Elements and Performance Criteria

Elements	Performance Criteria
Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
1. Prepare to use sizing system	1.1 Identify business approach to sizing standards and systems 1.2 Establish intended purpose of the garment design
2. Analyse sizing requirements	2.1 Analyse sizing requirements of garment and determine appropriate sizing system 2.2 Read and interpret design specifications 2.3 Analyse body measurements and body characteristics and establish their effect on sizing
3. Develop size chart	3.1 Identify appropriate sizes from sizing system for the design

Elements	Performance Criteria
Elements describe the essential outcomes.	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element.
	3.2 Take necessary body measurements and record distinctive body characteristics 3.3 Record and store sizing information in accordance with workplace procedures

Foundation Skills

This section describes those language, literacy, numeracy and employment skills that are essential to performance but not explicit in the performance criteria.

- Writing skills to record factual information in workplace documents
- Numeracy skills to take accurate measurements and work with broader concepts around measurement.

Other foundation skills essential to performance are explicit in the performance criteria of this unit.

Unit Mapping Information
