Application

This unit describes the skills required to translate special purpose texts from English to a language other than English (LOTE). It identifies the skills needed to convey the purpose and use of the source information in functionally equivalent translated texts for a specific audience.

This unit applies to those working as translators of special purpose texts where there may be significant equivalence problems between source and target text and the subject of the text has its own specific terminology. There may also be a need to undertake extensive research and translate complex language and concepts.

It requires sound conceptual understanding of the material being translated and its context in order to produce translations that are accurate and appropriate for the context, target audience and end use. The language transfer process requires high level language skills and the ability to apply specialist resources and subject specific glossaries, including specialist bilingual glossaries.

The skills and knowledge described in this unit must be applied within the legislative, regulatory and policy environment in which they are carried out. Organisational policies and procedures must be consulted and industry codes and standards for ethical translating and interpreting adhered to.

Those undertaking this unit would work independently using a broad range of support resources as required, while performing sophisticated tasks in a range of specialised contexts. No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to unit at the time of publication.

Elements and Performance Criteria

ELEMENTS	PERFORMANCE CRITERIA
Elements describe the essential outcomes	Performance criteria describe the performance needed to demonstrate achievement of the element. Where bold italicised text is used, further information is detailed in the range of conditions section.
1. Analyse English special purpose source texts	1.1 Receive and manage source texts according to client requirements and conditions and confirm they are complete and legible. 1.2 Identify complex areas of content and language requiring additional research and gather reference material. 1.3 Analyse source texts and apply knowledge of subject and context and experiences in related texts to determine key elements and potential translation problems. 1.4 Choose approach to translation suitable to purpose and target audience.
2. Translate English source texts to draft texts in LOTE	2.1 Research and apply established translation precedents and information from resources to ensure consistent outcomes. 2.2 Analyse and adapt cultural and linguistic content of source texts as appropriate for document end use. 2.3 Produce draft translations of source texts that are accurate and coherent and appropriate for end use. 2.4 Record translation decisions and justification in glossary.
3. Check draft translations	3.1 Identify and correct errors, fidelity issues and unsupported translation decisions. 3.2 Refine and improve target texts. 3.3 Evaluate subject-specific terminology and concepts, consistency, accuracy and functional equivalence of translated text. 3.4 Submit draft translation and glossary to checking translator or subject advisor for review.
4. Revise translations	4.1 Assess and incorporate advice from checking translator and subject advisor. 4.2 Discuss and resolve outstanding issues with appropriate persons as necessary.

	4.3 Undertake further revision until target text is functionally equivalent to source text.
5. Finalise and evaluate translations	5.1 Use technology to format translated texts according to agreed specifications and end use requirements. 5.2 Proofread formatted texts using standard methods to annotate proof corrections. 5.3 Submit final version of translated text and supporting documentation to clients.
