Performance Evidence

The candidate must be assessed on their ability to integrate and apply the performance requirements of this unit in a workplace setting. Performance must be demonstrated consistently over time and in a suitable range of contexts.

The candidate must provide evidence that they can:

- follow workplace procedures for hazard identification and risk control
- read safety warning signs
- observe safety during work operations
- follow workplace procedures for dealing with accidents, fire and emergencies within the scope of responsibilities and competencies
- participate in arrangements for maintaining the health and safety of all people in the workplace
- recognise caution or hazard signs and symbols
- identify tasks or information from labels, manuals or written instructions
- record information accurately or verbally reporting information

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must demonstrate knowledge of:

- relevant work health and safety legislation, codes of practice and enterprise policies
- employee and employer work health and safety responsibilities
- enterprise procedures relating to hazards, fires, emergencies, accidents and risk control
- relevant machinery and equipment operator manuals
- work health and safety signs and symbols relevant to area of work
- hazards and risks in the industry sector

Assessment Conditions

Competency is to be assessed in the work place or workplace and simulated environments that accurately reflect performance in a real workplace setting.

Assessors must satisfy current standards for RTOs.
