Release 1	This version was released in HLT Health Training Package release 1.0 and meets the requirements of the 2012 Standards for Training Packages. Significant changes to elements and performance criteria. New evidence requirements for assessment, including volume and environment requirements.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role.

There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- undertaken social and emotional wellbeing work with clients within the legal and ethical boundaries of the social and emotional wellbeing worker, and with a commitment to the philosophy of social and emotional wellbeing
- maintained the professional boundaries of the work role and addressed accountability and responsibilities appropriately
- addressed the needs of clients from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds
- balanced expectations of the organisation, the community and clients in undertaking social and emotional wellbeing work
- used high-level effective communication skills
- completed relevant documentation.

All performance evidence must be demonstrated at least once.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively do the task outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage the task and manage contingencies in the context of the identified work role.

This includes knowledge of:

- traditional healing
- cultural law and its consequences
- rights as employees – industrial awards, duty of care, occupational health and safety, workers' compensation
- support systems available for employees – e.g. counselling, unions, professional associations
- the role, rights and responsibilities relating to social and emotional wellbeing work:
 - legal responsibilities to clients, organisation and self
 - reporting responsibilities
 - accountability to organisation and community
 - confidentiality requirements for social and emotional wellbeing work
 - ethical responsibilities
 - professional boundaries
- justice system and its processes
- Mental Health Act and relevant regulations
- conflict resolution and mediation
- stress-management techniques
- changing roles of Aboriginal men and women in communities
- broad knowledge of:
 - government structures
 - political structures
 - adult guardianship
 - rights of clients.

Assessment Conditions

Skills must be demonstrated working:

- in a health service or centre
- individually or as a member of a multidisciplinary primary health care team
- with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander clients and communities.

In addition, simulations and scenarios must be used where the full range of contexts and situations cannot be provided in the workplace or may occur only rarely. These are situations relating to emergency or unplanned procedures where assessment in these circumstances would be unsafe or is impractical.

Simulated assessment environments must simulate the real-life working environment where these skills and knowledge would be performed, with all the relevant equipment and resources of that working environment.

Assessors must satisfy the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015/AQTF mandatory competency requirements for assessors.

Assessment must be undertaken by a workplace assessor who has expertise in this unit of competency and who is:

an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander Health Worker or:

- accompanied by an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander person who is a recognised member of the community with experience in primary health care
