Performance Evidence

An individual demonstrating competency must satisfy all of the elements and performance criteria in this unit.

There must be evidence that, for one work period/shift, the individual has complied with workplace environmental protection requirements while performing personal work tasks related to a forest or wood products operation.

In performing this activity, the individual has:

- followed site, legal and workplace environmental protection requirements
- identified and reported to supervisor environmental hazards and associated risks that may be present in personal work setting
- responded to environmental risks safely and according to site procedures and scope of responsibility within the workplace.

Knowledge Evidence

An individual must be able to demonstrate the knowledge required to perform the tasks outlined in the elements and performance criteria of this unit. This includes knowledge of:

- legal and workplace requirements and codes of practice relevant to environmental protection, as they apply to forest or wood products operations and the job role
- environmental protection requirements related to the work setting and work role
- workplace environmental protection procedures
- hazards and hazard identification, including associated risks and controls
- established workplace communication channels and protocols
- procedures for recording and reporting workplace and workplace specific information.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment of the skills in this unit of competency must take place under the following conditions:

- physical conditions:
 - skills must be demonstrated in a forest or wood products work environment or an environment that accurately represents workplace conditions
- resources, equipment and materials:
 - work site, tools and equipment required for performing routine work activities associated with job role
- specifications:
 - environmental procedures relevant to the routine work activity.

Assessors of this unit must satisfy the requirements for assessors in applicable vocational education and training legislation, frameworks and/or standards.
