Performance Evidence

An individual demonstrating competency must satisfy all of the elements and performance criteria in this unit. There must be evidence that the individual has managed supply chain and enterprise animal welfare performance for a supply chain, on at least one occasion, including:

- identified enterprise animal welfare requirements through analysis of supply chain suppliers, applicable legislation, standards and customer requirements
- developed, reviewed or updated appropriate documentation and recorded processes for animal welfare requirements to enterprise standards
- prepared a supplier compliance report based on the analysis of recorded information
- documented the enterprise's commitment to animal welfare for public release.

Knowledge Evidence

An individual must be able to demonstrate the knowledge required to perform the tasks outlined in the elements and performance criteria of this unit. This includes knowledge of:

- measures of animal welfare at the various points in the supply chain
- applicable animal welfare legislation, standards and customer requirements relevant to managing supply chain and enterprise animal welfare performance
- work health and safety requirements when working with animals
- animal behaviour and best practice handling techniques
- strategies for assessing, recording and monitoring animal welfare at various points in the supply chain
- strategies for minimising stress in animals in the supply chain
- techniques for fostering a positive attitude to animal welfare
- enterprise requirements for managing customer and supplier relationships
- sources of credible research in animal welfare.

Assessment Conditions

Assessment of the skills in this unit of competency must take place under the following conditions:

- physical conditions:
 - skills must be demonstrated in an operating producer to processor supply chain
- resources, equipment and materials:
 - workplace documents such as forms and production records
- specifications:
 - enterprise policies and procedures relevant to animal welfare

A minimum of three different forms of assessment must be used.

Assessors of this unit must satisfy the requirements for assessors in applicable vocational education and training legislation, frameworks and/or standards.
