Performance Evidence

The candidate must demonstrate the ability to complete the tasks outlined in the elements, performance criteria and foundation skills of this unit, including evidence of the ability to:

- apply colour management techniques according to at least two different project specifications.

In the course of the above, the candidate must:

- document research into the principles and techniques of digital colour management
- evaluate digital colour management systems and strategies
- select required systems to apply to imaging work
- manage digital colour across a range of digital devices to achieve consistent quality in products
- evaluate outcomes and document ways to respond to future changes or opportunities.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate knowledge to complete the tasks outlined in the elements, performance criteria and foundation skills of this unit, including knowledge of:

- procedures and processes for creating, defining and managing colour in digital imaging devices
- procedures for using common colour charts, spaces, measurement, systems and models in photo imaging
- key industry standards that apply to colour measurement and management
- typical issues that may arise in managing digital colour and solutions for managing them
- trends and emerging technologies that may have impact on colour management systems.

Assessment Conditions

Skills in this unit must be demonstrated in a workplace or simulated environment where the conditions are typical of those in a working environment in this industry.

This includes access to:

- an environment where a range of digital imaging devices and colour management systems can be applied.

Assessors of this unit must satisfy the requirements for assessors in applicable vocational education and training legislation, frameworks and/or standards.
