Unit Descriptor

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to develop and apply scalp treatment therapies.

Application of the Unit

This unit applies to senior hairdressers in salon environments who design and apply individual or multiple scalp treatments in response to trichological assessments. It also requires communication with clients to provide advice on self-administered parts of the treatment program and lifestyle factors to be adhered to between clinical treatments.

A person undertaking this role applies discretion and judgement accepts responsibility for outcomes of own work and provides technical leadership in the salon team.

Licensing/Regulatory Information

No licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements apply to this unit at the time of endorsement.

Evidence Guide

The evidence guide provides advice on assessment and must be read in conjunction with the performance criteria, required skills and knowledge, range statement and the Assessment Guidelines for the Training Package.

Overview of assessment

Critical aspects for assessment and evidence required to demonstrate competency in this unit

Evidence of the following is essential:

- knowledge and application of relevant salon policies and procedures, and safe work practices in regard to the provision of trichological treatments
- recognising common treatable scalp conditions
- planning and applying scalp treatment programs as an outcome of scalp analysis
- knowledge and skill in the application of a variety of scalp treatments, using a variety of techniques and procedures involving skin care.

Context of and specific resources for assessment

Assessment must ensure access to:

- a salon or a simulated salon environment that includes a range of work situations such as client interruptions and involvement in other related activities normally expected in the salon
- fully equipped workstation which includes as minimum:
 - an adjustable client chair
 - clean client gown or wrap
 - a plentiful supply of clean towels
- relevant documentation, such as:
 - occupational health and safety regulations
 - salon procedures
 - product information
- a range of clients with different scalp conditions
- a professional hair and scalp trichological treatments products range.

For further guidance on the use of an appropriate simulated environment, refer to the Assessment Guidelines in this Training Package.

Method of assessment

A range of assessment methods should be used to assess practical skills and knowledge. The following examples are appropriate for this unit:

- direct observation of the learner:
 - identifying appropriate treatment regimens for a range of scalp conditions

- performing a variety of treatment processes
- completing client records relevant to scalp treatments
- written or verbal questions to assess knowledge and understanding, including:
 - the transmission routes of infectious conditions
 - standard infection-control precautions
 - signs and symptoms of common normal and abnormal scalp conditions
 - physical effects of various scalp treatments from the salon range
 - applications and efficacy of scalp treatments in the salon trichological treatments and services range
 - relevant health regulations
 - relevant salon procedures
- review of portfolios of evidence and third-party reports of on-the-job performance.

Guidance information for assessment

A unit of competency describes an individual skill but people rarely perform one skill at a time. Many skills are combined on a day-to-day basis in the workplace as part of work processes. This does not mean that each skill described by a unit of competency is prerequisite to another—they are related skills.

Holistic assessment with other units relevant to the industry sector, salon and job role is recommended for example:
