

Australian Government

Assessment Requirements for CPPSEC4003

Assess and advise on client security needs

Release: 1

Assessment Requirements for CPPSEC4003 Assess and advise on client security needs

Modification History

Release 1 This version first released with CPP Property Services Training Package Release 9.0.

Supersedes and is equivalent CPPSEC4003A Advise on security needs. Updated to meet the Standards for Training Packages.

Performance Evidence

To demonstrate competency, a candidate must meet the performance criteria of this unit by assessing and advising on security products and services to meet the different security needs of three clients.

Knowledge Evidence

To be competent in this unit, a candidate must demonstrate knowledge of:

- workplace policies and procedures that ensure compliance with legislative and regulatory requirements when advising clients on security needs:
 - client service standards
 - licensing requirements in the security industry
 - regulatory requirements associated with providing advice about security products and services
 - reporting and documentation
- application of ISO 31000:2018 Risk management – Guidelines when advising clients on security needs
- basic requirements for the installation of a range of security equipment and systems
- changing risk context of client operations
- how and where security manpower can be effectively used
- methods for comparing and contrasting security product and service information
- operational principles of, and information technologies used in internet protocol networked security equipment and systems
- process of dynamic risk assessment and application of risk management using the hierarchy of controls
- purpose of Australia's Strategy for Protecting Crowded Places from Terrorism and understanding of:
 - definition of crowded places
 - key security issues for crowded places

- objectives, characteristics and identification of active armed offenders
- definition of hostile vehicles and methods of attack
- signs of chemical weapons attack and recommend response
- general features of improvised explosive devices and recommended incident response
- type and nature of a range of security risks and measures for controlling these using security products and services
- types, functions, advantages and disadvantages of common security products and services
- ways that social and cultural differences may be expressed.

Assessment Conditions

Assessors must meet the requirements for assessors contained in the Standards for Registered Training Organisations.

All individuals engaged by a licensed RTO for security licensing purposes must hold both a security trainers licence (where such a licence exists within the relevant jurisdiction) and the licence for performing the security activities for which the individual is providing training or assessment. Regulators may impose other assessor conditions to meet jurisdictional assessment requirements.

Assessment must be conducted in the workplace or in a simulated workplace environment. Candidates must have access to:

- legislation, regulations, codes of practice and policies and procedures that apply to the provision of security advice and services in the jurisdiction of operation
- client information and specifications, information technologies and resources required to achieve the performance evidence
- ISO 31000:2018 Risk management – Guidelines
- Australia's Strategy for Protecting Crowded Places from Terrorism.

Links

Companion volumes to this training package are available at the VETNet website - <https://vetnet.gov.au/Pages/TrainingDocs.aspx?q=6f3f9672-30e8-4835-b348-205dfcf13d9b>