

Australian Government

Assessment Requirements for FWPFGM3210 Patrol forest

Release: 1

Assessment Requirements for FWPFGM3210 Patrol forest

Modification History

Release	Comment
1	Replaces equivalent FPIFGM3210B Patrol forest, which was first released with FPI11 Forest and Forest Products Training Package Version 1. Significant changes to the unit include: Performance criteria revised, range statement reduced, foundation skills revised, new evidence requirements for assessment, skills and knowledge integrated elsewhere in unit. This is the first release of this unit in the new standards.

Performance Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy all of the elements, performance criteria and foundation skills of this unit. If a specific volume or frequency is not stated below, then evidence must be provided that the following requirements have been performed on at least one occasion:

- prepare for a patrol ensuring communication links are established, appropriate notification of intended patrol route and area
- prepare and communicate contingency plans of one or more of the following:
 - search and rescue of lost members of the public and colleagues
 - recovery of vehicles
 - clearing of roads
 - evacuation plans
 - bush fire control assistance to emergency services or other government agencies
 - administration of first aid.
- carry out a patrol, identifying and assessing risks and hazards, and demonstrating appropriate response procedures
- respond to complaints and breaches of legislation, including
 - unauthorised use of roads to which public access is restricted
 - unauthorised use of firearms by members of the public
 - damage or theft of the forest estate by members of the public
 - illegal activities by members of the public, particularly in campsites
- report forest patrol activity
- follow applicable legal, regulatory and organisational requirements, and codes of practice for patrolling a forest

Knowledge Evidence

A person competent in this unit must be able to demonstrate knowledge of:

- applicable regulations, standards, codes of practice and established safe practices relevant to patrolling a forest
- organisational and site standards, requirements, policies and procedures for patrolling a forest
- environmental risks and hazards typically found in a forest, and on patrol of a forest
- typical types, use and maintenance of communications equipment
- navigating using a map or a GPS
- the geography of the patrol area
- formats and procedures for collecting and documenting evidence that includes:
 - verbal
 - written
 - physical
- typical complaints and breaches, and appropriate response procedures and follow-up actions including:
 - unauthorised use of roads or entry to areas to which public access is restricted
 - unauthorised use of firearms by members of the public
 - damage or theft of the forest estate by members of the public
 - illegal activities by members of the public, particularly in campsites
- procedures for recording and reporting workplace information.

Assessment Conditions

The following resources must be made available:

- forest site to patrol
- relevant personnel for the purposes of communicating information
- workplace requirements and site standards for planning and conducting a forest patrol.

Competency is to be assessed in the workplace or a simulated environment that accurately reflects performance in a real workplace setting.

Assessor requirements

Assessors must:

- hold the appropriate assessor competency standards as outlined in regulations; and
- be able to demonstrate vocational competencies at least to the level being assessed; and
- be able to demonstrate how they are continuing to develop their VET knowledge and skills as well as maintaining their industry currency and assessor competence.

Links

Companion Volume implementation guides are found in VETNet -

<https://vetnet.gov.au/Pages/TrainingDocs.aspx?q=0d96fe23-5747-4c01-9d6f-3509ff8d3d47>

