SIBBFAS303A Design and apply remedial camouflage make-up

Modification History
Not applicable.

Unit Descriptor
This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to design and apply remedial camouflage make-up products and techniques to disguise the appearance of particular special skin conditions based on an assessment of the facial and body areas requiring remedial camouflage. This is a cosmetic response to a number of conditions that have caused a visible alteration to the texture, colour and tone of the skin in a specific area of the face or body.

A cosmetic camouflage make-up treatment is custom designed and applied after client observation and consultation. It involves the use of specialised products and application techniques to cover and blend the treatment area to match the client's surrounding skin.

Application of the Unit
This unit applies to beauty therapists exercising judgement in planning and selecting appropriate products, services, equipment and techniques.

Licensing/Regulatory Information
No licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of endorsement.

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the following is essential:

- using effective questioning and active listening techniques to consult, reassure and negotiate with clients, while maintaining discretion and confidentiality
- analysing the treatment area and surrounding skin and designing a remedial camouflage plan, including:
  - facial and body areas requiring camouflage
  - selected products
  - product application techniques
- applying camouflage make-up products to face or body for a variety of contexts, including blemish covering, skin and blemish matching, birthmarks and scars
- evaluating remedial camouflage service and advising on and demonstrating methods of self-application to client
- using time effectively and controlling product waste
- accurately and legibly recording relevant data and reporting to sources of referral.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Assessment must ensure:

- that competency is consistently demonstrated over a period of time and observed by the assessor or the technical expert working in partnership with the assessor as described in the Assessment Guidelines
- that competency is demonstrated in the workplace or a simulated workplace environment in a range of real work situations which may include client interruptions and involvement in other related activities normally expected in the workplace.

Assessment must ensure access to:

- an environment, which includes as a minimum:
  - individual client workstation
  - adjustable make-up chair
  - make-up lighting at each workstation
• trolley
• magnifying mirror
• client gown or cover
• appropriate supply of small towels
• disposable spatulas

• relevant workplace documentation including:
  • manufacturer’s equipment instructions
  • product instructions
  • manufacturer safety data sheets
  • workplace policies and procedures manuals
• a range of clients with different camouflage make-up requirements.

For further guidance on the use of an appropriate simulated environment, refer to the Assessment Guidelines in this Training Package.
Methods of assessment

A range of assessment methods should be used to assess practical skills and knowledge. The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- observation of learners performing a range of tasks in an actual or simulated work environment, over sufficient time to demonstrate handling of a range of contingencies, including:
  - preparing and performing face cleansing procedures
  - developing a remedial camouflage plan with client
  - applying remedial camouflage products as identified in the client's make-up plan
  - evaluating outcomes and client satisfaction
  - demonstrating self-application to clients
- written and oral questioning appropriate to the language and literacy level of the learner, to assess knowledge and understanding of relevant remedial camouflage techniques, including relevant legislation regarding hygiene and safety
- completion of workplace documentation relevant to the design and application of remedial camouflage make-up treatments
- third-party reports from technical experts
- completion of self-paced learning materials, including personal reflection and feedback from a trainer, coach or supervisor.
