria, is detailed below. Essential operating conditions that may be present with training and assessment (depending on the work situation, needs of the candidate, accessibility of the item, and local industry and regional contexts) may also be included.

Waste management strategies may include:	• implementation strategies, such as:
	  • advertising
	  • compliance
	  • education and training
	  • employee participation
	  • environmental activity
	• management strategies, such as:
	  • material safety data sheets (MSDS)
	  • measurement and recording
	  • OHS procedures
	  • personal protective equipment (PPE)
	  • process audits
	  • process changes
	  • product and material changes
	  • product scheduling and planning
	  • legislation and codes
	  • site contract requirements
	  • reclamation, recycling and re-use
	  • waste disposal methods

	  • unguarded conveyor belts
	  • weather
	• process constraints
	• resource requirements, including:
	  • equipment
	  • personnel
	  • resources available.

Client may include:	• all forms of business enterprises in this context, including:
	  • government agencies
	  • internal customers
	  • local governments and councils
	  • private and public companies
	  • residents and ratepayers.

Legislation and codes may include:	• codes, including:
	  • Australian Code for the Transport of Dangerous Goods by Road and Rail
	  • industry
	• commonwealth, state and territory legislation, including:
	  • anti-discrimination
	  • environmental protection
	  • equal employment opportunity

DEFADI001 Hook up external lift loads

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the DEF Defence Training Package.

Application

This unit specifies the skills and knowledge required to hook up externally slung loads to rotary wing aircraft.

It includes preparing for and hooking up external lift hook-up tasks/loads. It also includes responding to external load-lifting emergencies and/or abnormal situations and concluding external lift hook-up task.

This unit applies to persons working as part of an aerial delivery crew, often in conjunction with the crew of supporting aircraft, tasked for external lift operations in support of airmobile operations.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

Persons undertaking this unit act in a broad range of contexts under supervision and as part of a team, and perform specific tasks.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

1	Prepare for external lift hook-up tasks	1.1 Obtain and comply with task instructions
		1.2 Assess risks associated with task instructions and apply relevant risk control measures
		1.3 Inspect, fit and prepare personal protective equipment
		1.4 Prepare landing pad/landing site/landing zone (LP/LS/LZ) areas
		1.5 Undertake hook-up drills to ensure task readiness
		1.6 Obtain, review and attach documentation to load
2	Hook up external lift loads	2.1 Complete external lift hook-ups in accordance with operational procedures
		2.2 Instigate hook-up team movement to designated safe position and complete observation of rigged load being lifted
		2.3 Use hand signals to communicate with aircrew in accordance with operational protocols
3	Respond to external load-lifting emergencies and abnormal situations	3.1 Identify external load-lifting risks and communicate potential load-lifting emergencies to aircrew, as required
		3.2 Undertake risk and/or emergency remedial actions, as required, in accordance with operational procedures
4	Conclude external lift hook-up task	4.1 Identify and report damage to stores and equipment
		4.2 Restore and return personal protective equipment
		4.3 Complete task details documentation in accordance with task requirements
		4.4 Refurbish LP/LS/LZ areas
		4.5 Recover and return aerial delivery equipment

Assessment Requirements for DEFADI001 Hook up external lift loads

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the DEF Defence Training Package.

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria on at least one occasion and include:

- applying relevant legislation, standards, and organisational policies and procedures
- completing relevant documentation
- identifying hazards, assessing risks and applying risk control measures to minimise, control, eliminate or report identified hazards
- inspecting equipment prior to hooking up externally slung loads to rotary wing aircraft
- reading, interpreting and complying with instructions, organisational procedures and regulations
- securing, rigging and hooking up externally slung loads to rotary wing aircraft
- selecting and using appropriate protective clothing and equipment
- using equipment effectively in the operating environment.

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria and include knowledge of:

- aircraft and airfield hazards and relevant control measures
- capabilities of relevant rotary wing aircraft
- external lift hook-up procedures and guidelines
- principles of safe load lifts and static discharge
- relevant emergency incident management plan, and organisational policies and procedures
- relevant safe work practices when slinging loads to rotary wing aircraft
- safe weight limits for externally slung loads to rotary wing aircraft
- relevant manual lifting procedures, particularly related to refurbishing stores.

Assessment Conditions

As a minimum, assessors must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

As a minimum, assessment must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

Assessment must occur in workplace operational situations where it is appropriate to do so; where this is not appropriate, assessment must occur in simulated workplace operational situations that replicate workplace conditions.

Assessment processes and techniques must be appropriate to the language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the work being performed and the needs of the candidate.

Resources for assessment must include access to:

- a range of relevant exercises, case studies and/or other simulations
- relevant and appropriate materials, tools, equipment and personal protective equipment currently used in industry
- applicable documentation including organisational procedures, regulations, codes of practice and operation manuals.

DEFADI002 Assist in establishing and clearing a cargo drop zone

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the DEF Defence Training Package.

Application

This unit specifies the skills and knowledge required to participate in cargo drop zone operations, to assist with setting up a cargo drop zone capable of receiving containers and/or platform airdrop loads, and to assist with clearing a cargo drop zone.

It includes assisting in clearing and setting up a cargo drop zone.

This unit applies to persons working in an air logistics environment, in tactical and non-tactical contexts.

Persons undertaking this unit work in a broad range of contexts under supervision and as part of a team, and perform specific tasks.

- applying safety, legislative and statutory requirements relevant to the risk assessment
- compiling air movements and air-drop documentation
- completing aircraft loading
- identifying aircraft safety features, tiedown points and capacities
- identifying hazards, assessing risks and implementing control measures
- loading and restraining container and platform loads in the aircraft for air-drop
- loading, restraining and manually dispatching compact and container air-drop loads from aircraft
- managing air-drop load resources
- selecting and handling parachutes
- using weighing devices (scales) and calculators.

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria and include knowledge of:

- airfield and aircraft discipline
- cargo aircraft roles and capabilities
- classification for dangerous goods
- loading cargo aircraft
- load restraint guidelines
- organisational policies and procedures
- parachute handling requirements
- responsibilities of an air dispatch crew member in flight
- safe weight limits of equipment and load restraint devices
- types and methods of air-drop and their application

DEFADI007 Load and secure cargo during fixed wing air-land tasks

Modification History

This is the first release of this unit of competency in the DEF Defence Training Package

Application

This unit specifies the skills and knowledge required to load and secure aviation cargo in aircraft. Tasks need to be performed with attention to detail without injury to self/others or damage to goods or equipment.

It includes loading and securing aviation cargo in fixed wing aircraft during air-land tasks. It also includes responding to aircraft loading issues.

This unit applies to persons who are expected to load and secure aviation cargo in a Defence aerial delivery context, such as specialists working as part of an aerial delivery crew in and around aircraft, often in conjunction with the crew of supporting aircraft, tasked for air-land operations.

Persons undertaking this unit would perform in a range of contexts, under supervision, as part of a team, while performing specific tasks.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

DEFCHP001 Provide pastoral care

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFCH001B Provide pastoral care. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice

Application

This unit describes the skills required to provide pastoral care and counsel to members of an organisation as Defence Chaplains. Chaplains are required to be religious leaders immersed in the practices of their accredited faith group and to operate within a spiritual framework. This includes providing pastoral and counselling ministry to personnel, their families and other authorised personnel.

This unit was developed for Defence Chaplains but may be relevant to others who work in this field.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently and perform complex tasks in a mainly predictable context.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.

Application

This unit describes the skills required to participate in a base/establishment chaplaincy team and to perform as an Australian Defence Force Chaplain representing a parent religious body. It also covers the requirement of military chaplains to maintain their own personal spirituality and well-being.

This unit was developed for Defence chaplains but may be relevant to others who work in this field.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently, while performing complex tasks in a mainly predictable context.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.

DEFCHP006 Perform the duties of a chaplain in a deployed environment

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages.

Application

This unit describes the skills required to perform the duties of a chaplain in a joint combined or coalition deployed environment. The chaplains' role in this environment can be unique due to a change in context and increased complexity. Deployed environment means away from base.

This unit was developed for Defence Chaplains but may be relevant to others who work in this field.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently, while performing complex tasks in a broad range of contexts that are often unpredictable.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.

DEFCMD001 Marshal aircraft

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the DEF Defence Training Package.

Application

This unit specifies the skills and knowledge required to marshal aircraft during start/shutdown phases, and to direct aircraft movements as ground personnel using standard aircraft marshalling signals.

It includes preparing for marshalling and determining aircraft parking position, and marshalling aircraft during start up, shut down and taxiing.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to, particularly those related to the standard Australian Defence Force (ADF) marshalling signals.

Persons undertaking this unit work independently or in small teams, make independent decisions and perform routine tasks in occasionally less familiar contexts while working at an airfield or on a ship where they will marshal aircraft as part of their duties.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Assessment Requirements for DEFCMD001 Marshal aircraft

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the DEF Defence Training Package.

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria on at least one occasion and include:

- allocating and prioritising aircraft parking
- identifying hazards, assessing risks and implementing control measures
- implementing aircraft security, access and ordnance procedures
- implementing the correct procedures in an aircraft emergency or accident
- marshalling aircraft by day and by night
- participating in aircraft safety briefings or debriefings
- using marshalling signals
- working in a team.

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria and include knowledge of:

- aircraft danger zones
- day and night marshalling signals
- effects of wind on aircraft
- emergency drills including:
  - basic firefighting drill
  - basic first aid drill
  - crowd control
- environmental and safety factors
- how and when to notify emergency service/s
- marshalling, support and aircraft equipment selection and serviceability
- operational procedures for an aircraft fire/accident and emergency
- relevant manufacturer procedures
- relevant organisational policies and procedures
- relevant standard Australian Defence Force (ADF) marshalling signals
- restrictions imposed on aircraft in confined areas
- security, access and ordnance requirements
- special circumstances/procedures including:

  - aircraft with droop stops
  - aircraft with no prop/rotor brake
  - installation of locking, protection or security devices
- tasking information and procedures.

Assessment Conditions

As a minimum, assessors must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

As a minimum, assessment must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

Assessment must occur in workplace operational situations where it is appropriate to do so; where this is not appropriate, assessment must occur in simulated workplace operational situations that replicate workplace conditions.

Assessment processes and techniques must be appropriate to the language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the work being performed and the needs of the candidate.

Resources for assessment must include access to:

- a range of relevant exercises, case studies and/or other simulations
- relevant and appropriate materials, tools, equipment and personal protective equipment currently used in industry
- applicable documentation including operational procedures, regulations, codes of practice and operation manuals.

Assessment Requirements for DEFCMM003 Transmit and receive data via information exchange systems

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	These Assessment Requirements were released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meet the Standards for Training Packages. • Assessment Requirements created drawing upon specified assessment information from superseded unit

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the candidate must demonstrate evidence of performance of the following on at least one occasion.

- configuring basic circuits
- handling classified material
- identifying basic equipment faults
- processing messages
- ensuring circuit procedures comply with specific workplace requirements
- complying with WHS/radiation hazard policy
- complying with emission control policy
- maintaining security

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the depth of knowledge demonstrated must be appropriate to the job context of the candidate.

- basic communication procedures
- basic radio propagation
- classified material handling procedures
- communications ancillary equipment
- composition of teams and roles and responsibilities of team members
- emission theory and control
- information exchange systems terminology and basic operations

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

- message formats
- work health and safety (WHS) practices
- OTAT/OTAR procedures
- radiation hazard (RADHAZ) procedures and awareness
- satellite communications systems terminology and basic operations
- security procedures
- task specific equipment configuration/operation
- techniques for supporting others
- work environment layout

Assessment Conditions

Competency should be assessed in an actual workplace or in a simulated environment, with access to equipment and infrastructure appropriate to the outcome. Competency should be demonstrated over time to ensure the candidate is assessed across a variety of situations.

Assessors must satisfy the NVR/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

DEFCMM004 Conduct operator level maintenance in a Defence environment

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFCO405C Conduct operator level maintenance in a Defence environment. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • PC 1.1 removed

Application

This unit describes the skills required to conduct operator level maintenance on communications equipment within Defence communications workplaces. This includes the identification and selection of tools and equipment, the application of organisational safety requirements within guidelines of responsibility and full adherence to work health and safety (WHS)/radiation hazard policy.

This unit was developed for communications and information systems operators working within Defence but may be relevant to others who work in this field.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently and as part of a team, under direct and/or indirect supervision. They would perform routine tasks in specific communications environments while using discretion and judgement and taking responsibility for the quality of their outputs.

DEFCPL001 Evaluate and review safety cases

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the DEF Defence Training Package.

Application

This unit specifies the skills and knowledge required to ensure compliance requirements through the evaluation and review of safety cases.

It includes developing evaluation plans, analysing a safety case, communicating with stakeholders and making recommendations about certification.

This unit applies to Defence workers involved in the evaluation and review of safety cases but is applicable to all individuals who work in this field.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

Persons undertaking this unit work independently and as part of a team under direct and indirect supervision, and perform routine tasks in familiar contexts.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Assessment Requirements for DEFCPL001 Evaluate and review safety cases

Modification History

Release 1. This is the first release of this unit of competency in the DEF Defence Training Package.

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence in this unit must be relevant to and satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria on at least one occasion and include:

- accessing/preparing information electronically or in hard copy
- analysing and organising data using appropriate techniques
- applying organisational policies and procedures
- applying risk management techniques
- applying safety case risk management system by:
  - explaining how safety (and other forms of risk) has been considered with regard to any system or equipment throughout the life of the capability from definition through to disposal
  - explaining how due diligence has been given to the hazards associated with the introduction into service of new capability and documenting the system that facilitates the management of hazards
- applying safety, legislative and statutory requirements relevant to the risk assessment
- communicating with stakeholders using a range of communication styles to suit different audiences and purposes
- conducting quantitative data analysis using appropriate techniques
- conducting various types of evaluation surveys
- contributing to a positive culture of safety compliance
- determining and applying evaluation and review methodology
- maintaining security and confidentiality of data in accordance with organisational procedures and regulatory requirements
- managing projects, resources and timelines
- preparing detailed and complex reports and recommendations
- undertaking research
- using management techniques related to evaluation and review of safety cases
- using management tools suited to evaluation and review of safety cases.

Knowledge Evidence

- management tools suited to evaluation and review processes
- procedures for verifying data and identifying mistakes
- regulatory systems relevant to safety cases and safety systems
- regulatory systems relevant to the work performed
- relevant organisational policies, procedures and guidelines
- risk assessment and management process relevant to materiel, materiel systems and work being performed
- safety case certification procedures
- safety case risk management system
- relevant work health and safety (WHS)/occupational health and safety (OHS) legislation.

Assessment Conditions

As a minimum, assessors must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

As a minimum, assessment must satisfy applicable regulatory requirements, which include requirements in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations current at the time of assessment.

Assessment processes and techniques must be appropriate to the language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the work being performed and the needs of the candidate.

Assessment must occur in workplace operational situations, where it is appropriate to do so; where this is not appropriate, assessment must occur in simulated workplace operational situations that replicate workplace conditions.

Resources for assessment must include access to:

- a range of relevant exercises, case studies and/or other simulations
- relevant and appropriate materials, computer, software, legislation, guidelines, procedures and protocols relating to safety case processes, relevant plans and workplace documentation currently used in industry
- applicable documentation including operational procedures, regulations, codes of practice and operation manuals.

DEFEVL001 Develop an evaluation program

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEV501 Develop an evaluation program. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • All PC revised in element 3

Application

This unit describes the skills required to develop an evaluation program for an organisation. It includes defining terms of reference and context; identifying key stages and outcomes; assessing and defining data management requirements and identifying the resources needed to undertake the program.

This unit applies to those responsible for the design and development of an evaluation and reporting strategy to measure performance and the value of investment decisions.

Those undertaking this unit would work autonomously while performing complex tasks in a familiar context.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the candidate must demonstrate evidence of performance of the following on at least one occasion.

- evaluating information management systems, policies and procedures of an organisation
- selecting relevant evaluation information and documentation
- accessing and interpreting the organisation's standards, missions, values and objectives
- analysing records/notes of the evaluation process
- explaining the evaluation process
- giving clear and precise instructions and advice
- discussing the evaluation process with other relevant people
- seeking information relevant to the evaluation
- discussing the evaluation outcome with the stakeholders
- developing resources to support the evaluation process
- communicating with key stakeholders
- producing and maintaining documentation
- planning projects, work programs
- coordinating the work of self and others
- investigating training and workforce data
- determining and implementing improvement
- writing evaluation reports
- analysing trend
- creating performance indicators

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the depth of knowledge demonstrated must be appropriate to the job context of the candidate.

DEFEXO001 Work safely with explosive ordnance

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEO101D Work safely with explosive ordnance. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • Element 2 and 5 merged • PC 1.2 and 3.2 removed

Application

This unit describes the skills required to achieve a safe work environment when working with explosives.

This unit applies to those working in any installation or organisation involved in the storage, distribution, maintenance and use of explosives; this includes but is not limited to research and development establishments, and proof and experimental establishments.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently and as part of a team, under direct and/or indirect supervision, use discretion and judgement, and take responsibility for the quality of their output. They would perform routine tasks in a range of contexts.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the candidate must demonstrate evidence of performance of the following on at least one occasion.

- identifying markings and colour coding of explosives and associated packaging
- identifying UN classification system

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the depth of knowledge demonstrated must be appropriate to the job context of the candidate.

Basic knowledge of:

- hazard and incident identification and reporting techniques
- hazardous materials requirements
- manual handling procedures
- organisational safety policies
- organisational safety information sources
- personal protection measures
- safety and advisory signs

Assessment Conditions

Competency should be assessed in an actual workplace or in a simulated environment, with access to equipment and infrastructure appropriate to the outcome. Competency should be demonstrated over time to ensure the candidate is assessed across a variety of situations.

DEFEXO002 Respond to fire

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEO201C Respond to fire. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • PC 3.2 & 3.3 merged • PC 3.4 removed

Application

This unit describes the skills required to carry out initial response to suppress a fire that may occur in an open field, building or storage area; and may be located on land, on board a ship at sea or in harbour, in the air; and may occur in the day or night and under any weather conditions. It also includes the ability to identify the nature and classification of the fire, report the fire and carry out evacuation procedures.

This unit applies to those who may be required to provide the initial response to fire. The unit does not cover the competencies needed to become a professional or volunteer firefighter.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently and as part of a team, under direct and/or indirect supervision, use discretion and judgement, and take responsibility for the quality of their output. They would perform specific tasks in a defined range of contexts.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.

DEFEXO004 Examine and certify free from explosives

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEO204C Examine and certify free from explosives. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • PC 1.2 removed

Application

This unit describes the skills required to examine and certify explosive and non-explosive dangerous goods packaging as being free from explosives (FFE) and arisings for salvage or return. Certification of these items as being FFE is a statutory requirement at different stages in the processing of these items, in particular when being sold or offered to the public for scrap metal. This unit does not cover the competencies required for inerting explosives and associated components.

This unit applies to those required to examine and certify salvage and associated packaging as being FFE.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

- applying colour coding, markings, stencilling and labels
- applying compatibility/environmental constraints
- applying moisture absorption/sealing procedures
- applying operational safety
- calculating weight, volume and dimensions
- identifying explosives and packaging materials
- using relevant tools and equipment

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the depth of knowledge demonstrated must be appropriate to the job context of the candidate.

Basic knowledge of:

- heat and/or vacuum sealing/moisture absorption/packaging procedures
- effects of environmental conditions

Operational knowledge of:

- explosives to be packaged
- colour coding, markings, stencilling and labelling requirements
- documentation requirements
- operation and limitations of packaging tools and equipment

Assessment Requirements for DEFEXO006 Unpackage explosives

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	These Assessment Requirements were released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meet the Standards for Training Packages. • Assessment Requirements created drawing upon specified assessment information from superseded unit

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the candidate must demonstrate evidence of performance of the following on at least one occasion.

- applying antistatic procedures
- applying compatibility/environmental constraints
- applying operational safety
- calculating and maintaining net explosive quantity
- identifying explosives and packaging materials
- identifying colour coding, markings and labels
- interpreting and applying technical instructions and drawings related to packaging of explosives
- using unpackaging tools and equipment
- venting containers

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the depth of knowledge demonstrated must be appropriate to the job context of the candidate.

Operational knowledge of:

- explosives to be unpackaged
- antistatic procedures
- appropriate explosive packaging
- colour coding, markings
- compatibility constraints
- effects of environmental conditions

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

- net explosive quantity calculations
- operational safety
- operations and limitations of unpackaging tools and equipment
- work condition class
- venting procedures

Assessment Conditions

Competency should be assessed in an actual workplace or in a simulated environment, with access to equipment and infrastructure appropriate to the outcome. Competency should be demonstrated over time to ensure the candidate is assessed across a variety of situations.

Candidate needs to complete at least one assessment using live explosives.

This unit needs to be assessed in an authorised and licensed potential explosion site.

Assessors must satisfy the NVR/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

DEFEXO007 Monitor explosive ordnance environmental conditions

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEO303D Monitor explosive ordnance environmental conditions. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • PC 1.4 and 1.5 removed • Element 2 all PC reworded and reordered

Application

This unit describes the skills required to monitor environmental conditions related to explosives prior to sealing packaging. It includes having to identify explosives that need environmental controls, matching this to an appropriate storage facility and maintaining the requisite environmental conditions.

This unit applies to those required to monitor environmental conditions related to explosives.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently and as part of a team, under direct and/or indirect supervision, use discretion and judgement, and take responsibility for the quality of their output. They would perform routine tasks in a broad range of contexts.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.

ELEMENTS	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
Elements describe the essential outcomes	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the range of conditions section.
1. Identify environmental control requirements for explosives	1.1 Apply technical specifications to identify environmental control requirements for explosives. 1.2 Select environmental requirements for short-term and long-term storage to match explosive type. 1.3 Identify environmental limits for control from technical specifications.
2. Monitor explosive environmental conditions	2.1 Monitor storage areas for environmental standards and environmental storage requirements. 2.2 Operate and monitor monitoring devices. 2.3 Identify emergency procedures and apply contingency procedures.
3. Identify and rectify problems	3.1 Identify implications of incorrect environmental standards. 3.2 Identify causes related to changes to environmental standards. 3.3 Implement procedures related to problem rectification.

This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEO501D Conduct explosives inspection. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • PC 1.2 and 3.1 removed • Element 3 one new PC

Application

This unit describes the skills required to conduct an inspection on all types of explosives in order to assess serviceability and to process further action. How the explosives are processed is subject to the outcomes of the inspection. In the case of defective or damaged explosives they may be retained and returned to the manufacturer, maintained or disposed of, or restrictions may be placed on their use.

This unit applies to those required to conduct an inspection on all types of explosives.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

This unit describes the skills required to set up and conduct simple electrical/electronic circuitry tests on explosive ordnance or component parts. These tests are required to be conducted on a wide range of explosive ordnance during maintenance procedures.

This unit applies to those required to set up and conduct simple electrical/electronic circuitry tests on explosive ordnance or component parts.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently and as part of a team, under direct and/or indirect supervision, use discretion and judgement, and take responsibility for the quality of their output. They would perform specific tasks in a range of contexts.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.

Assessment Requirements for DEFEXO012 Conduct electrical/electronic circuitry tests

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	These Assessment Requirements were released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meet the Standards for Training Packages. • Assessment Requirements created drawing upon specified assessment information from superseded unit

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the candidate must demonstrate evidence of performance of the following on at least one occasion.

- applying environmental constraints
- conducting housekeeping
- operating testing equipment
- using PPE
- demonstrating manual handling techniques and team lifting techniques

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the depth of knowledge demonstrated must be appropriate to the job context of the candidate.

Basic knowledge of:

- electrical theory relevant to the tests
- functioning of explosive ordnance
- explosive licence limits

Operational knowledge of:

- characteristics and limitations of testing equipment
- effects of environmental conditions
- operability of test equipment

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

- operations, characteristics and limitations of other tools and equipment relevant to the testing
- organisational documentation requirements
- testing procedures

Assessment Conditions

Competency should be assessed in an actual workplace or in a simulated environment, with access to equipment and infrastructure appropriate to the outcome. Competency should be demonstrated over time to ensure the candidate is assessed across a variety of situations.

Candidate needs to complete at least one assessment using live explosives.

This unit needs to be assessed in an authorised and licensed potential explosion site.

Assessors must satisfy the NVR/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

DEFEXO013 Conduct external explosive ordnance maintenance

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEO502D Conduct external explosive ordnance maintenance. • Unit code updated. • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • PC 1.2 removed • PC 3.1 reworded • Element 2 one new PC

Application

This unit describes the skills required to conduct external maintenance on all types of explosive ordnance. Maintenance is carried out on the explosive ordnance while monitoring the environmental conditions. The unit only applies to the maintenance of explosive ordnance that does not require the removal of any explosive component.

This unit applies to those required to conduct external maintenance on explosive ordnance by the removal of rust and contaminants, cleaning, painting and stencilling standard markings.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently and as part of a team, under direct and/or indirect supervision, use discretion and judgement, and take responsibility for the quality of their output. They would perform specific tasks in a range of contexts.

DEFEXO014 Gauge explosives

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEO715C Gauge explosives ordnance. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • PC 1.2 removed

Application

This unit describes the skills required to gauge explosives and/or components for inspection, testing, maintenance or to determine serviceability. Gauging requires the ability to work safely within an explosives environment, to calculate and apply net explosive quantity, to assess and apply compatibility and to maintain documentation.

This unit applies to those required to gauge explosives and/or components to confirm compliance with established design parameters and/or other specifications, references or publications.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently and/or as part of a team, under indirect supervision. They would use discretion and judgement and take responsibility for the quality of their outputs while performing specific tasks in a broad range of contexts

DEFEXO015 Follow security procedures

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEO008 Follow security procedures. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • PC 3.4, 4.1, 4.4 and 4.5 removed

Application

This unit describes the skills required to follow security procedures in an explosive workplace environment, including but not limited to:

- training areas
- ranges
- operational areas
- warehousing and distribution points
- road, rail, aviation, and maritime transport
- freight forwarding and customs broking areas

It includes checking and maintaining the security of any goods and cargo; ensuring the security of workplace personnel and visitors; identifying and reporting any security threats or situations; and completing all required security records.

This unit was developed for those working within an explosive workplace. While developed by Defence, it is applicable to any individual in this field of work.

DEFEXO021 Breakdown explosive ordnance

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEO505D Breakdown explosive ordnance. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • PC 1.2 removed

Application

This unit describes the skills required to break down explosive ordnance into its component parts. The breaking down of explosive ordnance is normally conducted as a process of destruction, however it may be used as a means to salvage component parts or to test specific components. Explosive ordnance requiring to be broken down is normally that which cannot be disassembled due to its design or process of manufacture. This unit does not cover the competencies required for inerting explosives and associated components.

This unit applies to those required to break down explosive ordnance into its component parts.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently and as part of a team, under direct and/or indirect supervision, use discretion and judgement, and take responsibility for the quality of their output. They would perform specific tasks in a broad range of contexts.

Assessment Conditions

Competency should be assessed in an actual workplace or in a simulated environment, with access to equipment and infrastructure appropriate to the outcome. Competency should be demonstrated over time to ensure the candidate is assessed across a variety of situations.

Candidate needs to complete at least one assessment using live explosives.

This unit needs to be assessed in an authorised and licensed potential explosion site.

Assessors must satisfy the NVR/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

DEFEXO023 Assemble and disassemble explosive components

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEO507D Assemble and disassemble explosive components. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • PC 1.2 removed

Application

This unit describes the skills required to assemble and disassemble various components of explosive ordnance. Assembly and disassembly of explosive components may be required during arming and de-arming operations, for inerting, inspection, testing and maintenance, prior to issue and on return from issue.

This unit applies to those required to assemble and disassemble various components of explosive ordnance.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently and as part of a team, under direct and/or indirect supervision, use discretion and judgement, and take responsibility for the quality of their output. They would perform specific tasks in a broad range of contexts.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.

Elements describe the essential outcomes	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the range of conditions section.
1. Prepare for assembly or disassembly	1.1 Identify requirement for assembly or disassembly of explosive components from work requests/instructions and confirm. 1.2 Identify, acquire and prepare technical references, tools and equipment required for the assembly or disassembly. 1.3 Acquire, prepare, move and position components to be assembled or disassembled in preparation for the task. 1.4 Identify, calculate, assess and apply net explosive quantities and compatibility throughout the operation. 1.5 Monitor and maintain environmental conditions.
2. Disassemble components	2.1 Disassemble explosive components. 2.2 Process components in accordance with the requirements specified in the work request. 2.3 Interpret emergency procedures and apply contingency plans.
3. Assemble components	3.1 Inspect, confirm and assemble individual componentry. 3.2 Package and/or prepare assembly in accordance with the requirements specified in the work request.
4. Finalise the operation	4.1 Ensure serviceability of equipment/tools. 4.2 Maintain documentation and records.

Assessment Requirements for DEFEXO051 Maintain aircraft egress systems

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	These Assessment Requirements were released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meet the Standards for Training Packages. • Assessment Requirements created drawing upon specified assessment information from superseded unit

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the candidate must demonstrate evidence of performance of the following on at least one occasion.

- conducting tests
- identifying and selecting appropriate tools and equipment
- identifying types of aircraft egress systems
- using PPE
- conducting manual handling and using team lifting techniques
- handling dangerous goods and hazardous substances

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the depth of knowledge demonstrated must be appropriate to the job context of the candidate.

Basic knowledge of:

- organisational safety requirements
- legislative and regulatory requirements while maintaining aircraft egress systems

Operational knowledge of:

- colour coding, marking and labels
- documentation requirements
- effects of environmental conditions
- maintenance procedures

© Commonwealth of Australia, 2024 Public Skills Australia

- operational safety
- operations, characteristics and limitations of aircraft egress systems to be maintained
- operations, characteristics and limitations of tools and equipment used in maintenance
- testing procedures

Assessment Conditions

Competency should be assessed in an actual workplace or in a simulated environment, with access to equipment and infrastructure appropriate to the outcome. Competency should be demonstrated over time to ensure the candidate is assessed across a variety of situations.

Candidate needs to complete at least one assessment using live explosives.

This unit needs to be assessed in an authorised and licensed potential explosion site.

Assessors must satisfy the NVR/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

DEFEXO061 Render explosive ordnance inert

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEO719A Render explosive ordnance inert. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • PC 1.2 and 2.4 removed • PC 3.1 reworded

Application

This unit describes the skills required to render explosive ordnance inert. Rendering explosive ordnance inert is normally undertaken to provide a training display or model but may also be used to allow transportation of specific explosive ordnance required for testing or analysis. It does not cover the authorisation process to render explosive ordnance inert.

This unit applies to personnel who are required to render explosive ordnance inert.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently and/or as part of a team, under indirect supervision. They would use discretion and judgement and take responsibility for the quality of their outputs, while performing complex tasks in broad range of contexts

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the candidate must demonstrate evidence of performance of the following on at least one occasion.

- identifying serviceability of safety systems
- preparing and inspecting items of explosive ordnance for loading/unloading
- loading/unloading items of explosive ordnance to/from a platform
- securing and documenting the loading/unloading of items of explosive ordnance to/from a platform
- using and applying safety mechanisms including locking mechanisms and dead man brakes
- using special to purpose loading/unloading and handling equipment associated with the explosive ordnance
- ensuring the appropriate preparatory, execution, securing and documentation actions are taken
- inspecting explosive ordnance to confirm serviceability and configuration

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the depth of knowledge demonstrated must be appropriate to the job context of the candidate.

DEFEXO065 Prepare and arm weapon systems

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEO710D Prepare and arm weapon systems. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • PC 1.2 and 2.1 removed

Application

This unit of competency is not cleared for public access.

Defence units that require Defence clearance for access are not included in this document. Public access to these units has the potential to compromise Defence operations and security as well as place members of the public and Defence Officers at risk. These units are contained in a separate document and are only available to persons authorised by the Australian Defence Force. DEFEXO069 Plan loading of dangerous goods

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEO214A Plan loading of dangerous goods. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • Elements 1 and 2 merged, and PC reordered and revised • Elements 3 and 4 merged, and all PC reordered and revised

Application

This unit describes the skills required to plan loading of dangerous goods in accordance with relevant regulatory requirements and workplace procedures. It includes assessing the goods/freight to be loaded, planning the transfer and loading operations, and completing all required documentation.

This unit applies to personnel with responsibility for resource coordination and allocation.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

Those undertaking this unit work autonomously, usually managing individuals and teams. They would use discretion and judgement, and take responsibility for the quality of their output. They would perform complex tasks in a broad range of complex contexts utilising strategic and highly specialised knowledge.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.

DEFEXO070 Conduct technical explosive investigations

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEO205C Conduct technical explosive ordnance investigations. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • PC 2.2, 3.2, 5.1 and 6.2 removed • PC 4.2 & 4.3 merged • PC 5.3 reworded • Elements 1 & 2 merged

Application

This unit describes the skills required to conduct investigations and to prepare options and solutions in matters concerning the performance of explosives and/or their means of delivery. An investigation may be conducted into any explosive process/operation and may be undertaken at all levels within an organisation for both internal and external agencies.

Investigations may be initiated by the Terms of Reference and/or Instruments of Appointment. In the case of an explosive incident, the reporting of the incident is sufficient, with processes and procedures providing the direction for inquiry. Investigations may be either preliminary or technical in nature.

This unit applies to those required to conduct technical investigations and to prepare options and solutions in matters concerning the performance of explosive and/or their means of delivery.

DEFEXO071 Test for the presence of explosive substances

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	This unit was released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meets the Standards for Training Packages. This unit supersedes and is equivalent to DEFEO716C Test for explosive substances. • Unit code updated • Content and formatting updated to comply with the new standards • All PC transitioned from passive to active voice • PC 1.2 and 1.6 removed

Application

This unit describes the skills required to conduct material testing to determine the presence of an explosive substance. It includes the requirements for planning tests, carrying out tests, performing analysis, and recording and reporting test results.

This unit applies to those required to conduct material testing to determine the presence of an explosive substance.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and adhered to.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently and/or as part of a team, under indirect supervision. They would use discretion and judgement and take responsibility for the quality of their outputs, while performing routine tasks in a range of contexts.

No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.

ELEMENTS	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
Elements describe the essential outcomes	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the range of conditions section.
1. Plan and prepare for testing	1.1 Identify requirement for substances testing from work requests/instructions. 1.2 Select appropriate testing methods. 1.3 Identify, acquire and prepare technical references, testing tools and equipment. 1.4 Confirm security of the test site.
2. Conduct tests	2.1 Perform tests to identify properties of the substances. 2.2 Compare test results with standards, charts and tables in order to identify unknown materials. 2.3 Interpret emergency procedures and apply contingency plans.
3. Finalise the testing procedures	3.1 Determine and carry out sentencing action. 3.2 Complete and maintain documentation, records and related reports.

Foundation Skills

The foundation skills demands of this unit have been mapped for alignment with the Australian Core Skills Framework (ACSF). The following tables outline the performance levels indicated for successful attainment of the unit.

Assessment Requirements for DEFEXO071 Test for the presence of explosive substances

Modification History

Release	Comments
1	These Assessment Requirements were released in DEF Defence Training Package release 1.0 and meet the Standards for Training Packages. • Assessment Requirements created drawing upon specified assessment information from superseded unit

Performance Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the candidate must demonstrate evidence of performance of the following on at least one occasion.

- applying analysis techniques and technologies
- applying safety policies and structures
- using testing tools and equipment
- using PPE
- using manual handling and team lifting techniques
- handling dangerous goods and hazardous substances

Knowledge Evidence

Evidence required to demonstrate competence must satisfy all of the requirements of the elements and performance criteria. If not otherwise specified the depth of knowledge demonstrated must be appropriate to the job context of the candidate.

Operational knowledge of:

- characteristics and limitations of testing equipment
- explosive chemistry
- organisational documentation requirements
- properties and characteristics of explosives
- properties and characteristics of testing chemicals
